CAR FRANCHISE AGREED ON

PARLEY FAILS TO REACH FULL PACT; TO END

France, Italy Balk 5 Power Deal.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—The American delegation created a sensation in the London naval conference today by moving to halt further efforts to conclude a five power naval limitation treaty and take what has been agreed upon to date and go home.

Almost simultaneously Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons that the conference would be adjourned next week. The French delegation backed this announcement with the statement that parley affairs will wind up with a plenary session next Monday or Tuesday.

While the negotiations to bring France and Italy into a five power pact were proceeding, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson and Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow appeared at the French headquarters and proposed to Foreign Minister Briand that the conference be wound up at once with a treaty containing such agreements as are already arrived at.

Three Parts to Treaty.

An outline of the proposed treaty follows:

PART ONE:

A five power agreement between Great Britain, America, Japan, France, and Italy on the following terms.

1. Postponement for five years of replacement of capital ships scheduled by the Washington treaty in 1922.

2. Extension of the aircraft carrier category to include carriers not exceeding 10,000 tons, the armament of which shall be limited to six inch guns.

3. Definition of coast guard and other small ships exempt from limitation.

4. Classification of warships and method for permanent limitation by global and category tonnage.

PART TWO:

A five power agreement prohibiting the destruction of merchant ships by submarines, unless the passengers and crew of the captured craft are placed in safety.

PART THREE:

A three power agreement between America, Great Gritain, and Japan on the following terms:

1. Battleship fleets to be reduced by nine ships, four being scrapped by Great Britain, two by the United States, and one each being demilitarized as a naval training ship by Great Britain, United States, and Japan.

Lists Cruiser Limitations.

2. Cruisers to be limited to 327,000 tons, including 18 eight inch gun ships for America; 339,000 tons, including 15 eight inch gun ships for Great Britain; 200,000 tons, including 12 eight inch gun ships for Japan.

3. Destroyers to be limited to 150,000 tons each for Great Britain and America, and 105,000 tons for Japan.

4. Submarines to be limited to 52,700 tons each for Great Britain, America, and Japan.

5. A contingent clause to provide for the abrogation of the three power agreement in case any signatories should deem its security threatened by the navy building program of any power not a party to the limitation.

All Provisions Agreed On.

All these five power and three power provisions have been agreed to. Each power would be bound by that part of the treaty to which it had agreed. Great Britain, America, and Japan would be bound by all the provisions, France and Italy by those in parts one and two only.

Mr. Stimson acquainted Prime Minister MacDonald at a meeting this afternoon with the move the American delegation was about to make and the prime minister approved.

M. Briand received the Stimson proposal favorably. Later, Dino Grandi, Italian foreign minister, acquiesced on behalf of Italy. Inasmuch as France and Italy would not be parties to the agreement limiting all classes of warships, the treaty proposed by Mr. Stimson would not contain a consultative pact, to which he undertook to commit America in the event Great Britain would give France an acceptable security guarantee and France would reduce its tonnage demands.

Information from the American delegation indicated that suddenly conceived fear of the consequences of Mr. Stimson's agreement to accept a consultative pact had a good deal to do with the American move to put an end to the five power negotiations. The business of the American delegation

8 Firemen Hurt as Blasts Rock Blazing Store

Eight firemen were injured early this morning when fire swept through a Kresge 5 and 10 cent store at 1557 Howard street, causing a series of explosions as celluloid goods, paints, polishes, and other combustible materials stored in the basement were ignited. The explosions sent flames shooting twenty feet out into the street.

The fire apparently started in the basement of the two story brick building and smoldered for a considerable time. The blaze was discovered when the first explosion occurred.

Eight Firemen Injured.

When the fire department arrived a second explosion blew out all of the windows and knocked 30 firemen off their feet. William J. Terry and Henry Reitz of engine company No. 25 were burned and overcome by smoke and taken to the Rogers Park hospital.

Lem Shay of squad No. 4 and Gene Abbott and Emil Kirtz, both of engine company No. 83, were taken to the Swedish Covenant hospital suffering from burns. James Dailey, truck company No. 30, was in the Edgewater hospital suffering from burns on the face and James Sheridan of the same company was taken to the Alexian Brothers' hospital. John Johnson of engine company No. 79 was overcome by smoke.

Sound 4-11 Alarm.

The entire interior of the building was wrecked. A 4-11 alarm was sounded as the blaze continued to baffle the efforts of firemen to extinguish it. The loss was estimated at $75,000.

The leaping flames and a heavy cloud of smoke which hung over the entire north end of Rogers Park drew thousands of spectators to the scene. Fifty couples who were dancing in the Limehouse café on the second floor of 1561 Howard street were driven to the street as the smoke poured into the dining room.

Dog Racing Plant Burns.

The grandstand and dog sheds of the Fairview Kennel club, a dog racing plant at Mannheim road and Lawrence avenue, a mile north of Schiller Park, were destroyed last night by a fire of unknown origin. The blaze was discovered shortly after 9:20 p. m. and the entire grandstand, a wooden structure about 300 feet long, was in flames when fire equipment from Schiller Park and Franklin Park arrived.

Sparks from the blaze started several small fires on the roofs of neighboring houses.

The Fairview Kennel club was opened about a year ago by the Bugs Moran gang, with William J. O'Brien as a figurehead president. It operated only a short time before it was closed by a federal injunction and raids by state's attorney's investigators last summer.

August Sikowski, owner of the property, said that he had not renewed the Moran lease for this year. He estimated the damage at $150,000. The blaze attracted thousands of motorists who jammed the roads for miles.

More than 100 occupants of a 34 apartment building at 7908-22 Ingleside avenue were driven from their homes early this morning by a fire which started in a boiler room in the rear of the basement. The flames ate through inclosed wooden porches at the rear, wrecked three apartments and damaged six others, with a loss estimated by a division fire marshal at $10,000. A 4-11 alarm was sounded before the flames were extinguished.

HAVEMEYER ART IN 2 DAYS' SALE BRINGS $254,572

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Standing room was at a premium tonight at the auction of paintings from the estate of Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer at the American Art association-Anderson Galleries, Inc. Receipts for the sale to date are $254,572.50.

Tonight's heaviest buyer was Chester Dale, a noted collector of modern art. He paid the highest price, $26,000, for a "Portrait of a Young Girl in White," by Jacques Louis David, as well as the second highest price, $24,000, for Paul Cezanne's "L'Enlevement."

Mr. Dale also gave $8,500 for Mary Cassatt's "La Femme au Tournesol" and $3,500 for the "Expulsion of Adam and Eve from the Garden," by Delacroix.

John Ringling, owner of a large art collection in Sarasota, Fla., paid $21,000 for Goya's "La Maitress de Goya" (The Lady with a Guitar).

Heiress Weds Newsboy She Met at Door

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, April 10.—A pretty young American heiress and a newsboy have just figured in the most remarkable romance England has known for years.

Miss Vivienne Maud Huntington, daughter and heiress of the late Charles Pratt Huntington, New York architect, was secretly married March 13, it was announced tonight, to Alfred Cecil Durban, who, until the wedding, was selling newspapers outside the Folkestone, Kent, central railway station.

Met on Her Doorstep.

Durban also delivered papers and it was on the doorstep of Enbrook manor, a palatial old mansion on the outskirts of this famous seaside resort, where the bride and her mother came to live about eighteen months ago, that the initial courtship took place.

According to the bride tonight, there were "secret walks" and "much fun dodging people who would recognize us." Finally, while Mrs. Huntington was enjoying a continental vacation, Durban's brother was hurried from the family news stand to act as witness at a registry office wedding. All was later put right by a maternal blessing and a wedding at All Soul's church, Cheriton, last Wednesday.

Groom, 21; Bride, 27.

Durban is a youth of 21. His bride is 27. She is a cousin of Archer Huntington, one of the richest men in the United States, who was bequeathed $30,000,000 by his mother, widow of Collis P. Huntington, California railroad builder. Her father was created a knight of the Order of Isobel by King Alfonso in recognition of his architectural work in connection with the Hispanic Society of America.

The young couple intend making their home in Toronto and are sailing tomorrow.

"No other man could have made me happier. He is most adorable—a perfect darling," the bride told reporters tonight.

HALT TRADING ON JAPANESE STOCK MARKET

TOKIO, April 11.—(AP)—Japan's economic difficulties reached a critical stage today with the suspension of trading on the Tokio stock exchange.

Hoover to Move Office Back to White House

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—President Hoover expects to be back in the executive offices of the White House on Monday morning. The renovated office building, damaged by fire Christmas eve to the extent of more than $100,000, was virtually ready today to receive the President and his secretaries.

SENATORS CALL FOR SECRETS OF CHURCH LOBBIES

Wickersham Hit as Foreigners' Tool.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Representative George Holden Tinkham [Rep., Mass.] won a point today in his drive against church lobbies when the senate investigating committee definitely announced its intention to call for all of the books, records and correspondence of the Anti-Saloon league, the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition, and public morals, and the Federal Council of Churches.

For the first time in their histories the three organizations are to be compelled, according to Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.], the committe chairman, to disclose fully the sources of their income, the uses to which the money has been put and the methods by which, it is charged, they have sought to dominate congress and federal departments.

Facts, Not Speeches, Wanted.

A telegram was received by Caraway from Bishop Francis J. McConnell, president of the Federal Council of Churches, requesting a hearing in which to answer Tinkham's charges and present "a statement of the council's policies and procedures with reference to public questions."

"It isn't lectures on prohibition or any other subject that we want," asserted Caraway, pointing out that a subpoena already has been issued for the files of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

"In such an investigation as this committee is charged with making, it is elementary that the books, papers, and correspondence should be produced, and the committee means to have them all in every case," he continued. "It is to be hoped that the desired information will be made available voluntarily, but the committee will not hesitate to force its production by subpoena if necessary."

Chief Defenders Not Present.

Building up by documentary evidence the same sort of a case he made against the Methodist board yesterday, Tinkham today attacked the Federal Council of Churches for its interference in both foreign and domestic political affairs.

Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], who undertook to heckle the Massachusetts congressman yesterday, did not appear at today's hearing and Senator Arthur Robinson [Rep., Ind.], regarded as one of the Anti-Saloon league's senate spokesmen, left the committee room at Tinkham's first mention of the league.

Tinkham sought to prove his contention that the council of churches is a tool of international bankers and foreign interests by showing that until recently George W. Wickersham, chairman of the Hoover law enforcement commission, was chairman of its committee on international justice and good will, and producing a letter from Wickersham disclosing that at the same time he and his firm represented a number of international bankers.

Blaine Asks About Qualifications.

"He was in an absolutely indefensible position," Senator Caraway asserted.

"I quite agree with you," declared Tinkham. "His letter shows a clear diversity of interests."

"But how did he qualify as an officer of the council?" asked Senator J. J. Blaine [Rep., Wis.].

"Because he represented large foreign interests, I have no doubt," answered Tinkham.

"Then it was not because he was following the lowly Nazarene, but merely representing his foreign clients," observed Blaine.

Tinkham quoted, to show that the council has "arrogated to itself the right to settle any and all questions," a letter in which Dr. C. S. MacFarland, until recently general secretary of the organization, asserted "it does not consider any question involving principles of right and justice as being secular." MacFarland resigned his council post a few weeks ago.

"Racketeering" Discovered.

"We have discovered, Mr. Congressman," said Blaine, "in this committee something commonly known as 'racketeering'—by which well meaning persons are led to contribute huge sums of money to people who appear to be able to influence action by congress. I want to inquire if this Dr. MacFarland is the same man who was

Hottest April Day Starts Beach Parade

A steady breeze from the southwestern plains brought Chicago the hottest April weather in its history yesterday. As the mercury soared to 90 degrees in midafternoon thousands who had been inured to February zero waves and March blizzards swarmed the beaches for a breath of coolness. A schoolboy swimmer was seized with cramps and drowned.

The weather forecaster, W. P. Day, predicted cloudy and somewhat cooler weather for today and continued cool but clear weather tomorrow. With showers possible for the morning hours, Mr. Day estimated the temperature would attain a 70 degree maximum in the forenoon and be checked by midday, when he expects the wind to shift to the northeast, affording Lake Michigan an opportunity to cool the city.

Mercury Mounts to 90.

The thermometer, which began ascent at 4 a. m. yesterday, made a spurt between 11 and 3 o'clock which brought the mercury to rest at a mark two points above the previous April record of 88.2 degrees on April 29, 1899. The mercury showed 90.2 degrees at 3 p. m. and 90 at 4 o'clock, declining slowly thereafter to an official midnight reading of 74 degrees.

As if wilting collars and moist handkerchiefs were not sufficiently convincing, Mr. Day produced a statistical table proving that the day was not only the warmest in the city's history for April but also warmer than all but a few record breaking days of May and June. The maximum reading was, in fact, within 12 degrees of the all time Chicago heat record of 102 degrees, established on Aug. 21, 1901.

Boy Drowns in Lake.

The day's only weather victim was 12 year old Bruno Gizona, 317 East 119th street, who sank in 15 feet of water in Lake Calumet at 119th street and Stephenson avenue. Kensington police recovered his body late last night after five hours of dragging.

While urban dwellers were either pleased or at worst slightly pestered by the weather, farmers in the wheat belt were reported as concerned over danger of crop damage by drought. The Associated Press said Kansas and Nebraska farmers were praying for rain after one of the driest spring seasons in years.

98 Degrees in Kansas.

Dust storms begrimed the interior of dwellings in Wichita, Kas. Distinction as the United States hot points was shared by Hayes and Phillipsburg, Kas., with a reading of 98 degrees.

Most cities in the central states reported heat records broken. St. Louis reported 92 degrees; Milwaukee, 90; Kansas City, 92; Omaha, 92; Peoria, 92, and Des Moines and Dubuque, Ia., 92.

NAB HIGH SCHOOL BOY AS HE TRIES TO ATTACK GIRL

Fritz Kuhn, 17 years old, 406 North Taylor avenue, Oak Park, an Oak Park High school student, was captured by two passing motorists last night as he was attempting to attack Miss Cora Miller, 21 years old, 915 Columbian avenue, Oak Park. Kuhn's captors subdued him after a fist fight and turned him over to the Oak Park police, who questioned him about the murder of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, who was strangled in her home at 5830 West Lake street a week ago.

Miss Miller was on her way home when Kuhn seized her on Division street, near Euclid avenue in Oak Park, and dragged her into an alley. The girl screamed, and Dr. L. J. Cahill, 125 North Waller avenue, and V. S. Johnston, 5420 Washington boulevard, who were driving past with their wives, leaped from a car and pursued Kuhn.

They found Kuhn and the girl in a garage in the rear of 846 North Euclid avenue. They said Kuhn was choking the girl and tearing her clothes from her when they arrived. Dr. Cahill and Johnston battled with him for several minutes before he submitted to capture.

Kuhn said he was not certain whether he had ever heard of the Helsing case.

This Little Pig Had Plenty Spare Parts, but It Died

Robinson, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—Perhaps this little pig died from overeating. At least it had two mouths, two noses and one neck when born on the A. D. Pifer farm near Palestine yesterday. It lived for several hours. Besides the freak head it had two front legs, four rear legs and two curly tails.

NEW ORDINANCE GETS APPROVAL OF ALL PARTIES

Passage Is Expected Soon by Council.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Announcement was made yesterday by Attorney Walter L. Fisher and Ald. James B. Bowler [25th] that an agreement has been reached "on every point" in the proposed local transportation franchise.

"Who reached this accord?" they were asked.

"The bankers, the aldermen, and the representatives of the present companies," replied Mr. Fisher, as the conferees strolled out of his private office where the meeting was held.

For the bankers there were present Frank O. Wetmore of the First National bank, Eugene M. Stevens of the Continental Illinois banks, and C. F. Clarke of Halsey, Stuart & Co. The representatives of the companies were Britton I. Budd of the elevated roads, Leonard A. Busby of the south side surface lines, and Guy Richardson of the west and north side lines. The aldermen present at the end of the negotiations were Bowler, Joseph B. McDonough [13th], Oscar F. Nelson [46th], and John Toman [23d].

To Meet Again Monday.

The lawyers for the companies and the city today and tomorrow will phrase in ordinance form the missing sections on the intent of which an agreement was reached yesterday. On Monday morning the conferees will reassemble.

"We do not anticipate there will be any change in the text of any importance on Monday," said Mr. Fisher.

"I think we have thrashed it out to such an extent that there cannot be any misunderstanding about the wording of the missing sections," added Ald. Bowler.

"Why was not Albert W. Harris present?" the conferees were asked. Mr. Harris is the chairman of the protective committee of the holders of first mortgage bonds of the west and north side surface lines, and has not so far said that he will accept the financial plan for a consolidation of the surface and elevated lines.

"There is no significance in his absence," replied Mr. Fisher. "He wanted to go out to his farm this warm afternoon."

In Conference with Bankers.

"He spent all morning conferring with the other bankers," went on Ald. Bowler. "There is no unfavorable meaning in the fact that he was not here this afternoon.".

It was reported, however, that while Mr. Harris has indicated a more favorable attitude toward the financial organization than he held in January, February, and March, he has not yet said that he will wholeheartedly recommend it to his bondholders; but it is expected that he will eventually step into the bankers' procession. It has been conceded that with Mr. Harris fighting the consolidation the whole transit program would be placed in an undesirable position. One of the four aldermen present commented:

"Do you suppose that announcement would be made of an accord on the ordinance unless the conferees felt confident that Mr. Harris would approve of what has been done? I believe we have a real agreement and that the local transportation committee, and later the council, will approve of it without substantial change, and we will be able to put the ordinance up to the people for indorsement or rejection before the summer has passed."

Provisions of Ordinance.

The exact text of the proposed ordinance was not made public. Its principal provisions, however, are available.

The franchise will be an indeterminate permit, which will continue operative until the city buys the lines or designates a licensee who will purchase them.

The franchise will be given to a new company obligated to consolidate the surface lines and elevated roads and operate them as one system in connection with limited subways through the central business district and feeder buses in the outlying areas.

The city is to build and own the subway and receive rental for its use. Its equipment will be supplied by the new company. The city is expected to invest upward of $100,000,000 in the subway eventually, and the new company promises to spend $200,000,000 in the next ten years for extension of the surface and "L" lines, the addition of new tracks, and the buying of cars and other equipment.

The enforcement of the ordinance on service, fares, extensions, improvements, capitalization, and profits will be placed in the hands of a local utility commission. Provision for its creation was made by the last legislature. If the law embodying this provision is found invalid or unconstitutional, the regulation and supervision will revert to the Illinois commerce commission.

The return to the investors is to be determined by the regulatory commission. The fares for the present will remain unchanged, with adjustment for transfers between the elevated and surface lines. But until more track space is constructed for the elevated lines, transfers, while they will be permitted at designated spots, will not be encouraged as much as later, when facilities for handling the patrons can be obtained.

Capitalization Is Settled.

The initial capitalization has been agreed on: $95,500,000 for the "L" properties and approximately $164,500,000 for the combined surface lines. The compensation to be paid the city will be 3 per cent of the gross receipts, instead of 55 per cent of the net receipts now handed over to the city. The payment of this compensation will be junior to bond and sinking fund requirements and dividends on preferred stock.

The present renewal and depreciation fund, which is 8 per cent of the gross income of the surface lines, will be reduced to 7 per cent. But that, too, will be changed from time to time by the regulatory commission, if deemed advisable.

The city under the franchise pledges its compensation for the completion of subways started with the present city transit fund, totaling about $61,250,000. This fund received $1,735,379 yesterday by a decision of the United States Court of Appeals. Certain security holders had objected to the payment of compensation by the west and north side surface lines, now in the hands of receivers. The court refused to prevent the payment, and a check was immediately sent to the city controller's office.

PROSECUTOR WINS RIGHT TO PERUSE COMPANY'S BOOKS

The state's attorney's office was given access yesterday to books and records of the U. S. A. company, electrical contractors who have done considerable work for the sanitary district. For several months First Assistant State's Attorney John E. Northup has been trying to get a subpœna duces tecum for the records, which he wants for his new investigation of the sanitary district.

The subpœna, issued yesterday by Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Criminal court over the objection of Attorneys Thomas D. Nash and George Bowden, representing the company, provides that the books shall be produced before the April grand jury. No specific time is designated.

Several employés of the state's attorney's office were speculating after the issuance of the subpœna as to whether the records could now be produced. It was recalled that the government returned some records after taking them for an income tax investigation and that when they were called for some time later they were not available. The government, however, had made photostatic copies of the records.

Feron to Be Arraigned Today as an Embezzler

James M. Feron, former police magistrate of Oak Park, will be arraigned in the court of Justice of the Peace Martin McGrath at 2 p. m. today on a charge of embezzling approximately $15,000 of the village funds.

SPECIAL SESSION ACTION PREDICTED FOR NEXT WEEK

Governor to Map Plans in Parley Here.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

A decision probably will be reached next Thursday or Friday on whether a special session of the legislature will be held to settle some of Chicago's financial difficulties. Gov. Emmerson will be in Chicago at that time.

If the program of the citizens' committee is ready—and part of it has been definitely promised before that date—the governor will look it over and, perhaps, determine just how far he will approve and what modification he will suggest. The governor has said several times that he will not gather the lawmakers together until a legislative scheme has been worked out and has substantial support.

For Early Decision.

"If there is to be a special session," said Gov. Emmerson in Springfield yesterday, "I think it should come very early. It is impossible to keep the legislators at the capitol in hot weather."

Three months ago the governor requested the state revenue commission, headed by Senator Arthur Huebsch, to have its report ready, and it is reported that the commission will be ready within a week to summarize its recommendations. Its views, together with those of the citizens' committee and of the state tax commission, it is reported, will largely determine the character of the call, if one is issued, for the extra session. Gov. Emmerson is said to deem it advisable to have a special session consider the tax and revenue systems as well as the local financial troubles. Chicago school teachers are interested in a more equitable distribution of funds as well as more income for the local schools. The state tax commission has definite views on assessments and reassessments, and suggests that greater authority be lodged in the state to compel fairness in taxes.

Seek Other Actions.

Two other recommendations will be before the governor when he decides, through his call, what subjects shall be considered at the special session. One comes from a group of private property owners, who would eliminate taxes for one year by a bond issue. The other comes from political sources who desire a session broad enough to permit an increase in tax rates.

The Chicago school officials at the last session of the general assembly obtained a tax rate increase for the educational fund from 96 cents to $1.47 in 1929 and to $1.35 in 1930. Unless there is action by the legislature the educational tax rate will automatically go back to 96 cents next year. This rate with the reduced valuations for taxing purposes in Chicago will materially cut the income of the schools.

It is also rumored that the city administration desires a tax rate increase. In 1919, when assessments were on a one-third basis, the city corporate rate was increased. It was then $1.20. City officials at first asked for $2.85, but later requested only $2.35. The legislature made it $2.15, but at the same time increased the basis of assessment from one-third to one-half of the full value. Therefore the corporate tax rate was made $1.43 1-3.

In 1921 the city asked that its corporate rate be raised from $1.43 1-3 to $2.25, but later agreed to accept $1.85.

Seek Higher Tax Rate.

In 1927 the city made another crusade to get $2.25. That year the assessed valuation was increased from one-half of the full value to the full value itself. This time the city succeeded, but because of the increased assessment the rate was made $1.125. That is the same as a rate of $2.25 on a half valuation. But the new rate was to continue for two years only. Instead of permitting the rate to drop back last year to 92.5 cents the legislature made it $1.075. This is the rate it is rumored the city hall desires to raise at the special session.

One set of acts desired by the bankers from the special session would validate the 1928, 1929, and 1930 tax levies of the city, county, and school board. Millions of dollars have been invested in tax warrants based upon these levies, concerning which a number of questions have been raised.

The citizens' committee has announced that it desires legislation which will prevent a recurrence of the present financial difficulties. This would be accomplished by budgetary control and the placing of limitations on tax levies and temporary borrowing of funds.

There still remains another major feature of the citizens' program. With the delay in tax collections the city and school board will not be able to get enough money this year to meet the obligations created by their respective budgets. It is expected that they will all be out of cash again in the fall, as they were for the first two months of the year, unless the legislature takes action.

Terror to Vienna Gangsters, a Sleuth, Chicago-Bound

BY WILLIAM SHIRER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, April 10.—Full of bright ideas on how Chicago authorities can clean up on gangland chiefs, and make the city a center of virtue and respect for law, Ferdinand Watzek, star detective of the Vienna police department, and one of the cleverest sleuths in all Europe, left here today to seek a post on the faculty of Northwestern university's new school for criminal research. He will sail on the Europa from Bremen Saturday, and will arrive in Evanston ten days later.

Mr. Watzek, in his time, has tracked down some of Europe's most notorious criminals. Before the war he concentrated his energies on enemy spies, mostly Russian and Balkan operatives, and his brilliant work in counter espionage activity made him one of the crack men in the Austrian secret police.

Lured by Chicago's Gangland.

But lately, he said today, his interest in Chicago's gangland, has aroused him. He thinks he knows how to quiet the noisy racketeers.

The basis of his plan is essentially European, and is used in every capital on the continent. It consists of registering all foreigners and all criminal suspects, making them report to the police station at regular and frequent intervals.

"And when they don't report they go to jail," snapped Watzek. "Of course, you've got to have honest police to make the system work, otherwise the racketeers could fulfill the registration requirements and still continue their work while the police nod knowingly. In Europe we get the jump on the gangsters. They know that and they are afraid of us. We keep close tab on them, and if they try to keep out of sight or pull any rough stuff, into jail they go."

Crack Finger Print Expert.

Mr. Watzek's belief that society's best protection against the criminal is keeping him continually under scrutiny, once he is known, has led him to become one of Europe's foremost finger print experts. He says, however, that he believes the Bertillion system will be replaced by a new method of making masks, which record every wrinkle and scar on the criminal's face.

Mr. Waztek, who is only 45 years old, turned down recent offers to reorganize the police systems at Ankara and Shanghai in order to go to Evanston.

CALLED TO EVANSTON.

Ferdinand Watzek, the Viennese sleuth, is coming to Chicago tentatively, Col. Calvin Goddard, head of Northwestern university school of crime detection, said last night.

"We asked him to come here for a conference," the colonel said. "We have every reason to believe our negotiations will be satisfactory to both Watzek and ourselves and if they are he will, of course, stay.

"Watzek has been on the force in Vienna for 20 years. He has always been principally connected with science in crime detection. Since the war he has been connected with the 'moulage' department of the Viennese police, a department devoted to reconstructing physical evidence of crime.

"It is a bureau which perfectly reconstructs wounds, for instance, making casts of them which are very lifelike for production in court. Watzek recently also has been invited to go to Brazil, but comes to Chicago by preference."

NEGRO SLAYER OF POLICEMAN DIES IN CHAIR

Execute Aaron Woodward After Six Reprieves.

Aaron Woodward, Negro slayer of Policeman Jeremiah O'Connell, paid the penalty for murder and died in the electric chair at the county jail early this morning while extra guards stood watch against a possible jail break.

Woodward, the third of his race to die in the chair in Cook county, and the fifth murderer electrocuted here since the scaffold was abolished, walked to his death calmly. Six times since his conviction in July, 1929, he had prepared to die, only to win last minute reprieves.

The Supreme court, Gov. Emmerson, the pardon board, and finally an insanity hearing were all invoked on Woodward's behalf.

Steak Is His Last Request.

His last request was for a steak dinner. He consumed it with relish, remarking: "A man can take it easier with a full stomach."

Patrolman O'Connell surprised Woodward in the act of robbing a colored minister on the south side on July 29, 1929. The policeman called upon him to drop his weapon and surrender. The Negro whirled, firing a fatal shot. He was captured in flight by another policeman.

Warden David Moneypenny detailed extra guards to the jail night watch upon the discovery yesterday morning of a plot for a prisoners' break while the keepers were attending to details of the execution.

Fashion Key of Bucket Handle.

From the handle of a steel bucket some of the prisoners had fashioned a crude key with which, they confessed, they planned to unlock cell block B-2. Seven of the conspirators were placed in solitary confinement.

Previous electrocutions in the county jail chair, designed by the late Warden Michael Fogarty, were those of Anthony Grecco and Charles Walz, executed on Feb. 20, 1929, and Napoleon Glover and Morgan Swan, Negroes, executed last June 20. The white youths had slain a policeman and the Negro pair had killed one of their own race in a holdup.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Fred Cioni, larceny, sentenced to 1 year at Pontiac reformatory; Anthony Bell, larceny, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

Earl Murdock, Lester Murdock, George O'Neil, Philip Carroll, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years each in Pontiac reformatory; Harold Rusmussen, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry Fisher.

Indianapolis City Pay Denied to Candidates

Indianapolis, Ind., April 10.—[Special.]—Contrary to political practice here for years, Mayor Reginald Sullivan has decreed that any city employé seeking office in the elections this year must resign from the city pay roll. "You can't spend your time working for your own candidacy and draw money as though working for the city," he decided today.

YANK TELLS OF 32 DAYS IN GRIP OF MEXICAN BANDITS

TEPIC, Nayarit, Mexico, April 10.—(AP)—On the morrow of his release from 32 days of captivity at the hands of bandits who held him for ransom, J. E. Bristow, American mining man, in a complete report to Mexican military authorities today accused the guide accompanying him at the time of his capture of having delivered him over to the bandits. Mr. Bristow was released after payment of $1,500 ransom.

Mr. Bristow affirmed that T. C. Fields, who had been hired as interpreter and guide, had laid a kidnaping plot in concert with the Delgado bandits. He said the actions of Fields after the prospecting party had entered the bandit country on March 7, were suspicious, and he believed Fields had tried to collect the ransom for himself.

Mr. Bristow's report was made to Col. Figueron, chief of staff to Gen. Pablo Rodriguez, military commander of the district, through an interpreter.

Feels Fit After Hardships.

Shaved and dressed in his own clean clothes, Mr. Bristow today looked little the worse for his experience. He declared that he felt fine, and that what he most wanted now was to clear up the connection of Fields with his kidnaping.

Fields, of French and Mexican parentage, has lived in this country for 21 years.

Mr. Bristow and his son, Obie, expected to leave tonight or early tomorrow for Mazatlan, important coastal city. They will return to the United States before the first of next week.

The early arrest of Fields, as a result of Mr. Bristow's charges, was predicted in Tepic today.

Unwashed for 8 Days.

Mr. Bristow said he had been unable to shave throughout his captivity and for the last eight days could not wash his face because there was no water in the volcano retreat. The kidnapers brought in a little but allowed him only enough to drink. He said he slept on the ground every night and learned to rest Mexican fashion, covering his entire face and body with one blanket to balk the mosquitoes, which caused him more trouble than anything else.

Mr. Bristow said he found Cruz Delgado, leader of the bandits, to be almost a Robin Hood, and to this leader's actions the American prospector owes his life many times over.

Nearly Hanged by Drunks.

One of his closest escapes came one night when five bandits slipped through the lines of the federal troops in the neighboring town. They returned drunk and bent on the idea of hanging Mr. Bristow to the nearest tree forthwith.

Mr. Bristow was unable to plead his case in Spanish, so he argued for his life by the universal sign language and by tracing pictures in the volcanic sand. Delgado then took up his defense and finally talked the intoxicated bandits out of the hanging.

On the whole, said Mr. Bristow, he was treated well by his captors, however, and was well fed except when the federal troops got too close. On these occasions he as well as the bandits ate bread and water. Wild turkeys roosted invitingly over their heads but the bandits were afraid to shoot them because of noise from the guns.

Taught Bandits Poker, English.

To while away the time the captors taught Mr. Bristow Mexican card games and he in turn instructed them in poker. Some of them, he related, became really proficient at the latter game.

Taught Bandits English.

Before he had parted company with the eight bandits, they had begun a course of mutual language instruction. He taught them a few words of English and they taught him some Spanish.

The bandits placed Mr. Bristow in the hands of three "retired" robbers. When they sent him back the strange quartet traveled seven hours by horseback over wild mountain trails to Ahuacatlan, where he arrived at 3 o'clock in the morning.

Tells of Betrayal.

Mr. Bristow declared he had hired Fields as his interpreter while he made a trip to a prospective copper mine site in far eastern Nayarit. He said he had worked for two days on the mine, making a close inspection and satisfying himself that it was valuable.

On March 9 he told Fields he was ready to leave, but Fields insisted on remaining another day, alleging he wanted to get some lead samples for Mr. Bristow.

During the hours Mr. Bristow was working on the prospective mine Fields was often absent. Bristow finally consented to stay on for another day, and on the following night, just at dark, while his party was sitting around the camp fire, six bandits with drawn rifles surrounded the camp.

Mr. Bristow said that when he saw the bandits he dashed for a small hut where the party's rifles were kept, but found them missing. The bandits disregarded the others in the party and, coming straight at him, made signs that he should put up his hands.

They then conferred with Fields and ordered Mr. Bristow, Fields, and two natives to mount on mules, and the whole party started up the mountainside.

Recognized Bandit Leader.

At the top they found Delgado, the bandit leader, sitting on a rock. Mr. Bristow said he had seen him two days before sitting on a bench in the village of Santa Maria del Oro, where his prospecting party was formed.

On the mountain top the bandits again conferred with Fields, after which, Mr. Bristow said, Fields told him the bandits wanted a ransom of 30,000 pesos (about $14,100). Bristow replied that he could not pay such a sum and offered instead 40 pesos which he had in his pocket.

According to Mr. Bristow, Fields then took Feliciano Flores, second in command of the bandits, aside, and they engaged in a loud and long argument. Finally Fields returned and said the bandits had agreed to accept 800 pesos (about $376), for which sum Mr. Bristow should write a check and Fields would go to Tepic and get it cashed.

One of the bandits then went down the mountain and brought back a checkbook belonging to Fields, who told Mr. Bristow to write two checks in blank. He would fill in the names later.

Guide Insults Bristow.

Mr. Bristow said he protested, whereupon Fields had become vicious and insulting. Therefore, surrounded by the bandits and the rifles, he did not dare resist and complied with the demand.

When Fields explained that the bandits wanted blank checks so that their names would not appear on them, Mr. Bristow replied:

"All you want is to cash these checks for yourself and pocket the money. You will never return to get me out of this."

When he appeared in the city with the checks, the German Consular Agent Hildebrand, who put through the final negotiations that freed Mr. Bristow, refused to cash them.

Meanwhile, Mr. Bristow said, the bandits placed him on a mule and started for quarters on another mountain. They killed and ate a deer, and then moved further on into a deep canyon.

Two days later 75 Mexican soldiers came into the vicinity searching for Mr. Bristow, but by careful movements the bandits avoided them.

At last, when the pursuit got too close, the bandits headed for the volcano, where they held Mr. Bristow for a few days and then issued an ultimatum of ransom or death. The negotiations were then carried through.

The droning of an airplane piloted by a fellow American who dropped close to his kidnapers' volcano lair was a strong factor in Mr. Bristow's release.

Lieut. H. W. Lucas of Los Angeles, a former navy flyer, who now pilots a passenger plane between Tepic and Mexico City, tried to locate the kidnapers early this week and for 20 minutes circled above the Volcano Ceboruco, where the bandits were hiding, without catching sight of them.

Mr. Bristow revealed that Lieut. Lucas circled the actual bandit camp for some time and forced the kidnapers to hide their horses and mules in the brush and themselves scurry to cover, where they remained the entire time he circled overhead. They feared they had been discovered and were therefore inclined to hasten the ransom negotiations and to listen to argument for a much less ransom as they did not know at what time government troops, advised by the unknown flyer, would sweep down on their retreat.

Gets Joyous Reception.

When Mr. Bristow reached Tepic late last night from Ahuacatlan the town turned out en masse to greet him like a returning hero. There was great rejoicing, and he was enthusiastically greeted by the Mexican residents.

The homecoming party to Tepic was hardly more demonstrative, however, than the farewell party he described when he left the bandit dendezvous Tuesday night high up in an isolated crater of the volcano Ceboruco after the ransom had been paid. The bandits killed a wild turkey, roasted it, and gave him a farewell party which they made an event of much hilarity.

The aged prospector said that one night he suddenly found himself in great danger of death by either federal troops or the bandits. This happened when his captors were resting in a canyon in the bright moonlight when soldiers were discovered, apparently ready to attack. The bandits took cover behind boulders, forcing him to do the same, and they were not discovered, although part of the time the American feared he would be shot by the soldiers or by the bandits themselves.

Duchess Starts 18,500 Mile Hop

Aviatrix, 64, Ends First Leg of 18,500 M. Flight

ORAN, Algeria, April 10.—(AP)—The duchess of Bedford landed here at 5:50 p. m. today, completing successfully the first leg of her London to Cape Town flight. The duchess, accompanied by her pilot, Capt. Barnard, and a co-pilot, Robert Little, took off from England at 5:13 a. m.

HOPS FROM LYMPNE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—Confident of her ability to capture another air record, the 64 year old duchess of Bedford nonchalantly bade good-by to her titled friends at dawn this morning, stepped into her new luxurious monoplane, Spider, and hopped off from Lympne airdrome on an 18,500 mile round trip to Cape Town, South Africa. She expects to complete the flight in 19 days. The duchess, said to be the oldest aviatrix, only made her first solo flight last Tuesday.

The duchess arrived at the Lympne airport from Croyden yesterday, having previously flown to London from her home in Bedfordshire.

Will Also Handle Controls.

The veteran airwoman intends to handle the controls herself a good portion of the flight. The chief pilot is Capt. D. C. Barnard, who accompanied her on her India flight last year, while Bob Little is reserve pilot. The trio plan to cover approximately 1,000 miles daily, making nonstop flights during the day and resting at night.

From Oran, Algeria, the first stop, they will proceed across Africa as far as Egypt before heading south. Stops will be made at Assuit, Khartoum, Juba, Tabora, Indola, and Cape Town. The return flight will be made by way of Assuit, Aleppo, and Sofia to Croyden.

Takes Hat Boxes and Camera.

The duchess' baggage consisted of two hat boxes, several brief cases, and a camera. The plane carried 365 gallons of petrol. Last year she made a record flight to India, making the round trip in eight days.

COUNTY GETS A MILLION FOR DEBT PAYMENT

The county yesterday received $1,000,000 from the citizens' committee for payment of a portion of outstanding liabilities of approximately $3,000,000. The money will be distributed after the board, which meets today, sanctions plans for disbursement.

The county owes 2,391 bills which have accumulated between Dec. 1, 1928 and March 1, 1929. Payments will be made to the heaviest creditors and those who face possible financial difficulties because of county contracts.

Approximately $400,000 was paid in salaries to 3,862 county employés yesterday.

INDICTED AS CHICKEN THIEVES.

Morrison, Ill., April 10.—(AP)—Chester Knowles, Albert Lindbloom, Henry Obe, and Fred Truesdale, all of Rock Falls, have been indicted by the Whiteside grand jury on charges of burglary and larceny as the outgrowth of a series of poultry thefts.

Faces Court on Charge of Selling Death Liquor

Louis Ersline, 7724 Kimbark avenue, was arraigned in the Grand Crossing court yesterday charged with having sold the liquor which caused the death of Joseph Nowowicki, 54 years old, 8509 Grand avenue, on Monday. Ersline was arrested after friends of Nowowicki testified that the latter had been drinking heavily of liquor sold by Erskine. Charges of possessing and selling liquor and of maintaining a nuisance were continued until after the inquest of April 15. The police said Ersline would be held on a murder charge if an analysis of the contents of Nowowicki's stomach show that he died of poison liquor.

Jurors Weigh Purves' Fate in Killing of Union Agent

After deliberating for nearly three hours without reaching a verdict, the jury trying Melville Purves, former business agent for the Sign Painters and Bulletin Board Hangers' union, for killing Edward J. Tracey, his successor as business agent of the union, was locked up for the night at 11:30 o'clock last night. It was reported that the jurors were evenly divided regarding Purves' guilt.

The case came to an abrupt end in Judge Daniel P. Trude's court after Assistant State's Attorney John Hampton had made his closing argument, asking the death penalty for Purves. The defense waived its arguments when the jurors expressed a desire to finish the case last night because one of them was ill.

Pleads Self-Defense.

Purves took the witness stand in his own behalf yesterday afternoon and said that he shot Tracey in self-defense. "It was my life or his," Purves said. With the aid of his attorneys, Harold Levy and Emmet Byrne, Purves used the gun with which he shot Tracey to demonstrate how the killing occurred. He said Tracey had drawn a gun but that he beat the slain man to the shot. He said he did not know what became of the gun which he claimed Tracey drew from under his coat.

Assistant State's Attorney Hampton in his argument said that the story of the defendant was a complete fabrication to save himself from punishment for a cold blooded murder.

Bombing Story Supported.

The defense was unable to produce any witnesses who would testify that Tracey had a revolver. Purves, however, did corroborate by police and fire department records his charge that his home at 5335 South Mozart street had been bombed soon after he lost out as business agent of the union.

Purves charged that Tracey, his former boyhood chum, had attempted to run him out of town, and, in fact, had succeeded for a time. He said he went to a farm at Alden, Ill., because of Tracey's threats, but returned a short time before the killing. He asserted that he was dislodged from his union post because Tracey and his friends had stuffed the ballot boxes at election time. The state, in rebuttal, produced officials of the union to deny this charge.

EMPTY BANK AS ACCIDENT SETS OFF TEAR GUNS

Milford, Mass., April 10.—(AP)—A score or more officials and clerks of the Milford National bank and a woman were driven to the street today by the accidental discharge of tear gas guns kept at the bank as a protection against bandits.

A window washer is believed to have touched a control button near the desk of President Collier, who was out.

After half an hour the air had cleared sufficiently to enable the corps of workers to return to duty.

Cops Come When He Spits.

Rockford, Ill., April 10.—(AP)—An employé spit on the floor of the Third National bank today and then came squads of police with guns unlimbered, ready to fire. The expectoration raised the alarm by short circuiting an electric signal button on the floor.

SURVEY SHOWS ONLY 65 VICE RESORTS IN CITY

Commercialized vice in Chicago is now "quite inaccessible" and a recent survey conducted by the Committee of Fifteen, an organization for the enforcement of laws against prostitution, revealed only 65 resorts operating in the city, according to a report issued yesterday by Charles E. Miner, general director of the committee.

The survey was carried on for two weeks in every section of the city to determine whether laws are being enforced. The report said that all of the former "flagrant methods" have almost entirely disappeared.

The suppression of vice was attributed largely to the recent police activity against crime and to the efforts of State's Attorney Swanson. Publicity given to the campaign of the "Secret Six" against racketeers was also credited with curbing vice.

We Need 50 Men

All Specialty Salesmen

The world's largest oil heating organization has place for 50 more retail salesmen here in Chicago. Never in the history of oil heating has the situation been so perfect. This company has one of its 3 factories in Chicago and all installation and service work is done by the factory's own skilled crews. Powerful ads in the Tribune are now running, two this week. More will follow. The brand new direct mail campaign is under way, preceding every salesman's call. Under our new plan, larger commissions are offered than ever before. Right now a big sales contest is on, giving extra cash prizes and bonuses. We train you to sell. Our school, the largest and best equipped in the industry, starts Monday, following the Oil Burner Show now at the Stevens Hotel. Come to our special exhibit and see what advantages are available to you. You can have any territory in the city you prefer. Ask for Mr. Brown or Mr. Greer at the Petropolis Booth in the Stevens Hotel Friday afternoon or evening or all day Saturday.

ADMIRERS HAIL RUTH McCORMICK IN CAPITAL CITY

Senatorial Nominee Will Call on Hoover.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Ruth Hanna McCormick, the first woman to be nominated for United States senator by a major party, was greeted by an enthusiastic group of friends and admirers today as she returned from Chicago.

Mrs. McCormick, arriving early in the afternoon, went to her home and did not appear today on the floor of the house. She is certain to receive an ovation tomorrow when she enters the house chamber.

Among appointments for tomorrow is a call at the White House on President Hoover with whose position on the world court she took sharp issue in her campaign. The President arranged to see Mrs. McCormick late in the day at a time when he will be free from interruption and may take the occasion to discuss world court sentiment with her. Except for the world court issue Mrs. McCormick has supported the administration.

Women Colleagues There.

Two of the other women members of the house were in the crowd at the Union station which met Mrs. McCormick. They were Representative Ruth Bryan Owen [Dem., Fla.] and Representative Florence P. Kahn [Rep., Cal.].

"Not only your fellow women members of congress," said Mrs. Kahn in welcoming Mrs. McCormick, "but all the women of America feel your victory is a step forward for womanhood. I congratulate you."

Mrs. Owen, the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, forgot her partisanship to join in appreciation of a woman's achievement.

Representatives Owen and Kahn and other women waved flags. A large bouquet of roses was presented to the successful primary candidate.

A batery of photographers and moving picture operators kept Mrs. McCormick busy posing in the railroad station. Se was led to the microphone for a sound picture.

Going Back to Work.

"It is a very great pleasure to be back in Washington and to be met so cordially, particularly by my colleagues in congress," said Mrs. McCormick in the microphone. "Now I am going back to work immediately and stay there for the remainder of the session."

Mrs. McCormick was not ready to discuss her election campaign plans.

"I want to forget about the primary now," she said. "It's all over and I am back for work. I will be back in the house tomorrow."

Primaries Over, Parties Look to Fall Battle; Keynotes to Be Sounded at State Conventions

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Keynotes for the battle in November between Republicans and Democrats are to be sounded at the state conventions at Springfield, to be held, under the law, on April 18, which this year is Good Friday. The work of the conventions is to nominate university trustees and to adopt party platforms.

Volsteadism is to be the leading theme of the Democrats, who plan two curtain raisers. At the county convention next Monday they plan to adopt a dripping wet Cook county platform. Tomorrow James Hamilton Lewis, former United States senator and Democratic nominee for the senatorship against Ruth Hanna McCormick, is to address the Iroquois club at its Jefferson day luncheon, and plans are afoot to make him the keynoter at Springfield next Friday.

Democrats Plan Rally.

The Democrats are getting ready to make a great day of oratory of it, and the proceedings at the capital are expected to be patterned after those of the state rally which preceded the campaign of Gov. Al Smith for President.

Plans of the Republicans have not been announced as yet, but the talk was that Mrs. McCormick and Senator Glenn may be invited to sound the keynotes. Around local headquarters yesterday there was some talk of adjourning the convention until close to the opening of the fall campaign, with the idea of making it a more effective rally.

The talk was that no matter how much the delegates labor over platforms, it will be the candidates and the voters who will make the issues.

Mr. Lewis declared yesterday that he expects to open his campaign on July 4, "a fitting day for the campaign for American independence I expect to make." But it is expected to be August or September before the campaigning opens up in earnest on both sides.

Late Figures on Primaries.

More complete figures on Tuesday's primaries gave Mrs. McCormick a plurality of 202,000 over Senator Deneen with 445 precincts still to be heard from. In 6,672 precincts out of 7,117 in Illinois, Mrs. McCormick has a plurality of 162,000 downstate and 140,000 in Cook county. The figures are: McCormick, 651,052; Deneen, 449,254; Jenkins, 129,095.

Late figures on Mr. Lewis show he won over four opponents for the Democratic nomination by over 200,000 plurality. In 5,241 precincts Mr. Lewis had 218,298 out of 281,447 votes cast for the five candidates.

Deneen Indorses G. O. P. Ticket.

The Deneen group yesterday met and indorsed the Republican winners at the primaries from Mrs. McCormick down. Senator Deneen made a brief speech, expressing thanks to his supporters, and said he would be back when the campaign gets going to work for the nominees. The fifteen Deneen candidates who won places on the county, sanitary district, and judiciary tickets made short talks. Senator Deneen plans to return to Washington on Monday. The group expects to have permanent headquarters in the loop. Senator Deneen laid it down in his talk that the defeat on the senatorship will "not lessen my interest in public affairs."

The winning Deneen candidates dwelt on the fact that slates were smashed on all sides at the primaries. One subject of discussion was the fact that of thirty-five places for county, sanitary district, and Municipal court officers, outside of associate judges, the Snow-city hall group got 15, the Deneen group 13, the Brundage camp 2, the Elmore followers 1, and the Lonnquist-Adams group 3, which breaks the party ticket up into plenty of factional segments and puts none in control.

Police Returns Revised.

One or two corrections in police figures came in. In the 32d ward these showed Eugene D. Sullivan was elected Republican ward committeeman by some 115 votes, instead of Joseph Porcaro [Deneen]. Mr. Sullivan was also nominated for Municipal judge. Revised figures placed Judge Jonas at the top of the Republican winners for Municipal judge, with 211,243 votes. Another change put M. F. Kavanagh among the Democratic winners for county commissioner, a cipher having been dropped out of the early police totals.

Later figures on the 23 Republican candidates for congressman at large showed Richard Yates running high man and Frank L. Smith as second winner. Mr. Smith led in Cook county and Mr. Yates downstate. Figures from 5,380 precincts out of 7,117 in Illinois gave Yates 297,244; Smith, 196,279; Justus L. Johnson, 144,194; Frank H. Funk, 100,791. In these precincts all the other candidates were below the 100,000 mark. Fifth place was held by Julius Klein.

For state treasurer on the Republican ticket, Clarence F. Buck had a lead of nearly 400,000 over his nearest rival when 6,170 precincts out of the 7,117 in Illinois were tabulated. The vote was: Buck, 493,791; Warren E. Wright, 96,484; Byron C. Thorpe, 79,686; Leonard A. Minter, 45,177; Samuel N. Hunter, 67,697; Charles A. Gregory, 58,707; and I. J. Brown, 57,416.

On the Democratic side for state treasury, 5,083 precincts gave Edward J. Barrett 136,267, and M. C. Zacharias, 107,794. Zacharias carried Cook county by about 10,000, and Barrett led downstate.

Close races for the state senate in north side districts are expected to lead to the filing of contests and applications for a recount of the ballots. In the 29th Wallace F. Kirk declared he appeared to have won over State Senator John T. Joyce by a small margin. Five precincts lagged in the returns, and a recount is expected, the Kirk managers charging irregularities in the counting.

Auw Backer Talks Recount.

In the 31st, where the race was close between Senator Herman J. Haenisch and Herbert W. Auw, a declaration was made by Thomas O. Wallace that a recount would show Auw the victor.

A. J. Cermak, Democratic county chairman, put out a statement last night to the effect that where the Republican primary vote was "200,000 less than two years ago" the Democrats on the other hand "increased their primary vote by more than 50,000."

"Democrats," Mr. Cermak said, "thus gave their victorious candidates pluralities larger than those received by the winning Republicans. This result was obtained at a total expense of less than $10,000, which went for printing and postage, not a cent being paid for manning the polls. The Democratic primary leaves no hard feelings behind it, while the Republican primary leaves the factional discord as great as ever."

Old Age Pension Bill Is Signed in New York

Albany, N. Y., April 10.—Gov. Roosevelt today signed an old age pension bill which provides that relief be given to residents of the state over seventy years of age, the need for such relief to be determined by county welfare officials. The state and individual counties will share the expense. Approximately 51,000 persons are expected to be effected by the new law, which will require an estimated annual state appropriation of $12,500,000.

Notre Dame Professor Quits Congress Race

South Bend, Ind., April 10.—[Special.]—Clarence Manion, professor of law at Notre Dame and an outspoken foe of prohibition, tonight withdrew from the three cornered race for the Democratic congressional nomination in the Thirteenth Indiana district. Manion stepped out to help Samuel B. Pettengill, also a wet from South Bend, to win the nomination. Manion will become a candidate for the Democrationc nomination for judge of the Appellate court, Second district.

QUESTION TWO VOTE OFFICIALS OF 42D WARD

Ben Hatton, 29 years old, 1116 Larrabee street, and Russell Gusimano, 22 years old, 1152 Townsend street, election officials in the Forty-second ward, were taken into custody last night by state's attorney's investigators for questioning about alleged vote irregularities in their precincts on Tuesday. Hatton was a judge at the polling place at 603 West Division street and Gusimano a clerk in the Eighteenth precinct polls at 501 West Division street.

Friends of State Senator John T. Joyce of the Twenty-ninth district last night were concerned about the senator's disappearance after he had been absent from home for several hours and expressed the belief that he also might have been taken to the state's attorney's office. At the state's attorney's office, however, it was denied that Joyce was in custody and Joyce himself later called his home to assure Mrs. Joyce that he was safe.

Shopping

We believe that the mind of man from the age of two is essentially masculine. Proverbially, man dislikes shopping. He begrudges every second taken from business, be it marbles or golf. We sympathize with him, and so we have endeavored to offset this ancient prejudice in our spacious, comfortable store, where courteous salesmen are glad to meet the individual need.

We carry a complete line of boys' and men's wear, sponsored by the leading houses of London, Paris and New York. For little boys there are outfits that mother will like and father approve. On our second floor, the older boy will find just the styles that he will want for town or campus.

That is why men like our store and come back, from the age of two.

SAMUELL WINS NOMINATION FOR SUPREME COURT

Democrats Likely to Name Warren H. Orr Today.

BY PARKE BROWN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Monmouth, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—Justice Paul Samuell of the Illinois Supreme court was unanimously named to succeed himself by the Republican convention of the Fourth district here today. The landslide of delegates came to him on the third ballot.

The incumbent, who was appointed to the state high tribunal by Gov. Emmerson late last year following the death of Justice E. Dietz, led in the voting from the outset. There were two other candidates' names presented, those of Charles J. Searle of Rock Island and George H. Wilson of Quincy. A few delegates left each of them on the second roll call, and when Wilson's own county, Adams, broke at the top of the list on the third ballot, it gave Justice Samuell the required majority and the other counties, in alphabetical order, fell in line.

The Democratic district convention will be held tomorrow at Quincy and there will be a contest between Warren H. Orr of Carthage, nominee for the Thompson vacancy, against Justice Dietz two years ago, and Paul Califf of Aledo, who was secretary to Floyd E. Thompson while he was on the Supreme bench. Advance predictions are Orr will win.

Convention Is Harmonious.

There was no sign of any friction or other political difficulties in the Republican gathering here. The three candidates in advance conference agreed to the selection of State Representative Homer J. Tice as chairman and reached an understanding concerning other matters of organizations and rules and procedure which abbreviated the time required for preliminaries after the gavel fell, and the entire proceedings required only ninety minutes.

Nominating speeches were cut short by agreement. They came on the call of the fourteen counties and there were no seconding speeches. For Adams county, first on the list, John F. Garner presented the name of its former state's attorney, Wilson. Brown county yielded to Morgan county, so that it might present its choice, Judge Samuell, whose residence is Jacksonville. State's Attorney Hugh Green presented the incumbent's name as that of a man "physically fit, morally clean, mentally alert and equipped with a capacity for hard work, independence and courage."

Witter Nominates Searle.

James F. Witter nominated Searle and the balloting began.

With a total vote of 883.42 in the convention, nomination required 441.72 votes. On the first ballot Samuell received 365.99; Searle, 354.65, and Wilson, 162.79. Six of the fourteen counties, Morgan, his own, and Brown, Cass, Hancock, Mason, and Schuyler went to Samuell en bloc on this vote. Searle got all the votes of Henderson, Mercer and Rock Island. Wilson received the solid support of his own county, Adams, and the remaining counties, Fulton, McDonough, Menard, and Warren, split their votes among the three.

When the third roll call was started, Chairman Clarence O'Brock of Adams announced the county's vote of 108.71 as still a unit for its favorite son, Wilson. His announcement was challenged by Delegate Walter Miller, who demanded that the delegation be polled. The counting of noses was begun. An effort to call the other counties without waiting for Adams was blocked in a point of order from B. M. Chiperfield, congressional nominee in the Fifteenth district. By similar parliamentary objection, he also prevented a recess sought by an Adams delegate. Completion of the polling of that delegation brought an announcement that 64 delegates had swung to Justice Samuell. That was sufficient to give him a majority and his suporters cheered wildly.

From Brown county down all the other counties swung to the sitting justice, Adams anounced its entire vote for him and Chairman Tice proclaimed the nomination. In a few words Justice Samuell thanked the delegates and the convention adjourned.

Last of Conventions.

This meeting and the Decatur session tomorrow are the last of the Supreme court conventions. At the assembly Representative Sarah Band Hanley, of this city, sponsored and had passed a bill changing the basis of representation. The present basis is one delegate for every 50 votes cast by a party in its own primary. Under the Hanley bill it will be one delegate for every 500 votes cast for the party nominee for governor in the recent election for that office. This will cut future conventions down to one-tenth of the size of today's and tomorrow's.

NEW POSTOFFICE MAY BE BUILT OVER RAILROADS

Site Near Union Station Under Discussion.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—An alternative plan for handling Chicago mail which would necessitate abandonment of the site selected for the new $14,000,000 postoffice is under consideration by Postmaster General Harry F. Brown, it was learned today.

Should a change of site be decided upon the new Chicago postoffice would be erected near the parcel post building on Van Buren and Harrison streets, near the Chicago Union station. The alternate plan calls for purchase of air rights over the railroads entering the Union station and the erection of a building part of which would be directly over the tracks.

Conference Is Held.

The question of changing the location of the postal building was discussed at an all day conference participated in by treasury and postoffice officials and Ernest R. Graham of Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, Chicago architects of the federal structure. After this meeting officials said no final decision regarding plans for the Chicago postoffice had been agreed upon. All flatly refused to discuss the report that a change in site was being considered.

Later Postmaster General Brown authorized his secretary to state that "an alternate method of handling the mail at Chicago is now under consideration."

As a result of the present indecision of the question of where to locate the Chicago postoffice it is impossible to learn when Chicago can expect to have construction work started on the new building.

Many postoffice officials believe that considerable time and expense could be saved if the Chicago postoffice were located near the parcel post building and over the railroad tracks. The Marshall Field site is about 1,000 feet from the parcel post building, and the expense of moving the mail over this distance could be saved, it is argued, by having the two postal buildings close together.

Plans Still Indefinite.

It is still possible that the present site will be maintained. Until a decision on the method of handling the mail is reached it will be impossible for the architects to go ahead and complete their plans.

Officials said that even if a new site is selected little delay in preparing the plans should result. The building plans now prepared will be available, in most part, for either location, it was said.

CONTINUAL CREATION OCCURRING IN SPACE, MILLIKAN CONTENDS

New York, April 10.—(AP)—In a lecture on advances in knowledge of the universe, Prof. Robert A. Millikan of the California Institute of Technology, took issue tonight with the theory of Sir James Jeans and others that the universe is disintegrating.

Dr. Millikan, basing his opinion upon ten outstanding scientific discoveries, took the view that a parallel process of uninterrupted creation is probably at work in interstellar space, producing heavy elements out of lighter ones.

He spoke before the science forum in the Engineering Society building.

CURTIS NAMES FIVE TO PROBE PRIMARY COSTS

World Court Is Assailed by Senator Dill.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Activities incident to senatorial campaigns forged to the front today in the senate and gave promise of lively controversies in the months to come.

Following action by the senate, Vice President Curtis appointed a special committee of five, headed by Senator Hiram W. Johnson [Rep., Cal.], to investigate campaign funds in primary and election contests in any states where charges of excessive or improper expenditures may be made.

While the investigation is not aimed particularly at Illinois, the committee will inquire into expenditures in the McCormick-Deneen contest if any individuals or groups seriously urge such action.

Illinois Primary Cited.

Warnings of what senators favoring the world court may expect in their election fights, based on sentiment as shown in the Illinois primary, were sounded in the senate by Senator C. C. Dill [Dem., Wash.]. After mentioning various senators besides Senator Charles S. Deneen who have gone down to defeat because of advocacy of the world court, Senator Dill said he hoped that the Illinois primary "will be a reminder to public men again that the American people want those in charge of the government friendly with all nations, but allied with no nations."

Members of the senate campaign fund investigating committee besides Senator Johnson are: Senators P. L. Goldsborough [Rep., Md.], R. C. Patterson [Rep., Mo.], Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.], and Robert F. Wagner [Dem., N. Y.].

In naming the committee Vice President Curtis was required under the terms of the resolution authorizing the investigation to select only senators from states where there are no senatorial elections this year.

Resolution Is Adopted.

The resolution as sponsored by Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] was adopted by the senate without opposition after a favorable report had been submitted by the contingent expense committee as well as by the elections committee. The contingent expense committee acted in the absence of Senator Deneen, its chairman, who sent word that he did not wish to take any part in the matter in view of the fact that he figured in the Illinois primary, which may receive some attention from the investigating committee.

It is the understanding that Senator Deneen has no intention of asking the committee to investigate campaign expenditures of his successful opponent, Mrs. McCormick. Both Senator Deneen and Mrs. McCormick, however, have expressed entire willingness to submit their financial records to the committee.

The committee, which will hold its first meeting within a day or two, undoubtedly will devote some attention to the Pennsylvania primary on May 20 inasmuch as Senator Joseph R. Grundy [Rep., Pa.] already has asked that it inquire into activities of backers of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, his opponent for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Deneen "Sacrificed" Self.

Senator Dill told the senate that Senator Deneen had given himself "as a living sacrifice to the cause of those internationalists who want this country to become entangled in the affairs of Europe by entrance into the world court."

"I take it there can be no argument that the world court issue was the deciding issue," said Senator Dill. "The senator from Illinois is a man who belongs to the cleaner faction of the political organization in the city of Chicago; he is an able senator; he is an honest man; he is a good senator, so far as Republican senators go, and was entitled to reëlection on his record, but he went down to defeat carrying the flag of the administration on this world court issue with the new Root formula.

Root Formula Opposed.

"I hope the President of the United States will take notice of this overwhelming repudiation of the world court with the Root formula. He never has presented to the senate the world court with the Root formula. I hope he never will present it. If he will but consider what the American people have always done when this issue has been presented to them as the controlling issue of a campaign he certainly will not present it.

"I am glad to know that some members of this body already have seen the real situation as it is," continued Senator Dill. "My good friend, the senator from New York, Mr. Copeland, who voted for this world court, now says he will never support it with this reservation. The senator from Florida, Mr. Trammell, announces his doubt as to the wisdom of our entrance into this court. I think there are other senators on this floor who as they consider the subject will hearken to the voice of the American people and keep this nation from becoming entangled in the affairs of Europe as we have remained free for 140 years of our national history."

Senator Dill suggested that events at London at the naval conference furnish reasons why this country should keep free from foreign entanglements.

Points to French Demands.

"The reports from London tell us that France wants a larger navy, but that if the United States will agree to enter into a consultative pact, that will be one of the inducements that will make it unnecessary for her to build a larger navy," said Senator Dill. "France thinks that it is worth so much to her if the United States will agree even to talk about it when trouble breaks out in Europe that she is willing to abandon hundreds of thousands of tons of naval armament which she otherwise demands.

"As the American people, and particularly the people of Illinois, have read these reports of France's desire to get us where we would even talk about these things being worth ships and guns to her as a matter of national defense, I can but think that that helps them to decide again that it was the business of the United States to stay out of European affairs; that as we had voted to stay out of the league of nations, so we should stay out of the court, which is the back door to the league."

HOOVER IS GREETED OVER TELEPHONE BY ARGENTINE PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—President Yrigoyen of Argentina and President Hoover conversed over long distance radio telephone today through the instruments on their respective desks.

The executives exchanged greetings over a connection which bridged more than 6,000 miles.

The voice of the Argentine president was heard as clearly as though he were in the city. He expressed pleasure at being able to speak again with Mr. Hoover, who visited him on his South American trip.

A sore throat prevented the Argentina executive from speaking with President Hoover when the South American service was inaugurated a week ago.

Wind Up Solvent Bank When Cashier Resigns

Laketon, Ind., April 10.—[Special.]—After getting a better job at another bank, the cashier of the Laketon State bank quit today. Rather than try to break in another cashier, the board of directors voted to abandon the bank and liquidate assets. Bank examiners reported the bank in good condition.

FIND BOMB IN CEMETERY NEAR VILLA VENICE

A supposed attempt to bomb the Villa Venice, well known roadhouse on Milwaukee avenue north of Niles, was being investigated by the county highway police last night after a bomb, composed of ten sticks of dynamite, was found lying beside the road in the Northfield Oakwood cemetery. Although the bomb was only 150 feet away from the Sportsmen's club, a roadhouse owned by Gus Koenig, the police believed it was intended for the Villa Venice, because that place was bombed last October. The Villa Venice is about a quarter of a mile from the spot where the bomb was found.

Bond Clothes go to COLLEGE

"Readin', writin' and 'rithmatic" are not the only things to be learned at our leading universities. For example, there is no place like a college campus for a post graduate course in the art of being well dressed. It's our smart "undergrads" that make the styles we all like to be seen wearing.

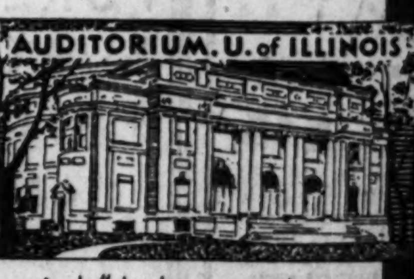
Michigan agrees with Princeton — on grays

And so, we've gone to college! Armed with note book and pencil, we've been very regular attendants at four of our largest schools. The fruits of our learning are reflected in the most complete selection of correctly styled fashions we are presenting this Spring. Not the extreme, freakish college clothes that only belong in comic strips. But the conservative, comfortable adoptions of the English-style suits and topcoats that look well on every type of man.

"Give us Malay Tans," is what they told us here

The Bond-tailored two-button suit-coat with broad shoulders, slightly fitted waist, and notched lapels, stands first with most well-groomed young men—and men who want to stay young. It comes in rich worsteds, loomed by Bolton, Dunrobin and Cameron — in plain colors and subdued pattern-designs. Our more loosely draped sack-coat, in roughish tweeds, is for men who demand comfort above all else. And for the "old grad" who may have acquired a slight bulge at the waist line, we have a rare group of hard worsteds, with fine stripes that will make him look more slender.

Speaking of "slender," leads us to remind you that Bond's great 26-store volume — and direct-selling policy — keeps the price of these Fine Clothes mighty slender, too!



And, "the browns and tans have it," at Illinois

SEE BEER WAR IN SLAYING AT ROADHOUSE BAR

Owner Is Held as O'Brien Dies of Wounds.

Andrew [Sonny] Grom, owner of the Arlington inn at Higgins and York roads in Elk Grove, and two of his employés were being held last night while the county highway police investigated the theory that Robert O'Brien, 29 years old, a roadhouse owner, was slain and his brother, William, wounded by a beer gang which lay in wait for them at Grom's roadhouse.

Grom admitted shooting the two brothers, but insisted that he shot in self-defense. Lieut. Lester Laird of the Morton Grove police station, however, said that the number of shots fired indicated that several others had opened fire on the O'Briens as they stood at the bar in the Arlington inn, talking with Grom. He said the seizure of a brewery in the rear of the roadhouse bore out the theory that the shooting grew out of an attempt to force the O'Brien's to buy Grom's beer.

Go to Roadhouse.

Robert O'Brien, owner of the Radio club in Niles; his brother, William, owner of a café at 7342 Irving Park boulevard, and his wife, Martha; Henry Orth, 2541 Balmoral avenue, and a Mr. and Mrs. Ursin had gone to Grom's place early yesterday. The O'Briens were standing in a barroom talking with Grom, while the rest of the party were seated at a table in the dining room with Mrs. Grom.

According to Grom's story, the O'Briens suddenly attacked him, throwing a ketchup bottle and a beer stein at him. He exhibited a blackened eye and a broken thumb to support his story. He said he then fired as Robert O'Brien started around the end of the bar toward him.

Others Flee Roadhouse.

When the police arrived every one had fled from the place but Robert O'Brien and Earl Green, the manager. The manager said he had been in another room and had not heard the quarrel which preceded the brawl. Green and Mike King, a porter, were taken into custody and later the Chicago police arrested Lillian Henderson, a colored entertainer, at her home at 4500 Indiana avenue, but they denied any knowledge of the affair. The woman was released later.

Robert O'Brien was lying at the end of the bar, fatally wounded, shot four times in the abdomen. He was taken to the Belmont hospital and died there yesterday afternoon.

Brother Reports to Police.

William O'Brien was shot in the left leg and in the breast, and he and his party fled immediately after the shooting. He surrendered to the highway police last night after they had searched in vain for him throughout the day. He said he had gone to a doctor's office in Chicago for treatment.

O'Brien said his brother, Robert, was quarreling with Grom over a debt of $100 which Grom owed him. He said he didn't know who started the fight.

Grom had disappeared when the police arrived, but he returned to the roadhouse yesterday afternoon and surrendered to the police. A short time later Mrs. Grom appeared. She was released to appear at the inquest at the county morgue at 11 a. m. today.

FREE 44 NABBED IN RAIDS.

Forty-four men, arrested by police from the state's attorney's office as keepers or patrons of three alleged gambling resorts, were discharged for lack of evidence yesterday by Judge Schulman in State street court.

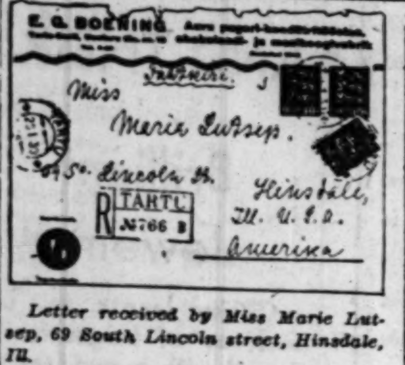
FROM TARTU, ESTHONIA



Letter received by Miss Marie Lutsep, 69 South Lincoln street, Hinsdale, Ill.

This letter comes from Tartu (Dorpat), the second largest city in the republic of Esthonia. Tartu holds rank with the capital, Tallinn (Reval), as an intellectual center of Esthonian nationality. Founded in 1030 by the Russian Grand Duke Yaroslow, son of Vladimir the Holy, who conquered the Esthes, Tartu is planning to celebrate its 900th anniversary this year. During its history the town has been ruled by the Russians, Esthes, Balts (Teutonic knights), Swedes, and Poles, and since 1917 by the original native populations, who secured the independence of Esthonia as a result of the Russian revolution.

Tartu's celebrated university was founded in 1632 by Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden. It has a library of more than 200,000 volumes, a famous observatory, and a botanical garden. For nearly 200 years it was one of the principal seats of learning in Russia and the chief school for its Protestant clergy.

The population of Esthonia is about 1,120,000, 87 per cent of which is Esthonian. Tartu has 60,000 inhabitants.

School Asks for Beer to Keep Pupils from Saloons

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—Permission to sell beer in the schoolhouse was requested from the magistrates of Ealing, a suburb of this city, today by the principal of a German school, who said that all the pupils came from German beer drinking families and in order to keep them out of the saloons he desires to serve the popular beverage within the schoolhouse. He was told to form a students' club, after which he will be in a position to apply for a club license to sell drinks.

TRUCK DRIVER HELD AFTER HIS CAR KILLS MAN

Matthew Whalen, 56 years old, 1301 West Van Buren street, was fatally injured late yesterday when he was struck by a motor truck at Van Buren and Aberdeen streets. He died at the county hospital of a fractured skull. K. Coughlin, 1250 South Fairfield avenue, the driver of the truck, was held.

Whalen's death raised the 1930 Cook county motor toll to 235.

Driving his motorcycle into the side of an automobile driven by Allen Nye, as the latter turned into the driveway of his home on Grand avenue, a half mile west of Waukegan, Jack Anderson, 28 years old, Dubuque, Ia., incurred a fatal skull fracture yesterday. Nye took him to the Lake county hospital, where he died within half an hour.

EXECUTED MAN'S BROTHER CAUGHT IN POLICE CHASE

Edward Walz, 17 year old brother of Charles Walz, who was electrocuted last year for murder, is in trouble with police again. Yesterday young Walz was arrested with three other 17 year old lads after traffic policemen had pursued them over south side streets until their dilapidated car smashed into the curbing at 49th street and Dorchester avenue.

Walz and his companions, Gust Alex, 2604 Wentworth avenue; Gust's cousin, Nick Alex, 5815 South La Salle street, and Marco Rogulich, 609 West 63d street, were turned over to Juvenile court authorities and must face Municipal Judge Francis B. Allegretti in Boys' court this morning. Recently Walz was placed on probation for ninety days by Judge Allegretti after police had found a stolen car in his possession.

Charles Walz and Anthony Grecco, 19 years old, were executed for the murder of Policeman Arthur Esau in the first electrocution in Cook county. Another brother, William Walz, was shot to death by Policeman Daniel Mullane in a gun battle in 1925.

DANDRUFF
A Sure Way to End It

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounce of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy never fails.

EMPLOYE SAYS ACTRESS UPSET AMSTER OFFICE

Claims She Used Child in Threats.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—A series of tempestuous scenes in Nathan L. Amster's Boston and New York offices, in which a "screeching woman" threatened to teach her young son to call a distracted financier "Daddy Amster" unless she received large sums of money, was the description given in testimony today by Charles Jeffers, for 23 years in Amster's employ. It was the fourth day of the extortion trial of Olga Edwards, erstwhile actress, in General Sessions.

Says She Disrupted Office.

Jeffers, the third witness today, was almost as indignant as Amster had been on the stand. He made no attempt to hide his distaste for the disorder he said "the Edwards woman" had caused in Amster's well regulated business offices.

Every time she came there, after January, 1927, when Jeffers first saw her, she yelled, swore, made threats, notified the public in general she was there, and crippled business activity, he testified.

On one occasion, the second time Jeffers saw her, she brought a child with her who went about among the stenographers speaking of "Daddy Amster," he declared.

On Oct. 15, 1929, Jeffers went to the Hotel Roosevelt at Amster's direction and gave Miss Edwards $1,000, telling her that this was blackmail, he testified.

Asks for More Money.

"Three days later she suddenly rushed into the office and said she was going to have $300,000," Jeffers continued. "She said she wanted it in currency, not in bonds. I said"—and his voice was scornful—"that is such a small amount; do you want it now or will you come back after lunch?"

By Nov. 11, the day before she was arrested, Jeffers had paid for Amster to Miss Edwards, $3,700, he averred.

CENSUS TAKER GETS HIS MAN AFTER 2 DAYS

James D. Crowley, a census enumerator, needed almost two days to obtain the record of one man, and all his troubles are ascribed to the primary election.

Alex Nisivaccio of 2722 South State street, the first person arrested on a charge of refusing to answer the questions of an enumerator, was released by Assistant United States Attorney Victor La Rue yesterday after he had told of working 48 hours without sleep on behalf of the city hall ticket.

"I had been out all night and was just going to bed when that man came around about noon Wednesday," said Nisivaccio. "I was sleepy and didn't realize who he was, or I would have answered him."

Crowley obtained a warrant and Nisivaccio was taken to the federal building by deputy marshals. He has been an employé of the city civil service department for many years.

If Walter Westhoff Jr., 4 years old, had not set sail from his native Germany on a high adventure to a foreign land all alone last week he might this day be acclaiming among his playmates his prestige as grandnephew of Chancellor Heinrich Bruening, new head of the cabinet of the German republic. But Walter chose to become an American, just like his parents, who live on Enoyewood farm near Antioch.

The small traveler, wearing a sailor suit and a light tweed topcoat and hat, arrived in Chicago yesterday on the Manhattan Limited of the Pennsylvania railroad. He had made the ocean voyage on the new liner, Bremen, unattended except for the stewardess and governess and the watchful surveillance of the Travelers' Aid society.

Out of the babble of the strange American language spoken by the group gathered to welcome him came two voices in Walter's native German tongue. And the young father and mother, who had not seen their son since they left him with his grandparents a year and a half ago, had the boy in their arms. There were tears and smiles, and after Walter had posed stoically for photographers the reunited family left the station for Antioch.

Mandel's, First Floor, State.

A Cape on a MAP Is Just More Land . . .
. . . A Cape on an Easter Frock Is a Lot More Fashion!

Smart Young Things—determined to find bigger and better ruffles for 1930—were the ones to discover capes. Little capes instead of sleeves were first sighted . . . then capes that were fitted, to be very slim, appeared . . . then not-very-long capes that had an exciting "broad-shouldered" look. And when the course led from frocks to suits and to coats—even to blouses . . . more capes and more capes and MORE capes were discovered! A good many of these Smart Young Things have been exploring at Mandel's where fashion capes aren't hard to find, aren't expensive to explore, are exciting to own! Perhaps it's because Mandel's is a store of youth . . a store of fashion . . a store of moderate price!

Some capes go all the way round . . but are fitted in so cleverly at the shoulders, as this one is in a worsted crepe sport coat, that it doesn't add one inch of width! The waistline is fitted in, too—and the scarf that does all sorts of things for the neckline. It's fully lined, too! Sizes 14-20. $35

Mandel's Olympia Sport Shop—Third Floor—Wabash.

Some capes go part way 'round and end unexpectedly in a straight back panel (that has a friendly slenderizing line if you don't need that "broad shouldered look"!) as it does in this suit of Telga cloth with cunning crepe blouse. It's a suit that Easter likes! Sizes 12-18. $49.50

Mandel's Ensembles—Fourth Floor—Wabash.

Some capes don't go 'round at all—but pretend to be sleeves! This frock in a darling flower-sprigged-print has a clever way of making its cape sleeves quite tailored so that they're smart for the street! Spring's fashion approves this attractive style—and you'll find it easy to wear. Sizes 14-18. $25

Mandel's Misses' Frocks—Fourth Floor—State.

The Historical Society of Chicago has contributed many of its precious relics to the exhibit showing Chicago's growth—displayed on Mandel's Seventh Floor.

There's a Clip for Every Person. A prystal initial banded with gleaming marcasite. $3.95.

A Quaint Printed 'Kerchief to tuck in the pocket of your suit! Splashy ones, too! Priced 50c

Mandel's—First Floor—State and Wabash.

The Cape on This Blouse Is Almost Like a Yoke, $5

It just caps the shoulders . . and instead of ending in front like a collar—as most capes think they must do—it runs straight down the front in a panel . . to set off the bow at the waistline. Tailored in silk crepe . . sizes from 14 to 40.

SENATORS CALL FOR SECRETS OF CHURCH LOBBIES

Wickersham Is Assailed as Foreigners' Tool.

forced to resign from the council when it was found he was appearing before a congressional committee in behalf of the motion picture interests, which the council seeks to regulate."

"It is the same man," answered Tinkham. "Undoubtedly he was serving two masters."

"But," interjected Caraway, "I think the council should be commended in disposing of MacFarland when they discovered he was attempting to serve two masters."

Chicagoans Among Contributors.

"I think," said Caraway, when Tinkham asserted that every attempt to secure a complete list of the council's contributors had proved futile, "that any one has a right to petition congress or to appeal to public conscience to influence legislative or executive action, but a full disclosure of income ought to accompany the appeal. The American public ought to know who it is that asks and who pays."

After the hearing Caraway disclosed that a partial list of contributors recently was furnished to the committee by the council. The list, which merely names persons who gave more than $500 during the last four years, without specifying the amount of each contribution, includes, among others, Mrs. Emmons Blaine and Julius Rosenwald of Chicago, Mrs. Andrew Carnegie, Dwight W. Morrow and Mrs. Morrow, the J. C. Penney Foundation, John D. Rockefeller Jr., Mortimer L. Schiff, Felix Warburg, and Alanson B. Houghton, former ambassador to Great Britain.

A Theocracy Threatened.

"My issue against the Methodist board and the federal council," said Tinkham, after reading the council's claim that it is a medium for interpreting the church point of view to the government, "is that they are violating the fundamental American principle of separation of church and state."

"They desire to have an ecclesiastical rule in government," suggested Blaine.

"Exactly," said Tinkham.

"The most fundamental idea of the men who founded this republic is contained in the provision of the constitution that 'congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof.'

"The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals and the federal council of churches have set aside entirely this principle. They have asserted their right to interest themselves as ecclesiastical organizations politically in all moral questions. There is hardly a question or an issue which cannot arbitrarily be held to be a moral question or a moral issue."

Turning to the Anti-Saloon league, Tinkham succeeded only in presenting his preliminary evidence before an adjournment was taken until next week.

Presidents Given Orders.

"Available evidence indicates," Tinkham said, "that the league spent no less than 11 million dollars in the years between 1920 and 1925 in 'putting over prohibition,' and no better picture of its activities has ever been presented than that drawn of the late Wayne B. Wheeler, then its general superintendent, in a book which, written by Justice Stewart, Wheeler's own secretary, has come to be regarded as the official account of Wheeler's and the league's operations.

"'Wayne B. Wheeler controlled six congresses,'" read Tinkham from the first paragraph of the book, "'dictated to two Presidents of the United States, directed legislation in most of the states of the Union, picked the candidates for the more important elective state and federal offices, held the balance of power in both Republican and Democratic parties, distributed more patronage than any other dozen men, supervised a federal bureau from the outside with official authority, and was recognized by friend and foe as the most masterful and powerful single individual in the United States.

Kansas Only Dry State in Digest Prohibition Ballot

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—A slight relative gain for the enforcement and continuance of the present prohibition laws is noted in the fifth weekly tabulation of ballots in the Literary Digest nation-wide poll on prohibition, made public today.

Though the drys gained in the general total, they lost their majority in Tennessee, leaving Kansas as the only one of 44 states giving a majority for enforcement.

Little Change in Standing.

The addition of four states and more than 500,000 new votes during the week resulted in a gain in the enforcement vote of slightly less than the Volstead ratio of one-half of 1 per cent. This gain was taken from the vote for repeal, with a "rather minute increase" in the vote for modification.

States listed for the first time were Colorado, Idaho, Montana, and Utah. Colorado and Utah were classed as "medium dry," with pluralities but not majorities for enforcement. Montana gave a large plurality for repeal, and in Idaho repeal led enforcement by twenty-three votes.

The forty-four states were evenly divided, 22 giving a preference or plurality for enforcement, and 22 a preference for repeal. The District of Columbia also showed a repeal plurality.

Repeal Still Leads.

A total of 2,516,072 votes were counted for this week's tabulation. More than 28 per cent of this number, or 712,549, favored continuance and enforcement of existing laws. Nearly 30 per cent, or 754,266, were cast for modification of the Volstead law to permit light wines and beer.

Repeal of the 18th amendment still led, with 1,049,257 ballots, or 41.7 per cent of the total.

The report of the poll, as tabulated, follows:

WOMAN LEAVES BABY AT ROOMING HOUSE, VANISHES

The same day that two women registered at the Stevens hotel with "Jimmie Stevens" Taylor, the "smiling" baby who since his abandonment Sunday has won his way into the hearts of hundreds of Chicagoans, a baby girl was left in a rooming house at 610 Wrightwood avenue, it was learned yesterday.

On Saturday a woman engaged a room of Miss Althea Denistry, the proprietor, put the baby on the bed and told the landlady she was going out to buy some clothing for "honey." She did not return. For five days Miss Denistry cared for the baby, hoping that mother-love would bring the woman back. Yesterday she found a note hidden in a pocket of the baby's dress:

"Please give my baby a break. I'll never be back. Marie."

The tiny girl was taken to St. Vincent's orphanage, where she will be a ward until her mother is found, or like the smiling Jimmie, some one adopts her at the end of six months. Sheffield avenue police are of the belief that the baby girl's mother may have committed suicide.

NEW YORK READY TO ASK CONGRESS FOR DRY REPEAL

Wet Sentiment at Peak in State Assembly.

Albany, N. Y., April 10.—[Special.]—Wet sentiment, as measured by votes, attained a new high level in the nominally dry assembly today when that body, 82 to 61, came out in support of action on a bill introduced by Assemblyman Cuvillier, wet leader in the lower house, to memorialize congress in favor of a constitutional convention to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

Twenty Republican assemblymen voted in support of a motion by Assemblyman Cuvillier to take the bill from the rules committee and bring it out on the floor for debate and final action. This is the largest number of Republicans that has ever joined hands with the Democrats behind an anti-prohibition measure.

Will Reach Senate Today.

Mr. Cuvillier said he would renew his fight tomorrow to bring the bill again before the house, and there is no doubt in the minds of wets or drys that he will get his bill through tomorrow and that it will reach the senate in time to be passed by that body prior to adjournment.

In connection with this, it was learned tonight that several senators who supported Senator Knight in their vote on the Sheridan-Post bill, designed to bring before the United States Supreme court the question of the state's right to establish a liquor dispensary system under the terms of the eighteenth amendment, went to him today after the vote in the assembly and told him that if the Cuvillier bill reached the upper house they were inclined to vote for it. This included some Republican members of the senate who so far had never voted with the wets.

The wets were jubilant when they found the Republican delegations from Erie, Monroe, and Westchester had voted almost solidly for the Cuvillier motion. Only one Republican from each of those counties gave his vote to the drys.

W. C. T. U. Head Present.

Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, head of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and Canon William Sheafe Chase of Brooklyn attended the assembly session and kept tab on the vote as the roll was called.

In the upper house Senator Cilano announced that if the legislative session lasted long enough he would introduce a referendum bill embodying a selective questionnaire, including queries on repeal or modification of the eighteenth amendment, and on enforcement of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law exclusively by the federal authorities, with state coöperation through the enactment of a new state enforcement law.

POOR FARMER GETS FREE TRIP HOME AS DRY LAW SENTENCE

Bismarck, N. D., April 10.—(AP)—Charles Corliss, farmer or Forman, received a three day sentence for bootlegging, after pleading guilty in federal court here today, but the sentence was imposed as a favor.

As a result Corliss, with only 90 cents in his pocket, will be returned to his home in Sargent county at the expense of the government. The trip will take nearly three days, and Corliss' sentence will expire when he reaches Forman.

Corliss was brought here to face a charge of bootlegging. U. L. Burdick, federal prosecutor, investigating the case, found Corliss had had six successive poor crops and last year received nothing from his crops because of hail. With no money and seven children, the oldest 13 years old, he sold liquor to provide for his family throughout the winter.

Prosecutor Burdick informed Federal Judge Miller of the circumstances when Corliss made his plea of guilty today, and told the court it would not be fair to free Corliss so far from his home. He then recommended a two day sentence in order to return the farmer to Forman.

Judge Miller investigated and found it would take three days for a marshal to return Corliss to his home, 200 miles away.

"Three days' sentence," said the court.

URGE TREASURY RETAIN ALCOHOL PERMIT POWER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Controversy over the Wickersham commission bill to transfer the prohibition unit from the treasury to the department of justice was renewed today as spokesmen for users of industrial alcohol attacked the measure at a hearing held by a subcommittee of the senate judiciary committee.

Philip Frieze, representing the National Paint, Oil, and Varnish association, submitted a series of amendments, prepared in collaboration with representatives of other associations, which he said represented a tentatively satisfactory form for the bill. His amendments would leave the granting of alcohol permits in the hands of the secretary of the treasury.

Among the other witnesses who agreed in substance with the Frieze proposals were representatives of the American Drug Manufacturers' association, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the National Retail Druggists' association, the National Beauty and Barber Supply association, the Flavoring Extract Manufacturers' association, and the National Association of Soda Water Manufacturers.

ENVOYS TO RING DOWN CURTAIN ON NAVY PARLEY

Stimson Calls Halt; Will Adjourn Next Week.

over the consultative pact bargain has been manifest ever since the news of Ruth Hanna McCormick's overwhelming defeat of Senator Charles S. Deneen on the anti-world court platform. The inference was quickly drawn that the tide of sentiment in America is running strongly against any entanglements in European affairs.

The question was raised immediately as to whether an agreement by America to consult with the powers on measures dealing with European war crises would be as unpopular at home as the world court commitment appears to be.

Mr. Stimson's undertaking was to hitch the consultative pact up with a five power treaty limiting all classes of ships. If only a three power limitation agreement was reached there would be no consultative pact. The returns from Illinois were hardly cold before one American envoy remarked that the delegation would be lucky if a five power treaty failed, as it would save the delegation from the necessity of going through with its consultative pact bargain. This, precisely, was the outcome of the move made by Mr. Stimson today to end the five power treaty negotiations.

Hand of Hoover Seen.

It was reported tonight that the step taken by Mr. Stimson had either been directed or specifically approved by President Hoover, who, in a message, is said to have indicated his doubts of the popularity with which a consultative pact would be entertained in America.

Other messages from Washington received by members of the delegation contained warnings that the senate would not ratify any treaty containing a consultative pact.

It was emphatically denied at the American headquarters tonight, however, that the primary election returns from Illinois, or any apprehensions regarding the consultative pact, had anything to do with Mr. Stimson's move to halt further efforts to procure a five power agreement. It was asserted that Mr. Stimson acted solely because he is convinced it is impossible for Great Britain, France and Italy to settle their differences short of months of further negotiation.

Iron Out Japan's Demands.

Final details of the settlement with the Japanese were approved this afternoon. It was agreed that Japan should be allowed to demilitarize three light cruisers for training purposes in consideration for scrapping five 30 year old cruisers now being used for training.

As a result of the failure of the five powers to reach an agreement on the limitation of aggregate tonnage in auxiliary classes the treaty will not contain a limitation of the unit size of submarines to 2,800 tons, to which they have informally agreed.

Pope to Coin Own Money, with Bust on One Side

ROME, April 10.—(AP)—Popolo di Roma's Vatican City correspondent today said that Pope Pius would start coining his own money during the second half of 1930, the series being of gold, silver, nickel, and bronze. One side of the coins will bear a half bust of Pope Pius, while the other side will carry the papal seal, with date of emission and the year of the pontificate.

MacDonald Admits Failure of Reaching 5-Power Pact

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—With the naval conference ending next week, all that faces the delegations is a final plenary session, which is to be held on Monday or Tuesday, probably the latter, as the British delegates will be busy introducing the budget in parliament on Monday. The proposed treaty and other instruments are in such shape that they will be ready for signatures on Wednesday or Thursday, letting the French and Italians get home for Easter.

The Americans will sail on the Leviathan April 22, and the Japanese will sail as soon as arrangements can be made.

MacDonald Admits Failure.

Failure to reach a five power agreement was admitted by Prime Minister MacDonald in a short statement to the house of commons tonight. His statement, which was received with loud cheers from all parties in the house, follows:

"I am happy to say that this forenoon an agreement was finally reached between United States, Japan, and Great Britain on a naval program including all categories of ships. The terms of this agreement are now being drafted. They will follow very closely the figures announced last September and October during the negotiations in the United States, and they show substantial reductions.

Franco-Italian Differences.

"From time to time since the beginning of this conference various points of disagreement, which have held up progress towards disarmament, have been settled, and these, it is hoped, have been brought together in one instrument, which will be signed by the five powers.

"The difference in the naval requirements of France and Italy proved to be intricate and at a meeting early this evening between the French, Italian, and British delegates it was decided that as such substantial agreements had been come to, it was both unnecessary and undesirable to keep the full body of delegates sitting in London pending the settlement of difficulties which primarily concerned the three delegations only.

"And so we shall propose at a plenary session to be held early next week, that the agreement now come to shall be signed, and the conference adjourned on the understanding that France, Italy, and ourselves shall continue efforts to come to an agreement in unison with that, which has been reached between United States, Japan, and ourselves."

BRIAND SEES GRANDI

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, tonight announced that Great Britain, Italy and France will continue conversations through diplomatic channels to conciliate view points and that further discussions will take place in Geneva when the league of nation council meets May 12.

Formal abandoment of attempt to reach a five power treaty came this afternoon following M. Briand's visit to the Claridge, where Dino Grandi, chief of the Italian delegation muffled up in bed with a big silk scarf around his throat, received him.

The conversation consisted of expressions of regret by Sig. Grandi and M. Briand that an accord between the two nations was impossible, as well as assurance to each other that the difficulties have not estranged the relations between the two countries. Obstacles encountered here will only stimulate Rome and Paris to seek an amicable agreement more determinedly, they said. The word "parity" was never mentioned.

M. Briand later explained that France is ready to pledge not to construct any capital ships during the interim until 1936, unless Germany, through building additional units of the Ersatz Preussen type, forces her to do so.

BIG CRUISER CUT IN TREATY FACES FIGHT IN SENATE

President Is Hopeful of Ratification, Though.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—The new limitations of naval tonnage disclosed today in London reflect President Hoover's desire for a battleship holiday and for a preponderance of the 8 inch gun type of cruisers, but they also mean a modification of the big cruiser program laid down by congress.

It was about this latter point that most of the pre-conference controversy centered, and it is upon this provision of the agreement that any opposition which may develop in the senate is expected to focus. Big navy advocates have insisted that construction of the twenty-three 10,000 ton 8 inch gun cruisers already authorized is essential to national defense.

Even before the London conference met, it was disclosed that any modification of that program would come under scrutiny when a treaty finally was submitted for senate ratification. President Hoover counts on the effect of concessions made by the other powers to overcome any such objection.

Senators tonight confined comment on the three power accord to emphasing that close scrutiny would be given its terms.

Britten Registers Objection.

Representative Fred A. Britten [Rep., Ill.], chairman of the house naval committee, registered strong objection. He said "the latest London agreement evidently commits the United States to spend 109 million dollars for six inch gun cruisers.

The Illinoisan called this type one which "the naval general board, our highest naval authority, repeatedly has said is not needed in the United States navy."

Senator William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the foreign relations committee, who will be a factor in the treaty discussions, said he would support any pact which would work "no wrong or injustice and will stop naval competition."

Has Hope of 5 Power Treaty.

Joseph P. Cotton, acting secretary of state, expressed assurance that a three power treaty would be forthcoming. He made clear that hope for a five power agreement still was felt.

After discussing the naval situation with President Hoover, Representative Burton L. French [Rep., Idaho], chairman of the house naval appropriation subcommittee, predicted that the projected London naval treaty would stop naval competition.

While some features of the London agreement remain undisclosed, figures contained in dispatches from London indicate that the United States would build only eighteen of the 10,000 tonners, abandoning the five which were to have been laid down last.

Of the smaller, 6 inch gun cruisers, the United States now has in operation only ten ships, totaling 70,500 tons. Under the agreement, the total American small cruiser tonnage would be 143,500, which would mean virtually doubling the existing strength.

Great Britain already has in operation or building all of fifteen larger type cruisers allotted her under the agreement. She also has four Hawkins type cruisers, carrying 7.5 inch guns, which presumably are to be scrapped. Of the smaller cruisers the British navy has thirty-nine, aggregating 177,685 tons. Her total present cruiser tonnage is 401,791. Under the agreement she would have 339,600 tons. Japan's total cruiser strength built and projected now is 206,815 tons. Under the agreement she would have 208,900 tons.

The exact stipulations of the battleship holiday agreement still are to be disclosed. Operations of the plan will be dependent upon scrapping rules yet to be worked out. The agreement is based on fifteen capital ships each for the United States and Great Britain and nine for Japan.

Same Eventual Limitations.

These are the same eventual limitations set out in the Washington treaty of 1922, but the actual fleet strength indicated would not be reached under that treaty until 1936. At present the United States has eighteen capital ships, Great Britain twenty, and Japan ten.

The Washington treaty also provides that between now and 1936 certain capital ships are to be scrapped as they outlive their usefulness, and new ones laid down to replace them.

Under the London agreement a compromise to obtain Japanese adherence is indicated in relation to submarines. Japan would be granted equality in tonnage in that class with the United States and Great Britain.

The new London figures on destroyers are: United States, 150,000 tons; Great Britain, 150,000, and Japan, 105,500. The total existing and authorized tonnage for each power under the American navy figures is: United States, 290,304; Great Britain, 198,400; Japan, 129,375.

DEMANDS BRITAIN GOVERN ITSELF; NOT LISTEN TO OTHERS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—The growing tendency to internationalize laws through European conferences was sharply attacked today by Sir Walter Raine, president of the British chamber of commerce, who advised members of the organization to support England in "minding its own business," besides refusing to take orders from other countries.

"It is not good for us to be governed from Geneva instead of from Whitehall," the president declared. "We are wasting too much time with conventions and committees at the former place and by agreeing to do things to our detriment."

Relieves His Own Mother of Neuritis

She's Out of Bed and on Her Feet Every Day Now

So certain does Nurito banish sciatica, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago and neuritis that the head of the syndicate which has purchased this German Specialist's prescription treats his own mother with it. Although 80 years old, she never feels a pain or ache since using it. Many who had despaired of ever getting relief have been overcome with joy after a few doses of Nurito.

Make this simple test: Go to your druggist and ask for Nurito. If the very first three doses do not stop your pain your money will be refunded without question. Don't wait—go to Walgreen's right now.

IN THE GREAT TRADITION.

Ruth McCormick's sweeping victory in a campaign in which she had made American abstention from the league court the chief issue shows the wide divergency between the American public and officials who are more sensitive to foreign approval than to American sentiment or interest. The instinct of the people of the United States when fundamental decisions of policy have been before them has been strong and true, and invariably in recent years they have overruled the judgment of what a French publicist has recently called our "elite." Our elite—our self-selected elite—have been urging persistently, at least since 1919, the reversal of the traditional policy of the United States as to permanent entanglements in the political system of Europe. They disapproved the refusal of the senate to adopt the Versailles treaty. They were shocked at the revolt against our entrance into the league of nations. They favored a pledge to help defend the French frontier. They demand the cancellation of our war loans on moral grounds. They want the Kellogg-Briand treaty "implemented"; that is, they are not satisfied with the treaty as accepted by the senate, but want to enter into some international scheme to put pressure upon a nation voted an aggressor by the signatories. They are not satisfied with international arbitration, but demand our adherence to the judicial branch of the league of nations. They have applauded every diminution of American military strength and every proposed sacrifice. In brief, they have worked upon our government year in and year out to compromise our political independence and to weaken the foundations of our security and of our influence for the protection of national interest.

Between this small but prominent class and the great body of the nation there is, happily for the nation, a fundamental opposition. It reveals itself whenever there is opportunity for the people to express themselves. The profound instinct for independence, the profound distrust of complications with the affairs of the old world which the American people have shown from the beginning of their existence as a nation have not been diluted or obscured by the plausible theorizing and emotional appeals of minorities which have appointed themselves to enlighten us. The people are still at one with their great statesmen. The organized claques of pedagogues and theorizing internationalists, of political preachers and Utopians, of socially ambitious and favor seeking editors, of international bankers and semi-expatriates have impressed officials and legislators out of touch with their constituencies, but not the nation. A President proposes, under the pressure of the claque; but the people disposes.

All of these measures we have named have been brought to the threshold of adoption, but all have failed, and in the general elections in which one party had committed itself, contrary to its own tradition, to a foreign policy of elaborate entanglement the popular vote has been overwhelming against it.

The coddling of the organized internationalist claque in recent years is a curious perversion of American representative government. It should not deceive international opinion, though international opinion may well be excused for misreading the appearance. In this there is promise of misunderstanding, of the raising of fallacious expectations in Europe, of charges of inconsistency, hypocrisy, even of deliberate deception. It is to be hoped this is a passing phase and that presently our representatives will be men or women who will be in wise accord with American policy in its great tradition, will be considerate of vital American interests and competent to protect and advance them—will be representatives, in short, not of a pretentious minority but of the profound convictions and the unchanging will of a great nation.

Ruth McCormick's victory has a bearing wider than the court issue. It is a significant comment upon the discussion at London of a consultative pact in which our delegation seems to have taken part. We think it can also be taken as a plain guide for any diplomatic or any official body, at home or abroad, charged with the formulation of American policy or the conduct of American relations. The American people propose to maintain their heritage of political independence. They will repudiate at the first opportunity any agreement in any form which compromises it. They will repudiate sooner or later any agreement in any form which sacrifices our power to defend it.

STUDY OF THE ABNORMAL MIND.

A Dr. Owen, South Bend surgeon and prohibitionist, in a lecture on "Psychiatry, a Study of the Abnormal Mind," accused THE TRIBUNE and other opponents of the fanatic dry régime of being subsidized to misrepresent conditions. Two newspaper editors present protested, one of them suggesting that THE TRIBUNE is able to get along without subsidies and that to subsidize all the so-called wet newspapers would take as much money as Henry Ford makes. Whereupon the impassioned medico cooled a bit and explained that he merely meant that we are actuated by a desire for circulation.

That was a rather feeble comeback. A surgeon should show more courage. A student of minds, normal and abnormal, should be more aware of his own mentality. The doctor was simply indulging the characteristic animus of the prohibitionist in traducing an opponent. He had no evidence for his slander. He hadn't even a plausible accusation. So when called he asks us to believe he only meant that THE TRIBUNE and other newspapers opposed to prohibition want circulation. We are doubtless to assume that newspapers favoring prohibition do not. They are actuated by noble motives, the opponents of prohibition by ignoble.

From this exhibition of his mental and moral processes we conclude that as an authority on the mind Dr. Owen may or may not be a good surgeon. We suggest for his reflection, nevertheless, that when THE TRIBUNE began its fight against professional bigotry, political clericalism, and the mischief they and his like were working upon the American people it was far from seeming to be a popular fight or one which a newspaper willing to sell its soul for circulation would care to take up. Now that the American spirit is reasserting itself, as all signs indicate, the doctor's ingenuous confession that to oppose his cult brings circulation is sound enough.

But as a dry champion we should think Brother McBride ought to take him out.

MUSCLE SHOALS IN THE SENATE.

The senate has passed the Norris resolution providing for government operation of the Muscle Shoals power and fertilizer plants. The vote was 45 to 23 and the measure now goes to the house, where its defeat is to be hoped for.

In the debate Senator Vandenberg showed that the taxpayers who have already spent $125,000,000 on plant and equipment are now called upon to pay another $52,000,000 for further improvements. Any one familiar with the history of federal improvements knows that the first guess as to costs is seldom correct and almost never does it err on the side of understatement. They are saying $52,000,000 now, but as soon as that is gone there will be supplemental estimates and, perhaps, supplements to supplements.

The senate has committed the folly of throwing good money after bad. The indictment holds whether the additional charge upon the taxpayers is $52,000,000 or many times that amount. The interest of the taxpayers will be served best if the federal government divests itself of the properties as soon as possible and retires from the power business, in which, as in any other business, it is an interloper. The federal government was not created to manufacture and sell commodities or services, a field which is reserved in American theory for private enterprise. The leadership of the United States in production testifies to the soundness of the theory; we may well leave experimentation in government ownership to Russia.

The notion that the government must continue to operate the properties in the interest of the consumers of power is unsound. An isolated generating unit like that at the Shoals is uneconomical in operation because of seasonal variations in the flow of water and hourly fluctuations in demand for power. The Muscle Shoals generators will be useful nationally only as they are tied up with other generating plants many hundreds of miles away. Government operation, instead of encouraging the linking of the government built unit with others, will serve to discourage it. Muscle Shoals will be provincialized. Instead of serving the nation it will serve its vicinity. The tendency is already clear in the provision in the resolution that the adjoining state governments are to receive a rakeoff on the gross receipts.

Muscle Shoals was improved in wartime for the purposes of the war. The government has no need for it now and ought to dispose of it for whatever it will bring.

FISH WITH AN EDUCATION.

Five million small fish made their spring debut the other day from the cans of the hatchery into Lake Michigan. With their training for the world complete, they were graduated with exercises led by Supervisor Stratton from the Lincoln park aquarium. Each year these numerous millions of young and hopeful whitefish are turned loose. They are designed to benefit the world of those who find fish interesting and valuable, and their efforts will no doubt lead to an early uplift.

Five million fish working for betterment well may bring reduction downward of many evils of this world. Hooks will be shorter and without barbs, no doubt, with a view eventually towards their complete abolition. Lines will be reduced by several threads. The gaff, which after all is a threat at the very existence of fish dependent on a waterborn commerce, will no doubt be outlawed as a barbaric anachronism. Other humanities and regulations will be introduced by the new fish. Their training and cultural background will give them high distinction among their finny neighbors.

Hopes for a hookless world and a submarine Utopia where big fish never swallow little fish are bright, no doubt, in the breasts of the enlightened five million. And until some insider or outsider gets hungry for a fish or so the plan will be successful

Editorial of the Day

DUBLIN TO HAVE A CITY MANAGER.
[Detroit News.]

Dublin, capital of the Irish Free State, is going to try a new variation of the city manager plan, if the bill goes through parliament unamended. Instead of being appointed by the council, the city manager will be named by a civil service commission. To remove him it will take a two-thirds vote of the council, plus the acquiescence of one of the members of the national cabinet. The latter provision is probably included because the government owns much property in Dublin and thus has a vital interest in the manner in which the city is run by the manager.

There is some criticism reported from citizens because the bill does not closely define the relations between the city manager and the council, about the only real check on the city manager being the council's control of the budget. But that check is the most important of all, and Dublin is likely to discover that the manager will not be likely to try to override the council while it holds the pursestrings and can keep him from realizing some of his cherished objects.

It has been the experience of American cities that have adopted the city manager plan that a city manager who keeps his head and who adopts wise policies will have the general public behind him, and since the jobs of the council members depend on the public, they are not likely to become too vigorous in opposition to his plans. If, on the other hand, the manager defies public opinion, a council is likely to be elected that will deprive him of his position.

A DIET FOR JAUNDICE.

W. C. W. writes: Will you write an article on diet for jaundice, especially jaundice in children? Some time ago there was an article on diet for pernicious anemia, but, as I understand it, jaundice is different.

Reply: As you say, jaundice is different from pernicious anemia, though it is often a symptom of advanced pernicious anemia.

In jaundice the tissues are stained by the pigments of the bile. These pigments are derived from those of the blood and all other deeply pigmented body structures. In the jaundice of pernicious anemia the pigment is derived directly from the blood and is not formed in the liver. The way to diet a person who has this kind of jaundice is to supply the substances which are deficient in pernicious anemia. Among the more efficient of these are liver, stomach wall or tripe, kidney, and heart.

Another form of jaundice is that due to cancer of the liver. In this variety of jaundice the skin, instead of being a light lemon as in pernicious anemia, is very deeply pigmented. This form of jaundice is due to the absorption of bile which has already been formed by the liver. It is what is known as jaundice due to obstruction. Diet is almost of no service in this variety of jaundice.

Another cause of jaundice is gallstones. This is usually a form of obstruction jaundice caused by absorption of bile already formed by the liver. Diet may be of service in prevention of gallstones. Since most people who have them are fat and soft, it is wise to eat a reducing diet for a while and a fairly limited simple diet after that. The amount of work done or exercise taken should be increased. The long-stretch diet should be free from eggs, brains and skin. It should be limited as to fats, greases, meats and sauces.

Another form of jaundice is that due to an acute infection of the bile ducts. This variety of jaundice may be due to an infection with one of the ordinary cocci, or with a spiral organism. Some people are infected with jaundice by rats. The diet for such a jaundice should consist largely of milk and bread and simple fruit and vegetable dishes and simple soups. It is about the same as the diet of a person with a mild fever of some sort. The intent of the dieting is not so much to cure the jaundice as it is to sustain strength in spite of lack of appetite and somewhat irritable digestive organs.

THE COLD AIR BATTLE.

G. D. B. writes: There are thirteen of us girls confined in one room on the fourteenth floor of a large office building. The room is 100 feet square and we have two large windows. Regardless of how cold the weather might be, I usually like to have the windows open at least six or seven inches. There seems to be general disapproval from the girls. Most of them insist on having the windows closed. What we want to know is, who is right? Should we have the windows open or closed?

REPLY.

Thirteen girls need ventilation wherever they may be. If there is no ventilation in this room except leakage you must have window ventilation. This should not be difficult in a room 100 feet square, occupied by only thirteen people. Some one must work out a method of warming up the very cold air before it reaches the nearest occupant.

IT WILL NOT HARM YOU.

Daily Reader writes: Will it do any harm to drink the juice of half a lemon in a glass of hot water at bedtime and in the morning before breakfast? What benefits will I derive from it?

REPLY.

It will do you no harm.

Taking lemon juice protects against scurvy, tends to keep the gums and teeth in good condition, to maintain the proper alkalinity, and to supply needed minerals.

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

Chicago, April 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—An unmarried man died in January, 1929, leaving a bank account, but no will. His only survivors are one sister and three brothers. The sister was made administrator. 1. How long will it take to claim this money so that it can be divided between the four? 2. An unknown party who is made beneficiary to an insurance policy cannot be found. How long will it take for said party to collect this insurance?
M. Z.

1. Ordinarily there is no distribution until a year has expired. 2. We assume that by "said party" you mean the administrator. Presumably he could not act short of ten years. In general rights under the insurance policy depend on the wording of the policy.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SUIT FILED TOO LATE.

Villa Park, Ill., April 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Suit is brought to collect doctor bill, but summons is not issued until after bill is outlawed. Can judge render judgment in this case? 2. Are bankruptcy proceedings brought in federal or state courts? 3. Is a married man allowed an exemption on household goods in bankruptcy cases? 4. If so, how much?
G. N. S.

1. No. "In some jurisdictions, and generally, unless otherwise provided by statute, an action is commenced by an original writ, or summons; and in such jurisdictions the action is ordinarily deemed to be commenced when such process is sued out or issued [citing Ill. cases], and it is not necessary, in order to commence the action, that it should be served, although in some cases it has been held that the process is not issued so as to commence the action until it has been delivered or transmitted to the officer for service. It is essential that the process shall be issued with the bona fide intention that it shall seasonably and in due course be served, and if it is issued provisionally, as where it is not to be served until further instructions, or until a certain time or event, the action will not be considered as commenced until the date or contingency specified." [1. J. C. 1154, 1155] 2. The former. 3. Yes. 4. $400 worth.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE VIEWPOINT.

We were on our way to our college to begin studying how to run an automobile. Our college is a good old bus of the vintage of 1926, but she's a good school, is our alma mater, and we're getting up a college yell and a class song and everything. We were probably thinking of what would be a good class song for our motor driving college, because when we walked across Rush street we were totally oblivious of the fact that a big custom built, de luxe, imported, and 1930 limousine driven by a demon driver was zooming right down on us. We jumped five feet and he just hit our coattails.

"Automobile drivers ought to be shot," gasped we. "The streets belong to the pedestrians."

We went on down to our college and the president himself came out and took the wheel and told us where the starter was and how to step on the clutch and how to put the transmission gear in high. We went over to the college campus, which is any lonesome sort of street where there isn't much traffic. We took the wheel and Prexy sat by our side and gave us sage bits of advice.

We were trundling slowly along when a man ambled slowly across the street. We honked our horn in a most impressive style, but the man only gave us a dirty look. We must have stepped on the gas and headed straight for the indifferent pedestrian, for the president of the college, who always keeps his left hand on the wheel, gave it a sudden turn, and we passed the pedestrian by a good fourteen or fifteen inches.

"Earth worm!" hissed we. "What right have people to walk in the street and make trouble for us motorists?"

CRYPTIC BARDS.

You fashion metaphors and tropes
Until the reader fairly gropes
And feels around for guiding ropes.

To astral, dizzy heights you soar
To strum your harps at heaven's door
While we poor mortals hit the floor.

You take a sunrise pure as gold
To haze it over fold on fold
With cabalistic forms untold.

Eschewing grammar, form and sense
You negligently scorn all tense,
Treat rhetoric with violence.

Rhythm and scanning you disavow,
You delve in the occult somehow,
Or start a literary row.

You cover beauty with a cloak
And in the dictionary poke
To clothe us all in mental smoke.

Such finds as fey and entresole,
Yarrow, sestet, spate and whorl,
Avatars, moidores and bole.

Cusped and tussocks and congeries,
Coigns, arpeggios, velleities,
Wold, aigrette and such as these.

Byre and tubas, plinth, tarboosh,
They come at us with a mighty rush,
And knock us off our pins, by gosh.

I'm going back to Evangeline,
Or revel again in the Faery Queene.

YES, YEA, AYE! Oui, Oui! Yah! Si, Si! Put on your straw hat! Put on your Palm Beach suit. Put on your canvas shoes. But whatever you put on, first of all take 'em off, if you know what we mean.

OLD MAN BELSHAZZAR didn't have a thing on the Republican senators who are leaning toward the world court. The panic in Washington since the primary in Illinois has thrown a scare around the capitol not equaled since the Union army came tumbling pell mell across the long bridge after the battle of Bull Run. "Mene, Mene, Tekel, Upharsin," was what old Belshazzar saw on the wall and the old guard Republicans are now translating it as meaning "The World's Court Is Dead, Bury the Damthing Quick!"

CAL IS MORE CRYPTIC than the Roman oracles. We looked eagerly in the Cosmopolitan to read Cal's story, which it was hinted would throw light on his Presidential ambitions for 1932. "When I left Washington," says Cal, "I left public office. I have no intention of returning to it." No, Calvin, you have no intention of returning to the White House right now because the present incumbent's lease runs until 1932. But might your intentions be different at that time? Honest, Cal, we don't see much difference between your "I have no intention of returning to it" and "I do not choose to run."

WAIT! Hold everything! Reading more of what Cal said we find this: "Only the necessity of serving in some national crisis so great as to subordinate all other considerations would warrant it." Well, of course, in 1932 we may easily have a national crisis that would warrant, etc., etc.

NOW that the kind-hearted booksellers have taken pity on the forlorn condition of the White House and presented it with a library, we call upon the compassionate kitchen utensil manufacturers to get busy and send in wash boilers, baking pans, pie tins, potato mashers, and egg beaters. After that's done we'll take up the question of parlor rugs, door mats, and brooms.

TAKEN FOR A RIDE

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 11, 1865.

NEW YORK.—The World's Burkesville special details the fighting that immediately preceded Lee's surrender. Sheridan, still pursuing the enemy, found him entrenched behind a barricade of rails and débris along a line of woods. The 2d and 16th corps were brought on the field and Sheridan sent Custer down the road towards Burkesville with instructions to move up the road toward the enemy and barricade the passage. Then the rebel position was charged and after a desperate fight the enemy was sent flying down the road. Custer cut them off and the rebels, in no condition to resist an onset from our pursuing troops, raised the white flag and surrendered.

WASHINGTON.—The total number of officers and men surrendered by Lee is about 22,000.

WASHINGTON.—President Lincoln has returned to the city. The people, intoxicated with joy, interrupted his meeting with the cabinet with a salute of 100 guns and demands for a speech. He twice refused, but they cheered and sang until he appeared and responded briefly.

CHICAGO.—If the victory demonstration here was a fair representation of the outburst of public rapture in the United States it may be safely affirmed that no such jubilee was ever before held on this continent. Chicago hearts overflowed with sudden joy. Grave men of business paraded, blowing tin horns. A great procession came together as by magic from all parts of the city, afoot, on horseback and in all kinds of rigs. The procession occupied some four hours in passing THE TRIBUNE office. At night the city was illuminated by miles of bonfires.

CHICAGO.—We struck off yesterday morning the enormous number of 53,000 copies of THE DAILY TRIBUNE containing the glorious news of the surrender of Lee. This we believe is the largest number of copies ever issued in one edition by any newspaper in the northwest.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 11, 1900.

LONDON.—According to Douglas Story, the Daily Mail's correspondent with the Boers, and whose dispatches have hitherto invariably been accurate, the Boers under Commandant Dewet won a third decisive victory over the British at Meerkatsfontein on April 7, killing and wounding 600 and capturing 900 with twelve wagons, and losing only five killed and nine wounded.

CHICAGO.—The directors of the Republic Construction company voted a fee of $500,000 to Levy Mayer for his work in selling the Ogden Gas company. It is the largest fee ever paid to a lawyer in the United States.

GALVESTON.—Quietly and without even the judge who tried the case knowing the identity of the defendant, a divorce was granted to Charles N. F. Armstrong from Nellie Armstrong, better known to the world as Melba, the famous opera singer.

WASHINGTON.—The senate committee on privileges and elections unanimously decided that Senator W. A. Clark of Montana secured his election by flagrant bribery and therefore should be deprived of the seat he now occupies.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

APRIL 11, 1920.

CHICAGO.—Judge Richard S. Tuthill died at his home, 1316 Lake street, Evanston, at the age of 78. He had served 35 years continuously on the Circuit bench.

CHICAGO.—Avery Coonley died in Washington, D. C., where he had made his home for the last three years, at the age of 49.

CHICAGO.—Ways and means of ending the "insurgent" railway workers' strike will be considered at a closed conference of officials and the board of trustees of the Chicago Yardmen's association, the "outlaw" organization of switchmen, to be held today, President John Grunau announced.

NEW HAVEN.—Arthur Twining Hadley, president of Yale for more than 20 years, resigned, and his resignation was accepted by the board of trustees. He will remain with the department of political economy of the university.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscript can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

A SACRIFICE TO REGULARITY.

East Dubuque, Ill., April 9.—Senator Deenen is the second United States senator from Illinois who has been sacrificed by the national Republican party on account of its stand on the world court issue. Senator McKinley was previously defeated because he saw fit to place party regularity above the plainly indicated desire of his constituents.

In spite of all of the explaining on the part of American statesmen, the people still believe that the world court is nothing more than a conveyance for easing the United States into the league of nations. The verdict of the people as expressed in a number of presidential elections has been so unmistakably against the league that no statesman dares suggest that we enter the league, but statesmen are trying to get us into the league while making us believe that it is not the league but the world court.

The Democratic party has been wrecked since Woodrow Wilson tried to entangle us into the European affairs contrary to the advice of George Washington, which had been followed by all of our Presidents up to the time of Wilson. If the Republican party would stand firmly for American principles as against the internationalism of the Democratic party the Republican party would be assured of control in national affairs indefinitely, as the people are unalterably opposed to European entanglements. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin led the fight in favor of adherence to the world court and was backed by the administration, but was retired by the voters when he came up for reëlection. A careful check of the elections during the last eight years will show that any senator who has come out squarely for the world court has been retired from office when he came up for reëlection. It is high time that the Republican party abandon their internationalism and quit sacrificing brilliant men, who personally oppose the world court, but who wish to appear as standing by the party.

Most Americans are sick at heart regarding the London parley, and it is to be hoped that we will have sufficient strong hearted Americans in the senate to nullify the effects of our delegates' blandly surrendering our navy or first line of defense. These same Americans also hope that in the future red blooded Americans will be appointed not only to the office of secretary of state, but also to represent us in parleys abroad.

We are now asked to accept the Root formula as being the same as the senate reservations to the world court. If the two are identical in meaning, why the necessity of a change? The senate knows they are not the same and would stultify itself by accepting the Root formula as it would be an admission that they either do not know how to write reservations or that they did not know what they were doing at the time.
F. Q. BROWN.

DEMOCRAT OR NOT.

Chicago, April 9.—Like a lot of other Republicans yesterday, I voted for Ruth Hanna McCormick, but she need not think that she deceived me for a moment with her shadow boxing against the league of nations and the world court. I voted not for her but against Charlie Deneen, and there were a goodly number of others like me.

Now, unless she forgets her sham battle with the league and comes right out in meeting on the right side of the prohibition issue, we'll vote for Jim Ham Lewis next time, and thus, having eliminated Charlie, will get rid of Ruth also. And the respected TRIBUNE'S hedging on her prohibition attitude will not save her. Wet Illinois has not had the representation in the senate she has been entitled to, and if Lewis runs as a wet against a dry McCormick we are going to vote for Lewis, Democrat or not.
GEORGE M. LOVE.

IMPATIENT.

Chicago, April 9.—Who will THE TRIBUNE support this fall for senator? Your candidate, Ruth Hanna McCormick, has been nominated. She is dry. You are wet. Lewis is a Democrat and wet. This Republican 53 years of age will cast his first national Democratic vote for Lewis.
B. B.

THE ISSUE.

Chicago, April 9.—Mrs. McCormick attributes her nomination to the success of her world court policy. Rather, I think, she should attribute her nomination to the fact that the voters of Illinois who do not want prohibition have chosen to vote Senator Deneen out of office because of his vote in connection with the infamous Jones law.

I have always admired the courage of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE in fighting prohibition and its abuses. In the coming election the issue will be clearly defined and THE TRIBUNE should support James Hamilton Lewis, Democratic nominee, unqualifiedly, or forever keep still about prohibition. Mrs. McCormick should not look on her nomination as a victory. I will venture to say that not ten per cent of the primary voters are interested in the world court. Prohibition will be, without question, the outstanding issue in the coming election. The senator should be elected on that basis strictly.
CHARLES E. DOYLE.

SCOTCH EXPENDITURES.

Cicero, Ill., April 7.—I want to thank THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE for its interesting account of the recent international football match between England and Scotland. The fact that 50,000 Scots paid about $10 each for railroad fare alone to journey to London to watch their compatriots play must have been something of a shock to some of your readers who have been taught for years that the Scotch people are the tightest of all tightwads. To those of us who know them better, they are a most generous and hospitable race. Scotch stories do not seem to annoy them, yet some of them are so maliciously libelous as to cause me to marvel at their patience and fortitude. Tag day in Scotland is depicted as a deserted village while the truth is that Scotch people are unusually responsive to charitable demands.

In conclusion may I say that I am neither Scotch by birth nor descent, but of the breed that has no sense of humor?
G. O. DAWE.

OPENING DEARBORN STREET.

Chicago, April 5.—I note Edward J. Noonan, railway terminal committee engineer, has recommended the opening and elevation of five streets over the near south side railroad yards. While the plans cover the opening of Franklin street from the loop to 22d street and La Salle street between Taylor and 22d streets, Dearborn street is only to be opened between Taylor and 14th streets, although the street is at present blocked up to 16th street, where the St. Charles Air Line road crosses. Is Dearborn street, one of Chicago's leading streets, to end at 14th street in a blocked stub end street? Dearborn street should be opened through to 17th street, so as to provide a continuous and unobstructed thoroughfare to the south side.

GRANDMA GIVEN $25,000 FOR HER WITHERED LOVE

Gets One-tenth of Amount She Sought.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—The elegantly perfumed and completely "descandalized" breach of promise suit brought by Miss Adelaide Lean, a 58 year old grandmother, against Charles F. Harman of the Savoy-Plaza hotel, a man several years her senior, ended today with a $25,000 verdict for the lady.

The jury's sealed finding, returned late yesterday, after five hours of deliberation by twelve men who had sworn they were not woman haters, was opened this morning by Supreme Court Justice Thomas W. Churchill. The jurors awarded Miss Lean one-tenth of the amount she asked.

Y. M. C. A. Seeks $100,000 from City in Damage Suit

A $100,000 damage suit was filed yesterday in the Circuit court against the city of Chicago by the Y. M. C. A. The bill declares that the organization was put to $100,000 additional expense in the construction of the Victor Lawson Memorial Y. M. C. A. at Dearborn and Randolph streets because of a municipal water main under the site. The presence of the water main 90 feet under the planned 20 story structure has made it necessary to build additional supports and caissons, the bill says.

HOUSE OPPOSES UNION OF WAR VETS AGENCIES

Hoover's Supporters Lose Battle, 96 to 63.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Administration forces in the house met with an unexpected setback today, when a sufficient number of Republicans joined with the Democrats to virtually kill the Williamson bill to consolidate all war veterans activities into a single bureau.

After two days of debating in the committee of the whole, the house, by a vote of 96 to 63, adopted an amendment by Representative A. H. Gasque [Dem., S. C.] to eliminate from the bill a provision giving the head of the proposed consolidated bureau power to reorganize the agencies to be united, namely—the veterans bureau, the pension bureau, and the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers.

Rally May Be Attempted.

Immediately after adopting the amendment, which the bill's sponsors admitted badly crippled the measure, the house adjourned. It was reported that an effort may be made tomorrow to round up enough administration votes to defeat the amendment on a final roll call.

President Hoover, in accordance with the recommendation for a special commission, urged in his message of Dec. 3, that the various veterans' agencies be "brought together" to secure economy, efficiency, and more uniform administration. The Williamson bill authorized the President by executive order to consolidate the three agencies under an administrator of veterans affairs who would draw a salary of $12,000.

Big Saving Expected.

Sponsors of the bill contended that the consolidation would save $9,000,000 annually in hospital expenses, another million in administrative expenses, and still more in other places. They also stressed the need of coördination, so that soldiers of all wars would be treated alike.

Representative Gasque, leader of the opposition, argued that the President did not ask for consolidation, but merely for coördination of veterans' activities.

Much criticism was leveled from both sides of the house at the veterans' bureau, caring for world war veterans, which was pictured as wound up in red tape, while the pension bureau, handling the claims of civil war veterans, was praised repeatedly for its efficiency.

The bill is expected to be finally disposed of at tomorrow's session.

O'DONNELL IS HELD AS PERJURER IN GUN TOTING CASE

Bernard O'Donnell, brother of Myles and William [Klondike] O'Donnell, was held to the grand jury in $10,000 bonds yesterday by Judge Harry B. Miller in the Criminal court. He was charged with perjury as a result of the discrepancy between a petition he filed under oath and his testimony during a recent gun toting trial.

In his petition O'Donnell asked that the evidence be suppressed because the police illegally searched him and found the gun. He admitted ownership of the weapon. In his testimony at the trial, which ended in a disagreement, O'Donnell said the revolver was owned by a partner of his in the café business.

The day for the retrial of the O'Donnell case was set for May 5. The same time was selected to dispose of gun toting charges against George [Red] Barker, and William [Three Fingered Jack] White, ex-convict business agents for the Coal Teamsters' unions.

Italian Consulate Stoned in France; Police Seize 2

NICE, France, April 10.—(AP)—A crowd of about twenty men stoned the Italian consulate here last night, breaking a glass canopy and putting up a fight with the police. After a struggle, during which a number of shots were fired in the air, the police captured two. The police said they did not know whether the men were French or Italian.

PAVING OF OUTER DRIVE LINK TO BE FINISHED IN WEEK

The outer drive, between 43d and 47th streets, the rutted half mile over which motorists strained springs last winter, is being paved. It is the first large paving job to be started this spring, and will be finished a week from tomorrow, according to Assistant Superintendent Richards of the south park board. The inner drive between Soldiers' field and 23d street is also closed. Mr. Richards said that on next Wednesday the contractor will start paving the rough macadam under the 23d street grade separation.

South Parks Deny Police' Fired in Stevens Lobby

The revolver shot which caused excitement among guests in the lobby of the Stevens hotel on Wednesday was not fired by a south park policeman, E. J. Kelly, president of the south park board, said yesterday. Five park policemen, a private watchman, and others had pursued an automobile thief into the hotel, and in the excitement one shot was fired. The thief was captured. "Supt. Donoghue and Capt. Howard of the park police force have investigated and are convinced the shot was not fired by one of our men," said Mr. Kelly. "One of the others participating in the chase must have fired it."

DISCLOSE CAPONE BANK ACCOUNTS AT FRAUD TRIAL

U. S. Offers Checks in Tax Case.

Documentary evidence purporting to show that Ralph J. Capone maintained five separate accounts in a Cicero bank during the years when he claims to have been "insolvent" were introduced yesterday in his trial on charges of defrauding the government out of income taxes.

The younger brother of Alphonse Capone appeared bored by the proceedings and he conferred with his counsel only when questioned.

Capone, according to the defense contention, is a poor race horse man who seldom picked them right. The government charges that he falsified his assets when he offered $1,000 in compromise on Oct. 4, 1927.

Assistant United States Attorney Cassius Poust introduced a letter signed by Capone telling Mrs. Mabel Reinecke, former collector of internal revenue, why she should accept this offer. It said:

"I have sustained numerous losses through the sickness and death of my race horses and have lost great sums at gambling.

"Moreover, I have spent considerable sums defending my employés who have been prosecuted in both the state and federal courts. My liabilities are far greater than my assets, which consist of a half interest in two horses at the Hawthorne track, and I am spending all my reserve trying to get them into shape."

The letter went on to say he would have to borrow the $1,000.

Bank Cashier Testifies.

Collin N. Higgins, cashier of the Pinkert State bank, Cicero, identified bank ledger sheets of five accounts, one for Ralph J. Capone and the others for James Costello Jr., James Carter, James Carroll, and James Carson. The government contends that these names were aliases for Capone and the defense counsel asserted in the opening statement that the aliases were adopted to preclude forgery.

In addition to the ledger sheets, government exhibit 30, a stack of documents four feet high which was wheeled into the court room on a truck, was offered to show that Capone maintained accounts in other banks and cashed checks drawn upon them at the Cicero bank. Checks drawn upon the Capone account for $2,544, $368, $2,571, and others drawn on the Costello account for $5,520, $5,000, $2,200, and $1,035 were identified by Mr. Higgins.

Tells of Compromise Offer.

William Keup, deputy collector of internal revenue, told of serving warrants of distraint upon Capone after he had filed schedules for the years 1923, 1924, 1925 and 1926, all at the same time. Capone could not be found at his home at 1924 49th court, Cicero, Mr. Keup said, but he volunteered to come in. Then the compromise offer of $1,000 was tendered.

Defense counsel, through Daniel A. Kelleher, established on cross-examination of another government witness, Charles W. Arndt, chief of the income tax department, who identified records, that Capone paid the $1,000 offer and later the $4,065 assessed by the government on an estimated income of $75,000, but the witness said these payments were not accepted as taxes. It was brought out that the money is still on deposit with the revenue department, waiting to be reclaimed.

Judge Wilkerson yesterday sustained a demurrer of the defense counsel against three of the government's seven indictments, but the other four cover the two major charges, failure to file returns within the prescribed time limits and attempting to defraud the government.

M'GURN BROUGHT BACK TO CHICAGO ON GUN CHARGE

The rear entrance to the detective bureau yesterday received Jack McGurn, rated by the police as one of Al Capone's most capable machine gunners. Chicago had spent $700 to get him back from Florida, where he was sojourning while his bond on a gun carrying charge was forfeited here and, in the opinion of Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the crime commission, the money was well spent.

McGurn's arrival in handcuffs with two detectives who had procured his extradition was purposely devoid of the hubbub amid which Capone appeared at the detective bureau following his release from a Philadelphia penitentiary, where he served ten months for the same offense with which McGurn is charged. Chief of Detectives Stege said he wanted to discourage the practice of attaching any importance to a gangster. So while photographers and a reception committee waited at the front door of headquarters McGurn was pushed through a rear entrance.

Detectives John Howe and William Drury, who were supposed to be under a cloud because of a report from Florida that they attended a farewell banquet given their prisoner, were relieved of any imputation of inappropriate conduct by Chief Stege.

TEST TROLLEY BUSES; SERVICE BEGINS APRIL 17

Residents of the northwest side yesterday participated in the first tryout of the trackless trolley bus system, which is being started in that part of the city by the Chicago Surface Lines. It was announced by officials of the company that regular service will be started April 17 in Belmont avenue and Diversey parkway.

The new trolley bus resembles a street car and is driven by electric motors similar to those used on street cars. It is equipped with pneumatic tires and has upholstered seats for 41 passengers. The trolley wires, one negative and the other positive, are strung along each side of the street and two trolley poles are used on each bus.

Chicago is one of the first cities in the country to use the new type of bus for local transportation.

Surface lines bus service will be established within three months in Narragansett avenue from Irving Park boulevard to North avenue, North avenue from Narragansett avenue to Austin avenue, Central avenue from Lexington street to Milwaukee avenue; Elston avenue from Lawrence to Milwaukee avenue, and Irving Park boulevard from Neenah to Harlem.

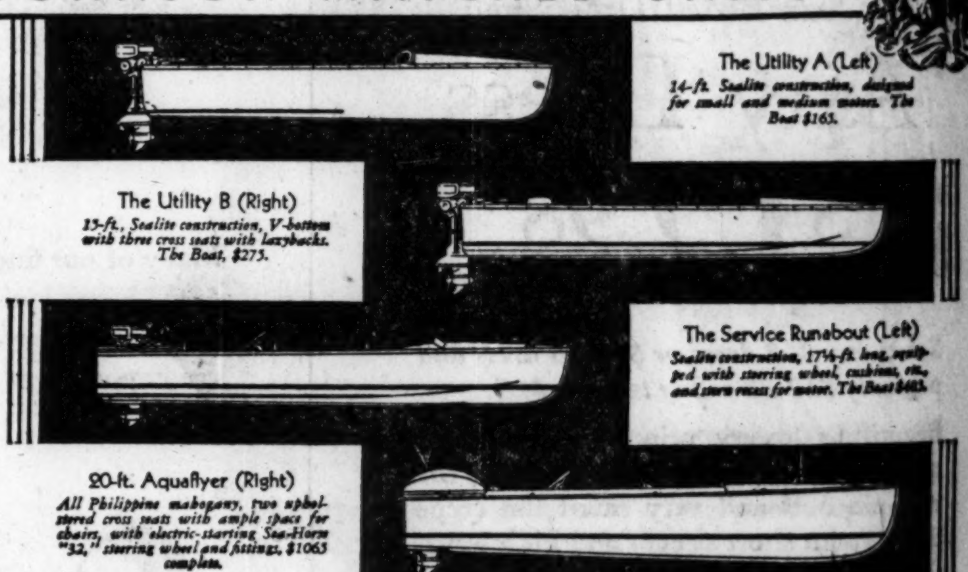
JOHNSON MATCHED UNITS



Electrically Started or Rope-Started Outboard Motor Boats, $260 to $1065 Complete

JOHNSON boats give outboard motoring a new meaning. Their Sealite construction is seamless, waterproof, non-absorbing. Hence they need no attention or care, no calking or bailing.

They are lighter—50% lighter than comparable wooden boats in water service. Thus Johnson boats are decidedly faster and more portable.

Electric-Starting Sea-Horses

Larger Sea-Horses now offered with both electric starter that charges battery and auxiliary rope-starter. Eight rope-started models also, including world's fastest outboard (49.34 m.p.h.) $125 to $350 f.o.b. factory. Electric starter extra.

See these new day boats at Johnson dealers listed below. Also the Champion Sea-Horse motors that match them—now with electric starter and auxiliary rope-starter, or rope-starter only—both with Release Charger.

Write for color-illustrated catalog of complete line. Matched units of boat and rope-started motor may be had as low as $260. All prices f. o. b. factory.

Sold and serviced by dealers listed below.

SHE WON'T TALK OF MURDER TALE OR ATTIC LOVER

Plan Attack on Widow's Share in Will.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 10.—[Special.]—Mrs. Walburga (Dolly) Oesterreich, comely Milwaukee widow of the late Fred Oesterreich, kept her promise to appear in District Attorney Buron Fitts' office this afternoon in connection with the official inquiry into her husband's mysterious murder, but after appearing she refused to say a word.

Mrs. Oesterreich was escorted by Jerry Geisler and Meyer Wilner. Attorney Geisler said he had advised her to say nothing.

Remains Silent During Visit.

Mrs. Oesterreich did not utter a syllable when she learned that Otto Sanhuber, the human "lover in the attic" who signed a confession of the murder which implicates her, was waiting in the next room to be confronted with her. Sanhuber has signed a confession relating that he lived for ten years hidden in a secret garret of the Oesterreich's home, unknown to the husband, but attended and fed by the wife. His confession also stated that Mrs. Oesterreich carried out his instructions to blame the fatal shooting on burglars, after Sanhuber crept back with his smoking revolver through his trapdoor into the secret compartment.

Plans Attack on Will.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 10.—Harry Voss, former manager for the Milwaukee apron factory of Fred W. Oesterreich, slain in Los Angeles eight years ago, said today he will enter suit there to contest the Oesterreich will, which left the bulk of his estate to the widow.

Voss claims a missing will left the estate in equal parts to himself, the widow, and the Christian Science church. The will probated was found among the apron manufacturer's discarded papers, Voss holds.

LUNATICS HELD AS MURDERERS OF BRIDEGROOM

San Antonio, Tex., April 10.—(AP)—Two escaped inmates from the San Antonio state hospital for the insane were charged with murder today after the mutilated body of J. W. Bradshaw, bridegroom of a month, was recovered from the Guadalupe river, 40 miles northwest of here.

Although Homer Edwards and Ernest Young formally were charged with the slaying, their insanity status will preclude prosecution for murder.

The body was found after Bradshaw's bride reported to county officers she was forced to wait in an automobile near the river last night while Edwards and Young, who recently escaped from the state hospital, took her husband away and a short time later returned to the car and said "we have given him the beating of his life."

Officers hurried to the scene, on a farm near Waring. They found Bradshaw's clothes rolled up in a small clump of bushes. A short distance away they located the body, mutilated and weighted down with rocks, in the clear water of the stream. The bridegroom had been shot in the head.

PASTOR HELD ON LIQUOR CHARGE GIVEN FREEDOM

St. Paul, Minn., April 10.—(AP)—The Rev. William F. Diehl, pastor of St. Lucas Evangelical church, Faribault, Minn., arrested last night in a liquor raid, was released late today in custody of his attorney after he had appeared before a federal grand jury which was reported to have returned a no-bill in his case.

The grand jury is believed to have heard the Rev. Mr. Diehl's explanation, made earlier in the day, that in his arrest at the Junior hotel he was the "innocent victim of an attempt to help one of my congregation sell some furniture."

Referring to a traveling bag in which the agents found a bottle, the Rev. Mr. Diehl said "they opened it and found a package inside, of which I had no knowledge. I did not place it there. They opened the package and in it found a bottle of liquor. I did not buy the liquor, or put it in my bag. I am not a drinking man."

THOUSANDS FLEE RUSSIA ACROSS CHINESE BORDER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, April 10.—A report from Harbin tonight stated that the soviet government has stationed heavy guards along the Manchurian border, armed with machine guns and searchlights, to prevent the wholesale exodus of thousands of Russian peasants who are fleeing to China due to the enforcement of the land socialization program.

The report stated that more than 600 soviet peasants with their families are camped along the border in the vicinity of Pogranichinaya trying to elude the soviet Cheka guards. Despite these guards, thousands are managing to slip across the border.

The Chinese delegation at Harbin which planned to proceed to Moscow April 15 to discuss the Chinese Eastern railway problem is again delayed.

'I DO NOT CHOOSE' IS IRREVOCABLE, COOLIDGE SAYS

Writes Only Crisis Could Call Him to Office.

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Calvin Coolidge today made his famous "I do not choose to run" final and irrevocable, when in an article published in the Cosmopolitan magazine he declared that he is through with public office, that he finds his retirement from official life "an incomprehensible relief," and that he has no intention whatever of ever returning to it.

In addition to answering the question as to whether he would ever again seek to be the master of the White House, the former President also discussed frankly his thoughts on prohibition, the tariff, the possibility of his entering the senate, playing the market and the good old principle of minding one's own business.

Through with Public Office.

"When I left Washington, I left public office," wrote Mr. Coolidge. "It is an incomprehensible relief and I have no intention of returning to it."

Writing from his quiet retreat at Northampton, Mass., the former President made it clear that this statement applies not only to the White House but to the senate and any other place of political power and authority.

"If I were in the senate," Mr. Coolidge added, "it would not be agreeable to many of my colleagues, and with all my desires to be helpful it would probably oftentimes be an embarrassment to the administration. To have a former President in Washington exercising political power would result in all kinds of uncomfortable complications. Only the necessity of serving in some national crisis, so great as to subordinate all other considerations, would warrant it.

Service as President "Done."

"Nor do I have any sympathy with those who are discussing again making me President," Mr. Coolidge wrote. "The service that I could give to that office I feel is done."

Mr. Coolidge gave it as his view that the solution of the thorny prohibition problem is far off because of the wide divergency of opinion that has long marked the discussion of this question.

"Considering that people have differed most radically on the best method of regulating the sale of liquor for generations, it is not likely to be settled for a long time to come," Mr. Coolidge declared.

TAKES POISON FOR MEDICINE; DIES.

Mrs. Annabelle Williams, colored, 51 years old, 3300 South Wabash avenue, died yesterday in the County hospital from the effects of poison which she swallowed at her home on Wednesday, mistaking it for medicine.

CAPTAIN STOPS PANIC ON SINKING SHIP, SAVES 30

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 10.—The remarkable cool headedness and efficiency of the captain and crew were the only things that saved the lives of 30 passengers of the Saint Sunniva, a small Scotch passenger vessel which was dashed on the rocks of "Mainland Island" of the Shetland group in a heavy fog this morning.

The ship's hull was ripped open by sharp rocks and water poured in while the passengers were still sleeping. Terrified, they ran on deck in their night clothes, wading through water up to their knees, while the ship listed precariously and appeared to be in immediate danger of going to the bottom. The heavy seas pounding the vessel against the rocks swept two lifeboats away, adding to the difficulties of rescue by the steamer Earl of Zetland.

Despite obstacle the captain prevented a panic and herded all the passengers and crew in the three remaining lifeboats. A paralytic boy had to be carried from his stateroom dressed only in a shirt. The passengers, still clad in nightclothes, suffered severely from exposure.

Marion County Farmers Will Strengthen Levees

Quincy, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—Land owners in the Marion county, Mo., drainage district eight miles west of Quincy have voted to raise and strengthen levees to prevent further floods. The district suffered heavy losses from floods in 1929. The federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost of levee construction and supervise the work, the land owners paying the remaining third.

Saves Priceless Laundry

At 999 Lake Shore Drive, on Chicago's famous Gold Coast, live many of America's wealthiest women. What soap do they trust with their costly laundry? Only American Family Flakes. "I always use American Family Flakes for washing Mrs. Willett's fine linens, laces, lingerie, silks and delicate fabrics," says Frances Goetz, maid to Mrs. W. D. Willett. "In fact, everything I launder is washed with these gentle, quick-acting flakes; and they are as kind to my hands as any toilet soap." Economical, too, for dishwashing. 3 liberal size packages. All dealers.

Wanted: A SALES MANAGER
FOR A BUILDING MATERIAL PRODUCT

One of our clients, a large company of outstanding success in its field, is about to place a new product on the market, under a separate organization. The man they are looking for will have the unusual opportunity of starting from scratch and building up his own plans and sales organization. He must, of course, know what he is about. He must have a record of proven ability in the merchandising and marketing of a building material selling through retail lumber and building supply dealers. The ideal man for this position is a young man of 30 to 40, now occupying an executive position with one of the outstanding manufacturers of building materials. The new position offers a wonderful opportunity of beginning with the plant construction and growing with the business.

Applicants must be willing to locate at whatever point may be determined as best suited for sales headquarters.

Full details of experience and idea of salary requirements should be stated in letter. Correspondence will be strictly confidential.

OIL PRODUCTS' DUTY SCHEDULE GIVEN APPROVAL

Senate Rate Increases Allowed to Stand.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—The heart of the tariff bill—the agricultural schedule—was accepted by the congressional conferees today virtually as rewritten upward by the senate.

While the house bill carried general increases in farm rates, the senate boosted these still higher in scores of instances. Only rarely did the house conference group hold out today for its lower duties. A few of the house duties agreed upon exceeded those of the senate.

Only two disputes in the agricultural section—the seventh of the fifteen rate schedules—went over for future decision.

Cotton Action Delayed.

These involved staple cotton, now on the free list, and increasing the rate on frozen eggs from six to 11 cents a pound, against a house rate of eight cents.

A discussion of the controverted Cuban raw sugar levy, reached at the evening session, also was passed over in deference to pledges that the house would be permitted to vote on the item.

Senate Pares Sugar Rate.

The house has raised the Cuban sugar levy from 1.76 to 2.40 cents a pound. The senate pared this down to two cents.

Taking up the less controversial items in the sugar schedule, the conferees compromised on a duty of $2.50 a ton for sugar cane, now dutiable at $1 a ton. The house bill provided $3 and the senate $2.

Senate farm rates approved at the first of the two daily sessions carry much higher protection for cattle, milk, cream, live and dressed birds, nuts, cherries, lemons, alligator pears, grapes, wheat unfit for human consumption, canned oysters, soya bean and oil cake meal and other similar products, vinegar and dates.

W. W. ATTERBURY IS READY TO FACE GRUNDY CHARGES

New York, April 10.—(AP)—Commenting today on charges made by Senator Joseph R. Grundy in a committee meeting of the United States senate yesterday that he and Republican leaders of Pennsylvania were attempting to control high offices, the higher courts, and the public service commission, Gen. W. W. Atterbury today said:

"I welcome at any time any investigation by any official body of my acts as president of the Pennsylvania railroad or in any other capacity."

Senator Grundy's charges were made before the senate committee on privileges and elections.

ROB FRUIT STORE OWNER.

Two bandits yesterday locked Peter Bhobis in a rear room of his fruit store at [illegible] Paterson avenue and robbed him of $[illegible].

WASHINGTON NOTES

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—Senate interstate commerce committee today ordered a favorable report on the Couzens bill to reorganize the federal power commission.

Wagner bill to set up a plan for unemployment relief was ordered favorably reported to the senate by its commerce committee.

Attorney General Mitchell asked the Supreme court to decide whether the government may prosecute sellers of illegal liquor under both the prohibition enforcement and internal revenue laws.

Thousand foot channel in the Calumet river branch of the Indiana ship canal was approved today by the house rivers and harbors committee, at a cost of more than $543,000.

Waukegan harbor was given $274,000 for dredging and breakwater construction; Grand Haven harbor and Grand river, Michigan, $118,500; Menominee harbor, Mich., $62,000; and Lorain harbor, O., $66,000, for inner channel improvements.

APPROVE TOTAL OF BILLION AND HALF IN SENATE

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—Establishing almost a record of accomplishment today, the senate passed two annual supply bills totaling almost a billion and a half dollars, ordered an investigation of senatorial campaign chests, and received from its committees legislation on unemployment and reorganization of the federal power commission.

It was one of the busiest days of the long session and brought the senate considerably nearer the June 1 adjournment date fixed by leaders.

The treasury and postoffice department appropriation bills, totaling $1,150,108,528, carrying the annual allotment of $15,000,000 for prohibition enforcement, went through without a word. No trouble was encountered in rushing through the $287,211,973 proposed by the appropriations committee to carry on the vast interior development program.

NAVY'S AIRCRAFT BUDGET SLASHED MILLION A YEAR

Ingalls' Testimony Stirs Senator Tydings.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—David S. Ingalls, assistant secretary for aeronautics, today told a senate committee that naval estimates for aircraft had been cut down consistently by $1,000,000 by the budget bureau during the last three years.

The statement resulted in a heated argument between the offical and Senator Tydings [Dem., Md.], with the latter questioning persistently, in order, he said, to find out whether "the budget bureau, the President, or congress" is responsible for what he termed American failure to keep abreast with other nations in development of fast airplanes.

Research Now Under Way.

Ingalls stated that the navy is engaged in a study of the feasibility of pursuing speed development "with the money we now get from congress." The investigation was started last fall after the only American plane under preparation failed in tests for the Schneider cup races.

Tydings called upon Ingalls and other high naval officials to give a comparison of American and other nations' navy planes tomorrow in the privacy of executive session, explaining that he wanted "the whole story" from the navy.

Lieut. Williams' Case Aired.

The committee began its investigation on Monday. Lieut. Alford J. Williams, racing pilot, testified he resigned from the navy instead of obeying an order transferring him to sea duty. He said he wished to carry forward high speed experimentation.

Ingalls said he had been informed of Lieut. Williams' desire to start his mercury racer in the Schneider cup races last fall with the intention of "wrecking" it if necessary, but said he vetoed the American entry because he could not approve "any such romantic proposals."

After conferring with private backers of the project, he said, he had ordered Williams to sea.

ROB GIRL THEATER CASHIER.

Taking advantage of a large sign which shielded the box office from view from the street, a Negro bandit last night held up Miss Frances Gorski, 3037 Davlin court, the cashier, in the lobby of the Fashion theater at 557 South State street and forced her to hand over about $100, the night's receipts.

ORDER INQUIRY ON INDUSTRIAL PLANTS' SEWAGE

Canal Board Probe to Center on Packers.

An investigation of waste disposal by industrial plants within the limits of the Chicago sanitary district was authorized in an ordinance adopted yesterday by the sanitary district trustees. The survey will provide accurate and detailed information on industrial sewage disposal in preparation for the passage of measures to regulate the discharge.

According to the trustees, the investigation will center chiefly in the stockyards district where a large part of the discharge originates. Copies of the ordinance were mailed last night to attorneys representing various factories and packing houses in the area.

Provides for Inspections.

The ordinance calls upon officials of plants to permit representatives of the drainage board to enter the premises and make certain inspections relating to the volume, nature, and method of sewage disposal. The attorney for the board is directed to bring suits to compel plant operators to comply with the provisions of the ordinance if interference is encountered.

In 1917 it was estimated that the volume of waste coming from plants in the stockyards district was equivalent to the domestic sewage of a population of 1,000,000, E. J. Kelly, chief engineer for the board, said. It is now estimated the amount of waste is equivalent to that of a population of 1,500,000, he said.

Required to Build Plants.

The sanitary trustees are required by a decree entered in the United States Supreme court to build sewage treatment works of sufficient capacity to treat all waste originating in the district. The cost of this work may exceed $500,000,000, Mr. Kelly said. The aim of the survey is to make it possible to carry out this construction program economically, the trustees asserted.

Walter E. Beebe, attorney for the sanitary district board, said he expected permission to conduct the investigation would be refused in some instances. In July, 1927, 150 plants discharging waste into the sewers and water courses within the sanitary district denied the drainage board permission to erect weirs at the outlets of sewers situated on their property or to take gauge readings and samples of effluent.

SWALLOWS PIN, RECOVERING.

Raymond Novak, 9 years old, 843 Windsor avenue, was recovering last night at the county hospital after an open safety pin which he swallowed was removed from his esophagus. The pin lodged an inch from the entrance to the stomach and was removed by Dr. Samuel J. Perlman of the hospital staff with a pair of pinchers and an esophageoscope.

BEGIN PLANNING FOR EXTENSION OF CITY AIRPORT

Following the approval by the voters of the $450,000 airport bond issue on Tuesday, Walter W. Wright, director of parks, playgrounds, and beaches, yesterday announced that planning for the improvement and expansion of the municipal airport had been started. Estimates on lighting, draining, and grading the field are being drawn up, he said.

More than 100 acres of rough land adjacent to the present municipal field at 63d street and Cicero avenue will be the first to be prepared for use by airplanes. This new section will be graded and seeded so that planes may land on it at any point. Repairs and grading of the present landing area of the field will be started simultaneously with the improvement of the new section, Mr. Wright said.

The actual work will start as soon as the money voted is made available, the airport director asserted.

ELEVATOR MEN DENY OBJECTION TO BRIDGE PLAN

Say Closed Hours Would Not Delay Grain.

In answer to assertions that a proposed thirty minute extension of the afternoon closed hours for downtown bridges would interfere with grain shipments the operators of five large river elevators yesterday denied that the longer period would increase their shipping costs or cause any delay in shipments. These elevators represent 85 per cent of the storage space along the north and south branches of the river.

The Rosenbaum Grain company, Chicago Elevator Properties, Stratton Grain, and Quincy Elevator company were the concerns which denied the contention of Chicago Waterways association officials who have been balking against the time extension which is proposed to accommodate rush hour traffic. Special Assistant Corporation Counsel Benjamin Goldstein hailed the statement as a direct refutation of these claims.

Grain Shipping "Not Affected."

"We desire to coöperate in the rearrangement of the bridge closed hours to coördinate the river traffic in the metropolitan district with the traffic over the bridges," read the statement. "The rearrangement of the hours will not adversely affect the handling of the grain shipped and will not result in any increase in the cost of shipping on the river nor any delay in such shipments."

The bridges are now closed from 7 to 9:30 a. m. and from 4:30 to 6:30 p. m. In response to the growing sentiment that these hours were not sufficient to cope with the increasing street traffic some of the waterways officials suggested that the morning hours be changed so as to start at 7:30 and extend until 10.

Propose New Schedule.

To better care for afternoon traffic the officials proposed starting the closed period at 4 and extending it until 6:30. This, traffic engineers have pointed out, would synchronize with peak traffic periods.

Negotiations proceeded along these lines until several objector-shippers refused to coöperate further and the statement that grain shipments would be seriously deterred by the change was included in the objections. "It is quite clear that the shippers only intended to bolster their private interests against the public welfare," remarked Mr. Goldstein as he read the elevator owners' reply.

Asks Terms for Change.

One of the objectors to the extension, Charles J. Connell of the Fitzsimons & Connell Dredge and Dock company, said yesterday that he would not further oppose the plan if he could be assured on these points:

1. If this extension of thirty minutes will end attempts to further close the river against navigation.

2. If his concern could be given a reasonable length of time before the change to rearrange its long time contracts to conform with the proposed schedule.

Asked who he thought could give him assurance that the granting of the extra half-hour would "end" the demands, Mr. Connell said he didn't know, adding, however, that "this thing has to end somewhere."

U. S. S. CHICAGO IS LAUNCHED AT PACIFIC PLANT

Mare Island, Cal., April 10.—(AP)—The U. S. S. Chicago, newest of eight 10,000 ton light cruisers authorized by congress in 1924, slid down the ways here today to a perfect launching amid the din of whistles and cheers of more than 20,000 people.

The Chicago, second navy vessel to bear that name, was christened by Miss Elizabeth Britten of San Francisco, sister of Congressman Fred A. Britten of Chicago, chairman of the house naval affairs committee.

The cruiser's length is 600 feet and her beam 66 feet. The four propellers are expected to give the vessel a speed of 32.7 knots. Her armament consists of nine 8 inch guns mounted in three turrets and a secondary battery including four 5 inch anti-aircraft guns, eight anti-aircraft machine guns, two triple 21 inch torpedo tubes, and several smaller pieces of ordnance. The statutory limit of cost of the cruiser is $11,100,000.

The Chicago, with a crew complement of 54 officers and 655 enlisted men, is expected to be placed in commission next March to become the flagship of the Pacific cruiser squadron.

B. H. Cronson, alderman, and Leonard Ettelson, assistant corporation counsel, attended the launching as official representatives of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago.

BAR COMMITTEE MAKES REPORT ON J. J. GORMAN

Completes Investigation of McAndrew Trial.

The grievance committee of the Chicago Bar association, which has been investigating the part played by former Congressman John J. Gorman in Mayor Thompson's war on King George, has submitted its recommendations to the board of managers. This was learned yesterday when it was reported at the association headquarters that the managers are about to take action on the report.

Former Congressman Gorman was the chief investigator of allegedly anti-American school history text books. His examination of texts followed the mayor's campaign promise to "swat King George on the snoot," and the result of his investigation were reported by Gorman before the school board. This testimony was one of the chief items on which the board based its ouster of William McAndrew as superintendent of schools.

Gorman Apology Recalled.

During the trial Gorman was named defendant in a $100,000 libel suit brought in the United States District court by David Saville Muzzey, Columbia university professor, as the result of Gorman's charges that the professor's textbooks contained British propaganda. Last Oct. 11 Gorman made a public apology repudiating the charges. The apology said that the letter bearing his signature and criticizing Prof. Muzzey's texts was composed by Grant Miller, one of the mayor's staff of King George foes.

The apology won dismissal of the libel suit for Gorman, but resulted in requests from various organizations for legal action against him. State's Attorney Swanson was petitioned to institute charges. Swanson declared that the only legal ground for prosecution, that of a conspiracy to defame, was prevented by the statute of limitations, and that a charge of perjury could not be pressed, because, even though the testimony was given under oath, the school board has no authority to administer an oath.

Bar Committee Investigates.

Petitions were sent to the bar association demanding the initiation of disbarment proceedings. These were referred to the grievance committee, of which Benjamin F. Langworthy is chairman. The committee has spent several months in a review of the volumes of testimony in the trial and the libel action. A report containing several recommendations has been under consideration of the board of managers. Members of the board refused yesterday to say whether a decision had been reached.

Mr. Langworthy also declined to discuss the committee report. He said that he would be violating the rules of the association if he revealed its contents. John J. Fogle, secretary of the committee, said that the report could not be disclosed until court action has been taken.

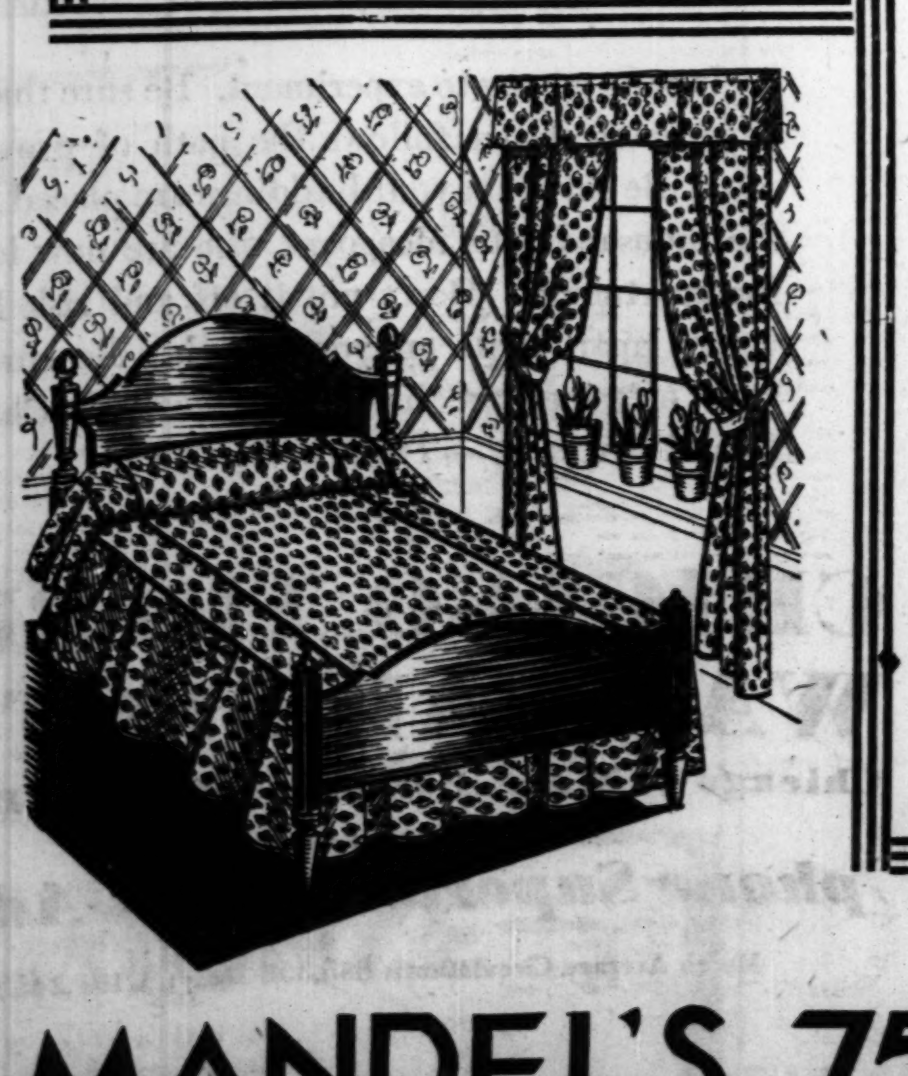
And Then We Told Them the Price!

Fashion-wise women have been asking for bedspreads and draperies of cretonne—and we've been trying to find the very best that's possible! Now we've got them—and we overheard five women admiring them yesterday. Here's what they said: "They're lovely . . . and to think that they're washable, too . . . how smart they are this year! And aren't the colorings gorgeous? . . . Isn't it nice that they ensemble as well!" And then we told them the price—and everybody's enthusiasm is so great that we're telling all Chicago!



Imagine Our Embarrassment!

In our enthusiasm to tell our little story and to show you the picture of these gorgeous spreads and curtains we almost forgot to tell you the five great things about them—

1. Spreads, Draperies to Match.
2. The Spreads are only $3. (Single and Double width.)
3. The Draperies are only $2. (Curtains, Tiebacks, Valance.)
4. Choose from 3 Patterns.
5. In 5 Popular Colors.

COVERED WAGONS LEAVE ST. LOUIS AS IN 1830 DAYS

Reproduce Start Over Oregon Trail.

St. Louis, Mo., April 10.—(AP)—Frontier days were lived again here today when a covered wagon train, rumbling out of the past, reënacted the departure of the first expedition over the Oregon trail 100 years ago.

Just as the party of frontiersmen set out from St. Louis for the west on April 10, 1830, so did the cavalcade today. Eighty-one men made up the reconstructed expedition. They rode in 10 covered wagons, two ancient buggies, and on horses and mules. The wagon most representative of frontier days was one once owned by Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. Others were of the more modern vintage.

Use Costumes of Century Ago.

Indians wearing war paint and feathers, men in fur caps and leather coats and pants, women in long, flowing dresses and hoop skirts made the scene realistic as the expedition departed from a spot near the Mississippi river front and traveled five miles through St. Louis streets.

While the wagon train was real enough, the surroundings were in direct contrast to those of 100 years ago. Then only a handful of relatives and friends bid good-by to the hardy pioneers as they started the long trek. Today thousands were present and it took many policemen to keep back the crowds. Throngs lined the streets. One hundred years ago there were only a few cattle, horses, oxen, and wagons at the scene. Today a few cattle had been brought to the spot, but in place of wagons and horses there were automobiles, street cars and buses, and a dirigible soared overhead.

Start for the West.

At the crack of a blacksnake whip at 3 p. m. the 81 men jumped into their wagons, and as a group of women ran from one wagon to another bidding the men good-by the expedition was off for the west. It carried a message of greeting from Gov. H. S. Caulfield of Missouri, addressed to Gov. A. W. Norblad at Salem, Ore.

Indiana Man Killed on Night of Birthday Fete

Valparaiso, Ind., April 10.—A birthday celebration of Steve Gallas, 70, of Chesterton, was turned into tragedy Wednesday night when Gallas, alighting from a train in Chesterton, returning from Gary, stepped in the path of a fast New York Central freight train. His head was crushed. Gallas was an employé of the railroad.

SUPREME COURT HEARS CUNEO'S PLEA FOR TOWER

The Illinois Supreme court yesterday heard arguments in the appeal of John F. Cuneo for the erection of a sixty story tower at Michigan avenue and Randolph street, under the amendment to the zoning laws which would allow the structure to rise 440 feet without a setback. The appeal was made from a decision of Chief Justice Thomas Taylor of the Circuit court, who last Dec. 10 held the amendment to be illegal.

Briefs had been filed by attorneys for Mr. Cuneo and for the property owners giving the history of the case and a summary of the arguments made before Judge Taylor. The Supreme court allowed two hours for argument for each side.

Arguments for the property owners opposing the tower were made by Attorneys Joseph B. Fleming and Clay Judson. Attorneys Carlton Fisher and Isaac Ferguson, representing Mr. Cuneo, defending the ordinance. The court took the case under advisement.

Apartment Owners:

ARE YOUR BUILDINGS 100% RENTED?

YOUR major problem at this time is to get in touch with prospective tenants who are in the market for apartments. Don't wait too long! The success which many landlords and renting agents are having this year in renting their buildings early proves that the Tribune can do this job. People look upon the Tribune as the guide to desirable apartments in all sections of Chicago. They know that here they will find apartments that owners are proud of. For years the Chicago Tribune classified columns have been the meeting ground of landlords and prospective tenants.

Vacant apartments cost more than advertising. Any advertising is expensive when it fails to produce, regardless of rate. A Tribune Want Ad is not only low in cost per reader but it reaches the people you want for tenants. The Tribune produces. Hundreds of thousands of dollars—many times as much as is spent in all the other Chicago newspapers combined—go into Tribune Apartment-to-Rent advertising annually. Here is positive proof that the Tribune can actually rent your apartments for less money than other forms of advertising.

It costs money to experiment. Be sure that your advertising dollar follows the path of proved results. Be sure that your buildings are placed before the thousands of Chicagoans who are now looking for apartments. Don't put it off and risk having vacant apartments on your hands. Be sure that your offerings are listed this week in Chicago's Rental Directory—Tribune Want Ads.

GANDHI WILTS UNDER STRAIN OF INDIA SALT WAR

Leader Is Ill Abed, but Campaign Spreads.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

BOMBAY, India, April 10.—Mahatma Gandhi began to wilt under the strain today, but his campaign against the British India government continued to spread across India with whirlwind rapidity. Within the last 24 hours there have been arrests, or other incidents arising from defiance of the salt law, not only in a dozen places in Bombay presidency, but in all sections, even at New Delhi, the seat of the government.

The leader, who is close to 70, however, confessed to feeling weary for the first time since he began his 200 mile march from Ahmedabad a month ago. Instead of going ahead with his campaign he rested at his bungalow. Disappointed crowds waited at the village of Karadi, four miles from the seacoast, but were told the Mahatma was indisposed. They found consolation in collecting salt on their own initiative.

Suffering Case of Nerves.

For the last few days Mr. Ghandi has been suffering from that state of nerves in which a person cannot stand inaction for a moment. At the end of each day's march he has refused to rest. He has given interviews to visitors, dictated articles for his paper, Young India, or has called his lieutenants for consultation.

The latest development in the salt campaign is that volunteers hundreds of miles inland are having sea water brought from the coast for boiling, and are even experimenting with chemicals so as to participate in the movement. Salt "deposits" in a suspiciously advanced stage, probably more easily explainable by the local congress committees than by geologists, have been suddenly discovered hundreds of miles from the sea. Near Allahabad, for instance, a mysterious "deposit" was found in the ruins of an empty house.

Sikhs Are Resentful.

As widespread as the movement has become, it is still entirely confined to the Hindus. There is not the slightest sign of interest from the Moslems or the Sikhs. The Sikhs are resentful of Mr. Gandhi's reply today on the subject of including their colors in the national flag, the Mahatma having passed the responsibility on to the all-India congress committee.

Raid Gandhi's Headquarters.

BOMBAY, India, April 10.—(AP)—Police today raided the National congress [Mahatma Gandhi's organization's] headquarters here and arrested the secretary, Abid Ali, as well as Mehr Ali, "commander of the national militia."

COIN TINKLES ALONG WITH WEDDING BELLS IN THIS CLUB'S PLANS

Little Rock, Ark., April 10.—(AP)—Marriage as an investment wherein cash dividends would jingle along with wedding bells, is proposed by the Arkansas Matrimonial Mutual association for the benefit of those fearful of wedlock's financial incumbrances.

On file today with the Arkansas railroad commission, which controls corporations in this state, was an application from the association for a permit to sell matrimonial mutual certificates under an assessment plan. A member who married one year after joining the association would receive $1,000. The money would be derived from an assessment of $1.25 against all other members.

COAL MINERS TO DRAFT NEW WAGE DEMANDS

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10.—(AP)—A tri-district anthracite convention of the United Mine Workers will be held at Hazleton, Pa., on April 30 to formulate demands to be incorporated in the new wage contract to be negotiated with the anthracite operators. The present contract expires on Aug. 31.

PRAIRIE BLAZE ON NORTH SHORE DESTROYS HOME

Two fires, causing loss in excess of $100,000, kept firemen of several north shore suburbs busy yesterday.

One of the blazes, the most disastrous, began as a wandering prairie fire upon the outskirts of the village of Beach, between Waukegan and Zion City. Swept by a southwest wind, it ended by destroying the residence and outbuildings of Lawrence Amann, and partially destroying the nearby home of Amann's son, Leo. The damage was estimated at $65,000.

Before fire fighters from Waukegan and Zion City succeeded in quenching the flames by drawing water from nearby wells, the flames had imperiled more than a dozen other residences in Beach and, in addition, had consumed a haystack upon the farm of Mrs. Paul Karpen of Evanston, and a barn belonging to F. W. James, causing a further damage of $10,000.

One hundred pigeons, two hogs, and six tons of hay were destroyed at the Lawrence Amann place.

A two story brick residence valued at $25,000, at 922 Main street, Evanston, was destroyed by the second fire. Furniture belonging to Miss Fronia Vinnedeg, who was preparing to occupy the home, also burned.

AWARDED DECREE FROM BROKER.

Mrs. Cecilia Wagner, 22 years old, 1418 North La Salle street, yesterday won a divorce from her husband, Ralph Wagner, a broker, before Superior Judge Sabath. She charged cruelty.

WE INTRODUCE ANOTHER COMMANDING VALUE

SMART NEW ACCESSORIES FOR EASTER IN A PERFECTLY TIMED SPECIAL SELLING!

How much does your budget allow for your Easter wardrobe? Here are suprisingly economical answers to this question . . . in this, our season of commanding values. Almost everything is included in this special selling of

HANDKERCHIEFS

like these are seldom priced at 50c

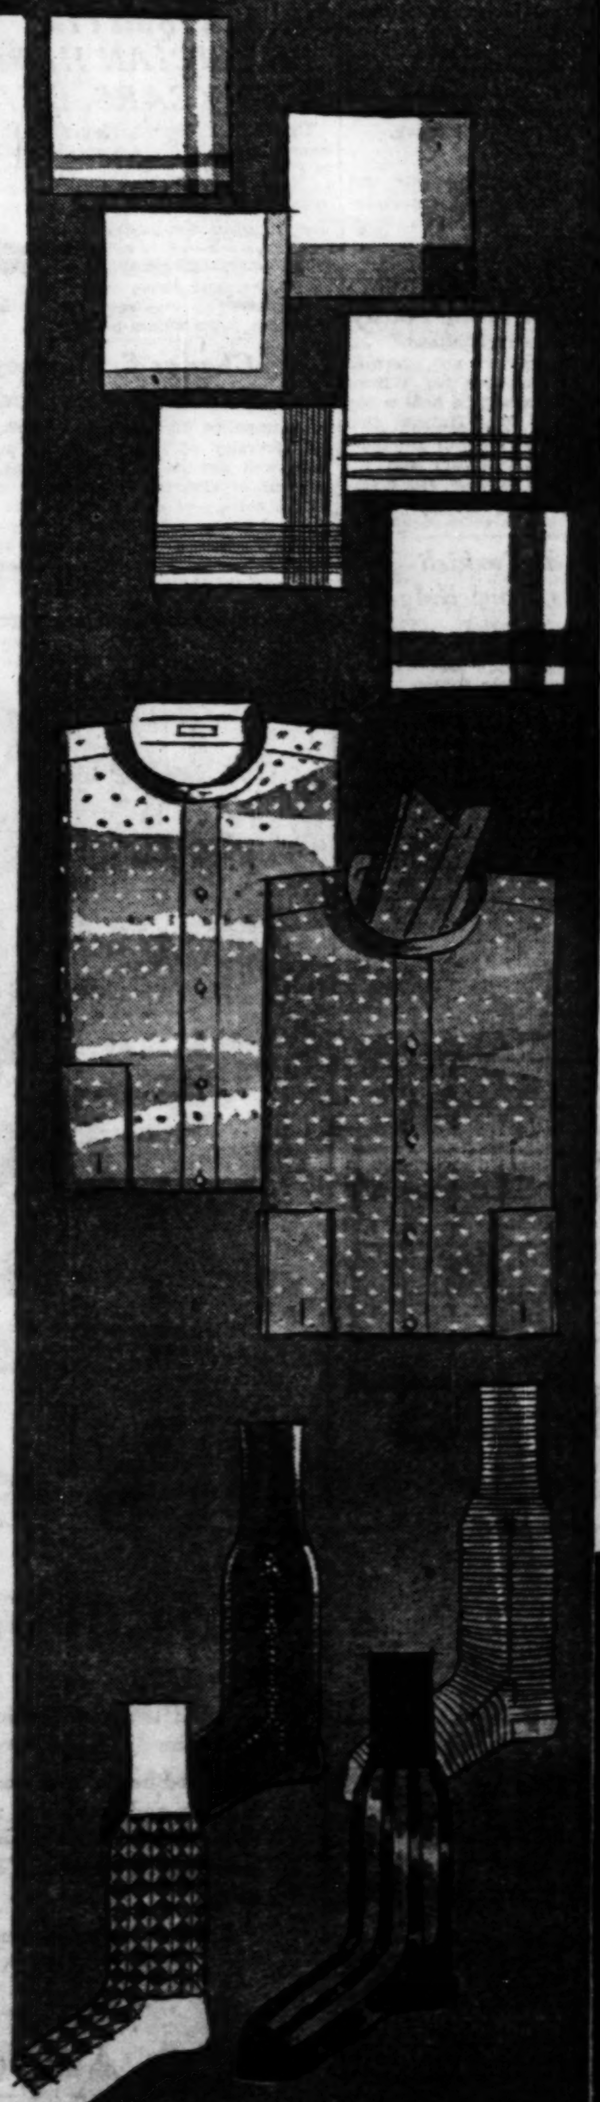
That's reason enough why you ought to buy half a dozen. But when you realize that they are of fine French or Irish linen then it's time to admit that your dollar undoubtedly buys more now than at any time since the war.

For here are smart white corded and colored linen handkerchiefs which ordinarily would sell for much, much more. They're available in several cords, are full size and have hand-rolled edges—an important feature.

The colored ones come in any number of rich looking shades to help your color harmony.

(P. S.—There are a number of initialed styles in an attractive clearance—and almost all initials are included—also at this price you wonder at—50c).



WOVEN MADRAS, $2.65
BROADCLOTH, $4.25

Two Shirt Values that will mean a Saving of Dollars!

Reduced from much higher prices—both of these values, and immediately apparent because of their quality and conservative patterning.

THE MADRAS are of designs which will appeal because of their crisp freshness—white grounds with small color line stripes. There are darker colorings for the more pronounced ensemble effects and each shirt has two starched collars to match. Good values at their regular price—exceptional at $2.65

THE BROADCLOTH—have a neat jacquard figure on fine white fabric, are available in either neckband or collar attached models and are so outstanding at this unusually low price that purchases of a dozen or more will be well worth while.

Immediately recognizable values—every one of these items! Yet just a minute—how about that budget? Figure it out for yourself. The Hat's $7—and a couple of Ties, $1.25 each, are $2.50—that's $9.50. Then two Shirts total $6.90; three pairs of Hose are $4.05 and half a dozen Handkerchiefs are only $3. And there you are—a complete new set of accessories that should keep you well-supplied for some time and the total outlay is less than $25—$23.45 to be exact.

ALSO IN EVANSTON STORE AND WEST SUBURBAN STORE, OAK PARK

FIRST FLOOR

THE HAT IS THE BILTMORE

and it certainly is very commanding at . . $7

Made to our own specifications—so although very specially priced quality has not been sacrificed! A truly unusual value at $7. There's style—there's snap—there's quality in the Biltmore! FRENCH KILL TAX RAISE ON LIZZIES, THEN PLAN BOOST

New Tariff Bill to Cancel Benefit to U. S. Cars.

BY JAY ALLEN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, April 10.—The French ministry of commerce today suddenly rescinded its circular instructing agents at all ports to change the valuation of American cars for duty so as to increase the tariff from 25 to 60 per cent pending the passage of a new tariff bill. By this order the existing 45 per cent ad valorem duty was to have been calculated on the sale price in France instead of on the American production price.

The dealers complained that this meant a big loss to them on hundreds of cars now en route to France to fill orders which were taken at the old price. The spring business was already ruined, they said, by the fact that in most cases they could not take orders without knowing what the definitive rates would be.

Rush Draft of New Bill.

The dealers take little comfort in today's decision, as it gets them out of the frying pan of a provisory tariff into the fire, represented by the rates of the impending new tariff bill. They would naturally have preferred a couple of weeks to get in the cars already contracted for at the old prices. But Etienne Fougere, president of the tariff commission, and Minister of Commerce Pierre-Etienne Flandin have already arranged for a new tariff bill which will come before the chamber of deputies the first thing tomorrow morning, and will probably be passed right away. The bill will probably boost the tariffs to the same level that the canceled circular would have done.

Will Stop Trade Move.

In that way, the members of the tariff commission assured the minister of commerce, he would get his new tariffs into effect before the crafty Americans rush in a lot of cars from warehouses in Antwerp and London, the big distributing centers for cars in Europe.

All of the American companies represented in Paris protested at the ministry of commerce today, and Ambassador Edge himself spoke to M. Flandin. He said, however, that his call was merely to discuss the itinerary of his second tour of French industrial regions. It seems that the automobile question was not discussed.

Plan Tax on U. S. Films.

[Copyright: 1930: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, April 10.—Reports were current in American film circles today that the French government is considering placing a heavy import tax upon all American films shipped to France. A temporary accord whereunder the French and American film industries composed their differences expires May 1, but it was to be renewed for another year if no permanent settlement had been reached by that time.

Douglas W. Hutchinson Funeral to Be Tomorrow

The funeral of Douglas W. Hutchinson, president of H. W. Hutchinson & Son, manufacturers of bottlers' supplies and a lifelong Chicagoan, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at St. Martin's Episcopal church, Midway park and Waller avenue, Oak Park. Mr. Hutchinson, who was 60 years old, died Wednesday at his home, 61 Washington boulevard, Oak Park, after a long illness. A son, Donald Warner Hutchinson, and a daughter, Gertrude, survive him, his wife having died within the last year.

INFIRMARY INMATE FOUND DEAD.

William Schofield, 63 years old, formerly of 816 West Garfield boulevard, who disappeared from the Oak Forest infirmary on March 16, was found dead yesterday in a field on the hospital grounds. Death was due to natural causes.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: "Right Will Prevail"

Russian Songs Win Praise of Radio Listener

Critic Enjoys Programs of the Evening.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

The Russian Singing society, from W-G-N, 8:30 to 9 last evening, sent out a concert of tremendous appeal, both as to the singing and as to the nature of the selections. The presence of women singers tended to soften the ruggedness of the more often heard Russian male singing organizations. Yet there was no weakness there. Love songs, hobo songs and peasant songs were in the majority.

The voice of Rosa Ponselle, soprano, from New York made the 9 to 10 hour through KYW a memorable one. Never has this star among the younger sopranos of the present age been in better radio voice, and she was permitted to give an extended program. The "Ave Maria" from "Otello," the "Peaceful Was the Night" aria from "Il Trovatore," and "Kiss Me Again" from "Mlle. Modiste" are but three of her many contributions that the radio audience will remember.

A special arrangement of Lehmann's "In a Persian Garden" made the W-G-N 9:30 to 10 period enjoyable. The W-G-N symphony did most of the work, though there were occasional solos by Walter Pontius, tenor, and Albert Cooke, bass-baritone. Both soloists did highly creditable work.

Alfred Lyman Flude, lecturer, did wonders, instructively and entertainingly, in his talk on Nicaragua, from W-G-N, 8 to 8:30.

Robert R. Hargis Funeral Rites to Be Held Today

Funeral services for Robert R. Hargis, 6020 Drexel avenue, former assistant traffic manager for Wilson & Co., meat packers, will be held today at Carlisle, Ky. Mr. Hargis died March 11 on the steamship Bergensfjord, en route to Norway, and his body was cremated at Oslo, the ashes being returned to his birthplace for burial.

Two Slain as Turkish Bandits Raid Bulgaria

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 10.—(AP)—One wealthy Bulgarian and one robber chief were killed during an incursion of Bulgarian territory today by a group of armed Turkish bandits who, after plundering a frontier village near Adrianople, came into contact with gendarmes and local militia. Several gendarmes were wounded. The bandits recrossed the frontier.

TWIN DIES THREE DAYS AFTER HER SISTER'S DEATH

The deaths of twin sisters, 54 years old, within three days, and without the last surviving sister knowing of the death of the other, occurred in Chicago this week.

Mrs. Bessie Roman, 1611 Wilson avenue, and Mrs. Bertha Campbell, also of the Wilson avenue number, were the sisters. They were natives of Chicago. On last Monday Mrs. Roman died following a lingering illness.

Yesterday Mrs. Campbell died of pneumonia. Such was her condition on Monday that she was not told of the death of her twin. The funeral of Mrs. Roman, who is survived by her husband, B. K. A. Roman, was held on Wednesday. Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Campbell, who is survived by her husband and by a son, have not been completed.

DR. J. K. SMITH, PHYSICIAN HERE 50 YEARS, DEAD

Dr. John K. Smith, 74 years old, for more than 50 years a practicing dentist in Chicago, died yesterday at his home at 7827 Paxton avenue, after a five days' illness of pneumonia. Dr. Smith was born in Pennsylvania and came to Chicago 55 years ago, maintaining an office at 132 East 22d street until his retirement three years ago. He is survived by one son, Dr. Kenneth F. Smith, with whom he lived.

Dean Charles E. Chadsey Will Be Buried Today

Champaign, Ill., April 10.—[Special.]—University of Illinois faculty members will act as pall bearers at the funeral of Charles E. Classes in the college of education will be dismissed during the services.

PROF. STORY, 79, MATHEMATICIAN, IS DEAD IN EAST

Worcester, Mass., April 10.—(AP)—Dr. William E. Story, 79, professor of mathematics at Clark university from its foundation, in 1889, to 1921, and since then professor emeritus, died today.

Dr. Story was born in Boston and was graduated from Harvard college in 1871. He was a tutor in mathematics at Harvard in 1875 and 1876, and later was associate professor of mathematics at Johns Hopkins university, Baltimore.

He was editor of the American Journal of Mathematics from 1878 to 1882, and contributed many papers to this and various other mathematic journals in the United States and abroad. He was a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and a member of the National Academy of Sciences and the London Mathematical society. CONGRESS URGED TO ADMIT FEWER LATIN AMERICANS

Action Proposed to Cut Unemployment.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—Immigration restrictions against the Latin-American countries and the Philippines were proposed in both branches of congress today as a means of checking what was described as the "deplorable" unemployment situation in the United States.

Opening debate in the senate on his bill to apply the quota laws to all Central and South American nations, Senator Harris [Dem., Ga.] said 7,000,000 persons, many of them veterans of the world war, were out of work in this country and that thousands of their jobs had been taken by Latin immigrants, mostly from Mexico.

Representative Welch [Rep., Cal.] testified before the house immigration committee at initial hearings on his bill to place Filipinos under the same restrictions now applicable to Chinese and Japanese, that "deplorable" unemployment conditions existed in his state as a result of the presence of 60,000 Filipino immigrants competing in all kinds of work with white labor.

Contending the Harris bill would increase rather than retard unemployment, Senator Bingham [Rep., Conn.] opposed it on the further ground that it would "strike a blow at Pan-Americanism from which it would be very difficult to recover."

DOCTOR HELD IN RUM CASE.

Dr. Carl S. Furness, whose office at 2535 East 75th street, was raided by dry agents several weeks ago, was held to the federal grand jury in bond of $500 by United States Commissioner Walker yesterday.

U. S. QUIZ UNCOVERS NO EVIDENCE OF FOUL PLAY IN MILES DEATH

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—The department of justice announced today that it had not found any evidence to indicate that Basil Miles, former diplomat, had died of anything "other than natural causes."

The investigation was started at the request of United States District Attorney Leo A. Rover after reports had been made to him that there was something suspicious in the death of Miles.

More than a score of witnesses were examined during the inquiry, including the physicians who had pronounced Miles' death as due to a blood clot on a lung.

FRANCES STARR TO SUE ARTIST FOR DIVORCE

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Frances Starr, actress, is preparing to sue her 52 year artist husband, Haskell Coffin, for a divorce. Mr. Coffin admitted today that his wife is in Reno and that she will probably claim nonsupport in seeking the decree.

"She's my only love and there will never be another woman for me," he said. "I'm through with all women with her gone."

Used Gin to Clean Furs, He Says, but He's Fined

A helpful hint to housewives was given yesterday by Jacob Cohen, 50 years old, owner of a fur shop at 856 East 79th street, when he was arraigned in the stockyards court on a charge of selling gin. Cohen insisted that the gallon of gin found in his fur shop was kept there to gloss fur coats, keep away the moths, and improve the fur generally. He was fined $100 despite his explanation.

VOTE TO IMPEACH MISSISSIPPI'S TAX BOARD CHAIRMAN

Jackson, Miss., April 11 (Friday).—(AP)—The Mississippi house of representatives voted, 97 to 35, early today to impeach Lester C. Franklin, chairman of the state tax commission.

Fourteen articles of impeachment were brought against Franklin in connection with allegations that he "tipped" Warren Bros. Paving company of Boston of a contemplated $10,000,000 anti-trust suit against that firm by supplying their attorneys with reports of a bill of complaint prepared by the state.

A legislative committee recently investigated charges that Warren Bros. gave Carl Marshall, an attorney, $80,000 to settle the proposed suit. Marshall declined to answer questions as to whether state officials received any part of the $80,000. He was ordered to jail by the legislature for contempt and subsequently pardoned by Gov. Bilbo. The legislature declined to recognize the pardon and demanded his arrest, but Marshall left the state.

Woman Forces Bandit Car Into Post; Cripples Robber

Mrs. Blaine J. Barry, wife of a printer living at 4450 North Hermitage avenue, foiled two highwaymen and crippled one when they attempted, with their sedan, to force her car to the curb in Main street near McCormick road in Niles, yesterday. Instead of obeying their command to park her car and turn over her purse, Mrs. Barry stepped on the accelerator, shunting the other machine against a lamp post. The leg of one of the robbers was mangled between the scraping fenders as he stepped out to seize Mrs. Barry. She sped away and notified the Niles police, who found the lamp post cracked and the robbers' car gone.

William E. Blair, Noted Gas Engine Designer, Dies

Buffalo, N. Y., April 10.—(AP)—William E. Blair, nationally known as an authority on gas engine design, died tonight. He is said to have designed the first "V" type motor ever built in America.

PICK TRIBUNE PERSONALITY GIRL BLOSSOM QUEEN

Jackson, Mich., April 10.—[Special.]—Miss Janet Gay, 18, recent winner of third prize in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S personality contest, was named Miss Jackson in the blossom festival queen contest here tonight. Miss Gay was chosen from among 26 candidates. The judges selected Miss Gay on qualifications of beauty, poise, and personality.

Mayor Milo Hulliberger presented Miss Gay with a huge bouquet and congratulated her. Miss Gay will now compete for the title of queen of blossom festival at Benton Harbor and St. Joseph May 5-10. The queen will be selected at Benton Harbor next Tuesday. Miss Gay was graduated from Jackson High school last February. She plans to enter the University of Michigan next September.

HOSE TROUNCE GIANTS, 14 TO 8; GET SIX HOMERS

Don't Cheer; N. Y. Has 3 Chances Yet.

Frasier Quits Sox?

VICTOR FRASIER, whom Donie Bush regarded as his best recruit pitcher, last night was quoted in dispatches from his home in Mount Enterprise, Tex., as saying that he would not play with the White Sox this year. Secretary Harry Grabiner said yesterday that Frasier had visited Chicago recently and informed Sox officials that he was in no condition to play, due to an injured hip.. Subsequently he went home to rest. Grabiner said that there was no difficulty between Frasier and his employers, and that there was no intention of releasing him.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Fort Wayne, Ind., April 10.—Don't cheer for our White Sox tonight, boys. They are a sinful lot and if things keep up, they'll be the death of a lot of swell New York fellows. The panic has been on for several days, as you know, but this afternoon it was ghastly. The score was 14 to 8 in favor of Chicago, of course, and it might as well have been 14 to 3, if a note of levity hadn't entered the game in the eighth, causing the Sox to kid the once proud McGraws right up to a point where the National leaguers thought they were going to get in the ball game.

Among the terrifying things that happened were home runs by Kamm, Reynolds, Harris, Clancy, Autry, and Jolley, a triple by Harris and doubles by Jolley, Reynolds and Clancy. Of course, it was an awful trimming for the New York men, but it cannot be said that the Gothamites were entirely unprepared for the blow.

Bancroft and Meusel Play.

After taking trimmings from the Sox on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday it dawned on the management that there is something of a derth of high class talent around the Giant camp and Coaches Bancroft and Meusel, two fine gentlemen, though a bit spavined, were injected into the lineup in quest of victory.

All of the Sox homers were impressive, but Jolley's caused a shudder among the capacity crowd. He hit a lineman atop a telephone pole across the street from the center field flagpole. The workman whirled about his perch, but his life was saved by a safety strap. Another near casualty was the result of Reynolds' double. It hit a boy atop the center field fence, but the kid held on. Manager Bush contended it was Carl's second homer, but the umpires adjudged it simply a double because it bounced the wrong way off the kid's ribs.

There's no need of rubbing it in with a detailed account of this latest New York humiliation, but we want to tell you about the way the unkind Comiskeys toyed with the Giants in the eighth.

Dutch Has His Little Joke.

The Giants were trailing 9 to 3 going into the eighth. Dutch Henry, who had allowed six hits up to this point, laughingly permitted Leach to get a single and score on Lindstrom's triple. Dutch still was chortling when Terry doubled, scoring Lindstrom, and he became convulsed when he walked Ott. Old Dave Bancroft came up to bat and Dutch let him hit one, scoring Terry and putting Ott on third. Marshall then singled, scoring Ott, and Bancroft stopped at second. O'Farrell doubled, scoring Bancroft, Marshall stopping at third. With no one out, men on second and third, and the score was 9 to 8, Manager Bush decided the joke had gone far enough and called in Hal McKain.

Sox Take 'Em Back.

Here's what Hal did. Made Pinch Hitter Mostil pop to Kamm. Struck out Meusel. Made Leach ground gently to Kerr. Then to show that everything had been in the spirit of jest, the Sox went to bat in their end of the inning and took back the five runs. It was in this inning that Autry and Jolley made their home runs and Reynolds made the double which should have been marked up as his second homer.

The score of the spring series now is White Sox, 9; Giants, 5, with three games to play.

After tomorrow's contest in Toledo, both clubs will take a special train to Chicago, where they will play at Comiskey park Saturday and Sunday.

THE GUMPS—THE BIG MOGUL

WHO'LL PROTECT HARD WORKING BALL PLAYERS?

There's No Union to Take the Job.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, April 10.—The baseball clubs are hobbling home to convalesce from their spring training and, by the time the season begins next Monday, the matters of salary and conditions of labor which have been agitated in press again this year will have been forgotten.

JUDGE LANDIS.

Judge K. M. Landis was going to do something really drastic about the relation between the players and the magnates eight or nine years ago but the courts are never impetuous and the habit of years on the bench still persists. As matters stand, the contract between the player and the baseball firm is not binding on the firm and the athletes do business under a boycott.

A case of the moment is that of Edd Roush, the Indiana dirt farmer and center fielder of the Giants. Mr. Roush received $23,000 last year but was offered only $15,000 this year and that with a proviso that if he were hurt in the performance of his work the contract might be readjusted in favor of the firm. He rejected the proposition on both counts and is devoting himself to the work of digging a cellar by hand on his acres at Oakland City, Ind.

May Be Costly Cellar.

Thus, the cellar on Mr. Roush's farm may cost as much per cubic yard of digging as though it had been a municipal project, executed by contractors with political connections. With common labor to be had for $4.50 a day, he will forego a $15,000 season in the baseball business to do it himself.

I am strangely calm about the grievances of all farmers, understanding that the rural vote is responsible for the policy of poisoning the alcoholic beverages of the city people, and still less excited about the plight of a farmer who can afford to turn down $15,000 a year. But the point is, that if the New York Giants had offered Mr. Roush no more than a nominal wage of $1 a year, he would have had no choice but to accept the dollar or retire from the game.

The baseball player must accept the wages offered him and those who refuse are subject to suspension on the opening of the regular season and debarred from seeking employment in the same line of work elsewhere. That is, all the other firms in the baseball trust are forbidden, by common agreement, to offer him employment, which would be known as tampering.

Fans' Interest Peculiar.

The public always has taken an interest in the labor troubles of the baseball players, which is a curious thing in itself, because the patrons of the drama, who include most of the patrons of the ball clubs, never concern themselves about the amount of money which Mr. Jake Shubert or Mr. F. Ziegfeld pays his chorus ladies, comedians, or juvenile leads.

However, these entertainers, who are in reality the colleagues of the baseball players in the amusement business, have their unions — the Chorus Equity or the Actors' Equity, as the case may be—which insist upon a standard form of contract in which their rights are protected.

If a chorus girl should decline to accept $1 a week from Mr. Ziegfeld, she would still have the right to proceed a few blocks up the street and negotiate with Mr. Shubert, Mr. George White, or Mr. Earl Carroll, without prejudice. If any of these gentlemen should refuse to employ her on the ground that she belonged to Mr. Ziegfeld, the Chorus Equity would be quite likely to call out the

REMEMBER THIS FAR BACK?

Pop Anson, rated the greatest first baseman in baseball history, ventured into politics after quitting the diamond. Here he is resting on his mount after a political demonstration in the loop when he was running for city clerk on the Democratic ticket. Anson was elected.

BRUNDAGE OPENS INVESTIGATION OF N. Y. MAT VERDICT

Avery Brundage, president of the Amateur Athletic union, yesterday began an investigation into the A. A. U.'s championship wrestling match in which Red Krogh, former University of Chicago star and Big Ten champion, was disqualified in New York last Saturday.

Brundage asked for full details of the match, which was awarded to Glenn Stafford of the New York A. C., after reading Westbrook Pegler's account of the match in yesterday's CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

"I don't know what we can do about it," Brundage said last night. "But I have asked the referee for a complete report, and I have made similar requests of the New York A. A. U. officials. If we find that Krogh was the victim of any unfairness we will take action."

After Krogh was disqualified and the match was awarded to Stafford the additional points gave the national wrestling championship to the New York A. C. If Krogh had won the match—and, according to every account, he was far ahead when disqualified—the championship would have been won by Oklahoma A. & M.

It has been further charged that Stafford was seeded in the bracket where he had to wrestle only his clubmates in the matches leading up to the title struggle, while Krogh was forced to beat all the best wrestlers in the other bracket.

Brundage declared he would also investigate these charges.

The former Maroon star was defending his 175 pound championship when he was disqualified.

Summer Weather Aids Sale of Sox and Cubs Tickets

The first visit of midseason baseball weather yesterday brought with it a marked increase in the sale of tickets for the opening games of the Cubs and Sox. Tickets for Comiskey park opener against Cleveland Tuesday and also for the exhibition games against the Giants tomorrow and Sunday are on sale at the Hub, while Spalding's are handling the sale for the Cubs' first home game, which brings St. Louis to Wrigley field April 22.

Home game schedules for the Cubs and Sox are now available at THE TRIBUNE Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street.

TURNESA SENDS BRITISH TROPHY BACK OVERSEAS

New York, April 10.—[Special.]—Joe Turnesa of Elmsford, who came within a stroke of tying Bobby Jones in the 1926 national open, is sending the trophy he won last year by capturing the British professional 1,000 guinea tournament back to Great Britain.

Turnesa, as a member of the Ryder cup team last year, became the first American professional to win the event, and he did it only after a series of hard fought matches. But he's not going back this year to defend his title and consequently he has cabled Leeds that his prize is being crated and will be on the high seas by the end of the week.

DISBARMENT OF DAWSON CHIEF TOPIC ON LINKS

Johnny Says He Did Not Expect Interference.

Pinehurst, N. C., April 10.—[Special.]—Johnny Dawson's disbarment as an amateur golfer and his consequent withdrawal from north and south play here after competing in two days of qualifying play continued to be the sole topic of conversation here today.

Group Makes Statement.

The committee in charge of the tournament today issued the following statement: "The committee in charge of the north and south amateur championship was not aware at the time of inviting Mr. John W. Dawson to play in the event that he was ineligible for amateur competition under U. S. G. A. rulings.

"After two days of qualifying play Mr. William C. Fownes Jr. received a letter from Mr. Prescott S. Bush, secretary of the U. S. G. A., stating that Mr. Dawson was not eligible for amateur competition and expressing surprise that his entry was accepted. The purport of the letter was laid before the committee, and as a result Mr. Dawson immediately and voluntarily withdrew from the competition."

Popular sentiment is that Dawson was made the victim of unpleasant publicity in that he was banned in the middle of private tournament play after attracting attention by his scoring.

Dawson "Dazed."

When interviewed here today Dawson stated that he was "in a daze." He said he was given to understand by U. S. G. A. men that he was "not to be interfered with in amateur golf competition" provided he stayed out of the national amateur.

George Voight, defending champion of the tourney, shot the tricky No. 3 course in 67 to beat Phillips Finlay of Redlands, Cal., 4 and 3. The next best mark of the day was produced by C. Ross Somerville of London, Ont.

Purdue Adds Hawkeyes to Grid Schedule

Lafayette, Ind., April 10.—[Special.]—Purdue's Big Ten championship football squad today added Iowa to the list of conference foes it will meet next fall. The Boilermakers will play at Iowa City on Oct. 18.

Addition of Iowa to the Purdue schedule gives the Boilermakers six conference games next fall, five coming in a row.

Negotiations for the game were started shortly after Iowa was reinstated in the conference this spring. The Boilermakers had a game scheduled with a non-conference foe, Lombard, for the date Iowa wanted. In view of the proposed consolidation of Lombard with Knox college, arrangements were made by Director of Athletics N. A. Kellogg with the Lombard officials to play a "B" team game here on the same date. Purdue's acceptance of the Hawkeye date was taken here as a friendly gesture toward Iowa in its effort to rejoin the conference in all sports.

Following the opening game of the season with Baylor, Purdue will meet Michigan, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Chicago on successive Saturdays. Purdue's other two foes will be Butler and Indiana.

IOWA SHIFTS DATES.

Iowa City, Ia., April 10.—(AP)—E. H. Lauer, director of athletics at the University of Iowa, today announced that the game scheduled with Purdue, Oct. 18, will replace one previously scheduled with George Washington university of Washington, D. C. Lauer said arrangements had been made with George Washington for a game here in 1931 and a return game at Washington in 1932 as a substitute for the 1930 contest.

McGraw Trades Two Players for Wallie Roettger

New York, April 10.—(AP)—The New York Giants today traded Eddie Farrell, infielder, and George Fisher, outfielder, to the St. Louis Cardinals for Walter Roettger, outfielder.

Roettger joined the Cardinals in 1927, after playing with Syracuse, in the International league, and Houston, in the Texas league. He was hitting .341 in 1928 when he broke a leg July 4. Last season he played only 79 games, and never struck his hitting stride, finishing with an average of .253.

Farrell has been with the Giants and Boston Braves since he was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He joined the Giants in the summer of 1926 and was traded to Boston the next year. Last year another trade brought him back to New York. Farrell batted well in his first two years in the majors, but slumped to .215 in 1928 and .210 last year.

Fisher was purchased from Buffalo of the International league, where he batted .339 last season, his hits including 36 home runs.

N. B. A. LOOKS INTO CARNERA'S RING CONQUESTS

The National Boxing association yesterday launched its investigation into the one round knockout tour of the United States rings by Primo Carnera, Italy's man mountain heavyweight.

Its investigating committee, composed of Secretary Walter Liginger of the Wisconsin athletic commission and Chairman John V. Clinnin of the Illinois commission, sent out questionnaires to commissions in all the 14 states Carnera has appeared, requesting leaders of each to investigate thoroughly whether there were any indications of collusion between Carnera's manager and those of any of his various opponents.

Fields to Defend Title Against Thompson May 16

Cleveland, O., April 10.—(AP)—Jackie Fields will defend his welterweight title against Jack Thompson in a 15 round match at Detroit May 16, it was announced here today.

Tut, Flowers Fight Tonight at Milwaukee

Milwaukee, Wis., April 10.—[Special.]—A capacity throng, numbering around 8,300, will greet King Tut, lightweight title contender, and Bruce Flowers, New Rochelle, N. Y., Negro, when they climb through the Auditorium ring tomorrow night to engage in Milwaukee's first mixed prize fight in more than twenty years. Promoter Tom Andrews is responsible for the attendance estimate.

Tut and Flowers, signed for ten rounds or less, wound up their workouts this afternoon. They will weigh in at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

ORDERS MANDELL TO FIGHT.

The Illinois state athletic commission yesterday ordered Sammy Mandell to defend his lightweight title against King Tut, Minneapolis challenger, within a "reasonable time" or run the risk of losing recognition by the National Boxing association as champion of his class.

The commission's demand was made to the champion after it received Tut's challenge and a forfeit of $2,500 yesterday. A registered letter was sent to Mandell, and if he does not bind the match within 30 days, the Illinois ring body will request that the N. B. A. oust him as its recognized champion.

Tut's challenge was brought before the commission by Walter Liginger, secretary of the Wisconsin commission.

Former Cub Hurler Dies Following Year's Illness

Huntington, W. Va., April 10.—(AP)—Wayland Dean, 28 years old, formerly a major league baseball pitcher, died at the home of his parents here today following a year's illness which forced his retirement from baseball.

Dean pitched for the Philadelphia, New York, and Chicago National league clubs after serving Louisville of the American association and Dayton of the Central league. Dean was sold to the New York Giants by Louisville in 1924 for $50,000, and in 1925 New York sent him to the Phillies with Jack Bentley in exchange for Jimmy Ring. Philadelphia sold him to the Chicago Cubs in 1927.

He was afflicted with tuberculosis.

BRUINS POUND 2 KANSAS CITY HURLERS, 16 TO 1

Blake Gives 3 Hits in 7 Innings.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., April 10.—Sheriff Blake almost elected himself today to the job of throwing the season's opener against the St. Louis Cardinals next Tuesday. Given the word to step out and show what he could do, he baffled the Kansas City Blues on three hits in seven innings and then retired because tight pitching was no longer necessary. By that time his Cub mates had rolled up the better part of a score that at the finish had them in front by a William Jennings Bryan count of 16 to 1.

There was nothing unusual about the manner in which the Cubs clouted the ball because they have been doing that steadily. But it was rather a welcome shock to have Blake come out of the rut occupied by most of the regular hurlers during the stay in California.

Cubs Gather 21 Hits.

The Cubs piled up 21 hits. Six were off Dixie Davis, the ex-Brownie, and were good for four runs in five innings. Then Fette, who is supposed to be a future great, appeared and the major champions turned loose a salvo that scored seven in the sixth. Four of this cluster blossomed when, with the bags loaded, Riggs Stephenson whacked one over the fence. Young Fette also was handled roughly in the subsequent rounds.

Until the Cubs scored in the fourth they had performed no startling batting feats against the pitching of Davis. In three innings the ex-major leaguer yielded only one hit, a triple by Blair with one out in the first. It was followed by three strikes for Cuyler, a pass to Wilson and Stephenson's infield roller, which retired the side.

Scoring Starts in Fourth.

Two runs began to accumulate in the Cubs' fourth when Carlyle dropped Wilson's fly, letting Hack scoot as far as third. Stephenson cracked Davis' next pitch for a double down the right field line, Hack scoring. Stevie hustled home on Tolson's single to right. The next two batters furnished a couple of forceouts. Then Blake singled, and a pass to English jammed the corners, but Blair wasn't able to take advantage of the opportunity. He lifted to center.

Two more Cub tallies in the fifth were picked up without much lost motion. Cuyler tripled as a means of avenging the three strikes slipped over on him in the first round. The spectators made a few unkind remarks to Wilson when he fanned, but Stevie followed with a fly to the outfield which let Cuyler score. Then Tolson accounted for the second run. He hoisted the ball high into the air and the wind carried it across the left field barrier.

Bell Starts 7 Run Spree.

A little of everything in the way of attack was injected into the sixth when seven Cubs strolled over the plate at the expense of Fette. Bell began with a triple, and Blake's double scored him. English's two bagger registered Blake. English rode home on a single by Blair. Cuyler singled and Wilson walked to fill the bases. Stephenson cleaned the bases when he sent his homer over the distant left center field wall. The rally died down a bit on outs by Tolson and Hartnett, but broke out anew on Bell's and Blake's second hits of the inning. However, no more scored.

Three hits in the seventh added a couple of more runs to the Cubs' total. Blair led off with a double, his third hit of the game. He scored when Cuyler singled to left. After Wilson had fanned for the second time, Cuyler stole second and scored on a hit by Tolson. Cuyler, Stevie and Tolson came through with hits in the ninth to hang up the last three Cub runs.

President William Veeck joined the Cub party this morning.

Hoovers Receive Season Tickets to Senator Games

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—President and Mrs. Hoover today were presented with season tickets to American league baseball games in Washington by Clark Griffith, president of the Washington ball club. The chief executive, who will attend the opening game with the Boston Red Sox on April 14, was invited to throw out the first ball of the season.

MAHAFFEY SHUTS OUT PHILLIES AS ATHLETICS WIN

Champions Score 10 in First 3 Innings.

Philadelphia, Pa., April 10.—(AP)—While Lee Roy Mahaffey kept the Phillies scoreless, the Athletics feasted off two of the National leaguers' pitchers today and took the lead in the home series with an easy 10 to 0 victory.

Mahaffey pitched all nine innings and blanked the heavy hitting Phils with eight scattered hits. Johnny Milligan gave the A's runs with passes and hit batsmen, and Collins was walloped solidly, the pair yielding the A's all their runs in the first three innings. Pitcher Harry Smythe entered the game in the fifth and held the A's to two hits. Score:

Athletics	442 000 00*—10	10	0

Batteries: Milligan, Collins, Smythe and McCurdy; Mahaffey and Cochrane.

BROOKLYN, 3; RED SOX, 1.

New York, April 10.—(AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers made their 1930 debut to the home fans today with a 3 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox in the first of a two game series with the American league club. Horace Lisenbee went the route for the Sox and allowed only six hits. Three of them came in the second inning, when the Robins counted all of their runs. Score:

Boston	000 000 100—1	6	1

YANKS WHIP CHATTANOOGA.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 10.—(AP)—The New York Yankees came from behind today to bolster the weak pitching by Pipgras and Pennock and defeat Chattanooga of the Southern association 8 to 6.

Babe Ruth, limping about in left field and unable to chase some of the drives that came in his direction, was charged with one error and credited with a triple, two walks and two proxy runners left on bases. Score:

PIRATES LOSE TO MOBILE.

Mobile, Ala., April 10.—(AP)—Mobile of the Southern association defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5, today and made a clean sweep of the two game exhibition series. The Pirates, with four errors, gave their pitcher poor support. Heinie Meine went the full route in the box.

WASHINGTON, 8; BRAVES, 1.

Richmond, Va., April 10.—(AP)—Washington had little trouble defeating the revamped Boston Braves here this afternoon, pounding out 12 hits for an 8 to 1 victory.

Leon (Goose) Goslin, who recently ended his "holdout siege" by signing the Senators' contract, smacked out two singles and a home run.

TIGERS WIN DESPITE ERRORS.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 10.—(AP)—In spite of four errors, three of them by Westling at shortstop, the Detroit Tigers defeated the Toronto International league Maple Leafs, 7 to 2, in an exhibition game here today.

BRAVES' OWNER PRAISES GRIMES; TRADE HINTED

Boston, Mass., April 10.—(AP)—President Emil Fuchs of the Boston Braves today predicted that Burleigh Grimes, right handed pitching ace obtained from the Pittsburgh Pirates, would be of great assistance to Manager Bill McKechnie in developing young pitchers.

"We feel," Fuchs said, "that Grimes' skill and knowledge will not only be of service to himself, but also will be instrumental in assisting Manager McKechnie in developing the younger pitchers as well as the youthful prospects he is retaining in hopes of eventually bringing a winning combination to Boston."

Anson Picked as Greatest First Baseman

BY IRWIN M. HOWE.

Since 1900, when the American league was established, there have been sixteen major league teams in operation every year, most of the time playing 154 games, yet for my first baseman I am going back to a man who retired at the close of the 1897 season.

Since that date the National league has had Chance, Konetchy, Merkle, Daubert, Grimm, Bottomley, Terry, Kelley, and other high class men, while in the American, Harry Davis, Chase, McInnis, Hoblitzell, Carr, Tom Jones, Gehrig, Blue, Sheely, and Judge have been brilliant performers, but I believe Adrian Constantine Anson was greater than any of them. I think, too, that "Pop" outclassed by smaller or greater margins all his contemporaries, among whom were Brouthers, Connor, Comiskey, Orr, Reilly, Morrill, McKinnon, Beckley, and toward the end of his career, Tenney, Bransfield, McGann, and Doyle.

Baseball was young, indeed when Babe Anson signed to play third base for the Forest City club of Rockford, Ill., for the 1871 season. The next year he went to the Athletics of Philadelphia as third baseman and "change" catcher. There are no authentic records available for his first four years' service, but he had by 1875 gained fame far and wide as a remarkably heavy hitter.

Bats Below .300 Only Twice in Career.

However, records are available for the succeeding twenty-three seasons during which he led the National league in batting four time and fell below the .300 deadline but twice, 1891 and 1892, when as a result of disastrous wars the cares of management fell heavily upon him. Anson was manager of the Chicago White Stockings [predecessors of the Cubs] for twenty-one years, 1877-1897 inclusive. During the first eleven seasons of the National league, Anson's team won the flag five times and he was never lower than sixth in the ranking of the batters.

While at the head of the old White Stockings Anson introduced some of the greatest players the National league has known, including Jimmy Ryan, Hugh Duffy, George Van Haltren, Big Bill Lange, Clarke Griffith, John K. Tener, later governor of Pennsylvania and president of the National league; James J. Callahan, Bill Dahlen, Mal Kittredge, Mark Baldwin, and Billy Sunday, the evangelist. All these men except Sunday, were champions of the first rank and came in green to be developed by Anson.

Anson's record as given herein is ample proof of any claim that may be made as to his prowess as a batter while his contemporaries of whom but a corporal's guard are left are unanimous that his superior as a hard and timely hitter has yet to be seen.

His Only Orders Were "Play the Game."

When "Cap" began his career in the National league the pitcher was but forty-five feet from the home plate and during the first twelve or fourteen years never farther than fifty feet. Consequently .300 hitters were scarce. Incidentally, too, the scoring was much more strict than it is today, but with those handicaps against the batter it still was a praiseworthy feat for a pitcher to set Anson down on strikes.

No matter what the situation, it is likely that Cap expected to get a hit every time he stepped to the plate in his long career, for if ever a man possessed confidence (not conceit) and craft also, that man was Anson. If the pitcher did not get the first two pitches over for strikes it was his own fault, for no matter who he was or how great his reputation for control Cap refused to swing until the third strike, and all the hurlers knew it.

Anson was six feet two inches tall and weighed 220 pounds. Naturally, he was not fast, but neither was he a truck horse. He ran the bases with excellent judgment as Ruth does today and as he has done for years. The members of the old champions of the middle eighties said they would much prefer to see Anse attempt to steal second when success might tie or win a game than to see the same feat undertaken by Billy Sunday, who was reputed to be a ten second sprinter.

The team, which included the great "King" Kelly, Pfeffer, Burns, Williamson, and Clarkson, was a smart aggregation, every member of which could be relied upon to do the right thing at the right time, but in critical situations they always waited for Cap's admonition, "Play the game." It was about the only order ever given to batter or base runner by who ever might be coaching, including Cap. But it did not mean that the batter was to do the same thing.

He might be expected to bunt, to play hit and run, to steal, to pass a batter (if the remark was directed to a pitcher), or to put it over the plate, or, as Fred Pfeffer once remarked,, it also meant that the pitcher was not to throw the ball two feet outside the plate to Ed Delehanty or Roger Connor in a pinch unless he wanted to lose the game, for those two gents, like Dalrymple of their own team dearly loved to lose a wild pitch.

Trains Team to Study Every Rule.

Anson's team used to follow a practice that would save some of the present day big leaguers embarrassment occasionally if it were followed. Every man on the team knew the rules from beginning to end. They felt that they had to know them and as the rules were changed frequently during the first twenty years of the National league and as there were no meetings of umpires presided over by the league head to lay down uniform interpretations of new or disputed points, it behooved a man to know what would be done in certain emergencies.

So Anse and his gang would meet first and get the new rules [if any] by heart. Then they would casually seek out each umpire and propound a hypothetical question and get a ruling. Having it, they would know just how Odlin, Decker or Lane would rule. It was important, because they did not always rule the same on the same kind of plays.

Fred Tenney, who starred for the Boston champions in the late '90s and for the Giants later on, runs Anson a close second as the best first baseman of all time. Tenney was a far better fielder than Cap and a clever base runner, but his batting while good averaged 75 points below the Chicago manager. For a few years Jack Doyle, now a scout for the Cubs, ranked even with Tenney.

By far the best fielding first sacker of all time was Comiskey. Commy was a baseball genius and revolutionized the style of first base play when he went to St. Louis. He also suggested improvements in defense for other positions. His pitchers were the first to cover a bag while he fielded a ground ball and other innovations he made affected the game from that day on.

Comiskey Rated Best Fielder of All First Basemen.

Comiskey had the advantage over such present day stars as Judge, Grimm, Blue and Bottomley because he could field as well as any of them and could take poor throws better. He was 6 feet 2 inches in his stockings and had a long reach. In the single matter of handling thrown balls, Earl Sheely may have been Commy's superior. With this exception, the master of the White Sox outclasses all first basemen as fielders. He and his men also knew the rules just as Anson and his team did, and the Browns of St. Louis, rival champions forty-five years ago to Anson's team were known far and wide for their clever work afield and their ability to take any advantage of rulings which might come up.

The Chicago club released Anson to New York about January first, 1898. Everybody but Cap knew that was only the easy way to let him out, and Comiskey, who had previously retired fro mthe majors to found the Western league, afterward enlarged to the American, tried to get Anson to go to Minneapolis and take the franchise there. It would have been a profitable move, but Cap declined. His ventures during the rest of his life were unprofitable financially, but he never lost the love of hosts of friends "who knew him when." All his actions on and off the ball field, whether he ventured into business, politics, the stage, or back again into sport [all of which he tried,] were inspired by that all-embracing slogan with which he guided his team through twenty tumultuous years: "Play the Game."

This was the fifth of a series of ten articles by Mr. Howe. He's picking an all time all star team. See tomorrow's Tribune for another selection.

RED POLOISTS BEAT BLUES AS BANKERS WATCH

Aiken, S. C., April 10.—[Special.]—A rally staged in the last two chukkers this afternoon gave the Red polo team a 10 to 8 victory over the Blues in a match game on the Harriman field. The Blues took a big lead at the start of the match, but consistent playing on the part of the Reds gave them the game in the end.

The game was part of the program of the annual joint meeting of groups of the Georgia and South Carolina Bankers' associations, the bankers witnessing the match. A spectator was Ty Cobb, baseball player, who came over with several bankers from his home in Augusta, Ga. The lineup:

There's No Union to Take the Job.

casts of all his shows and possibly call out the carpenters, the electricians, and the saxophone players of the orchestra, as a demonstration of strength.

Producers Could Do It, Too.

I do not mean to insist that a producer is bound to give a chorus lady a job in such circumstances, because chorus ladies, like baseball players, are dependent on their legs for their livelihood. Mr. Shubert would be quite justified in saying, "Nothing doing, because the legs are too skinny" or "The legs don't get around as fast as they used to; try Coney Island."

In fact Mr. Ziegfeld would not even be allowed to offer a chorus lady $1 a week in the first place, because the chorus ladies have a minimum wage agreement with the producers, who know the Chorus Equity will protect the working girl.

Having no union, the baseball players are plainly at a disadvantage. I have somewhere an old prospectus of a players' union, organized about 1921, and a roster of members which, in the first enthusiastic days of the union's existence, included all the prominent major leaguers. But gradually, the strength of the union was waived out of the majors and eventually out of the minors to wind up in the cigar store business and the gas station business back in their old home towns, such as Oakland City, Ind. Recruiting was not maintained and in time the baseball players' union went the way of all neighborhood improvement associations, press clubs and current events societies.

It may be a bit fantastic to say that a baseball firm would offer a $20,000 player as little as one dollar a year. A player who is worth $20,000 a year must be worth anywhere from $50,000 to $150,000 as an item of property in the assets of the firm and no reasonable business man would cancel an asset of such value out of spite.

Not All Are Reasonable.

But although baseball magnates are thorough business men, not all of them are reasonable and some of them on the contrary have shown a remarkable capacity for meanness and vindictive persecution. In any case there has never been a reasonable minimum wage in their business, below which an athlete might appeal to Judge Landis or a league president or any one else.

This is a matter which seems to have slipped from the judge's mind because he plainly stated when he accepted his job as the great arbiter of the baseball business that he was the friend of the athlete and would be inclined to side with him in all conflicts between capital and labor, if baseball playing can be called labor. Whether he ever did intend to do anything about the standard contract or not I do not know, but inasmuch as he draws his wages from the employers and not from the athletes one may easily realize how the problem escaped his attention.

Now and again young graduates of the law schools break into the baseball business for more or less extended careers and when they read over their articles of agreement they doubtless marvel at the thoughtfulness of the attorneys for the magnates who devised this document in the first place. It concedes the player no rights and no redress while reserving all rights for the magnates, including the power to sit as judge, prosecutor, complaining witness and jury and to assess fines.

Players Soon Learn.

The spirit of the contract has been responsible, more than anything else, for the decline of the combative spirit which Mr. McGraw laments from time to time. The athletes are thrown into a class together and given to understand that the magnates are another class, opposed to them, with the means to reduce their pay by common action or to whisper them out, or worry them out of the game by petty persecutions.

Professional hockey players have not yet reasoned this problem out, but when they do they will be no more eager to disable one another with their blades than the ball players are to cut their colleagues down with their spikes. The ladies of Mr. Ziegfeld's shows do not regard it as their duty to the boss to throw acid on their colleagues in Mr. White's shows or place pebbles in their dancing shoes to give them bunions.

Mr. Roush's $15,000 cellar interests me strangely. He already had one cellar and I wonder why a dirt farmer in the Indiana prohibition country needs an extra one at $15,000.

VANDERPOOL HAS NO DIFFICULTY IN BOWIE WIN

Bowie, Md., April 10.—[Special.]—Further proof of the class of Mrs. M. P. Allen's Vanderpool was given here today when the two year old son of Campfire-Bramble Rose won the Kindergarten stakes, Bowie's big feature for juveniles, without half trying. It was the fifth consecutive victory for Mrs. Allen's undefeated two year old and he has to his credit two of the year's early stakes, as the Miami juvenile fell to him before coming north.

The five that ran against Vanderpool gave him practically no opposition, even though the Rancocas stable's Schooner was within a length and a half of the winner at the end of the four furlongs. Four lengths behind finished the Dorwood stable's Golden Legend, and then came Sonny Fronk, Airliner, and Gay Caballero in the order named. Vanderpool carried 124 pounds, which was conceding nine to Schooner and more to the others, and won in :47 flat. This is the fastest time of the meeting.

ERIN DUE FOR TOAST IF JOYCE COLT WINS DERBY

Mr. Pat Joyce, the big railroad magnate, has set Col. Matt Winn, the race horse man, to worrying.

Mr. Joyce, whose recent acquisition of control of the Chicago Great Western railroad was detailed several days ago in the financial section, really has only one overpowering ambition. That is to win the Kentucky Derby.

Two years ago, in furtherance of this ambition, Mr. Joyce purchased a colt, christened it Dick O'Hara after an old friend in Dublin, and hired a trainer.

Dick O'Hara is entered in the Kentucky Derby.

Last night Mr. Joyce telephoned his trainer at Lexington. "How's Dick O'Hara coming along for the Derby?" asked Mr. Joyce. "He's a good colt," says the trainer, "but, Mr. Joyce, he can't run further than three-quarters of a mile."

"You may be wrong," says Mr. Joyce, "anyway I don't pay a trainer to be a pessimist. Get Dick O'Hara ready and run him in the Derby. That's final."

"And now, Mr. Winn," continues Mr. Joyce, "I want to tell you something. That Dick O'Hara is going to win your Derby and I'm giving warning right now that if that Englishman, the grand old earl of Derby, whom you've invited over and plan to make a big to-do over, tries to present me with the Derby cup, as sure as my name's Pat Joyce, I'll appear in a green suit, wearing a green derby. And when the good old earl addresses me, I'll tip the little green lid and say 'Howdy, Earl, faith, but don't you wish the old country could stage a race like this?' And if that doesn't stump his earlship, I'll reach out and lift his topper right off his head and say: 'Here's to old Ireland.'"

Mr. Winn knows Mr. Joyce. That's why he's worrying.

HUSKIES, BEARS CLASH IN 23D REGATTA TODAY

Wind Up Training on Calm Waters.

Seattle, Wash., April 10.—(AP)—With every man in perfect condition for the twenty-third regatta between the Universities of Washington and California tomorrow, the Husky and Bear crews tapered off their training for the event with local workouts on placid waters today.

Perfect rowing weather was forecast by the weather bureau last night, but a slight change in conditions today brought the possibility that the Lake Washington course might be ruffled by a light north wind.

This, rowing experts agreed, would slow down the time of the shells and make it unlikely that the record set in 1916 by a Washington shell of 15 minutes 58 seconds for the three mile course would be broken.

The possibility of rough waters did not affect the relative chances for victory, as both Washington and California crews have had plenty of experience with such conditions during the practice season.

Both Bear and Husky coaches appeared optimistic of the outcome of the race, but Russ Nagler, California freshman mentor, was the only one who was willing to openly express confidence of victory for his charges. Tom Bolles, in charge of the Washington yearlings, said his boys "have a good chance."

Al Ulbrickson, Washington head coach, and Ky Ebright, heading the California staff, predicted that the varsity and jayvee contests would be close.

The freshman race over a two mile course was set for 3 p. m., with the jayvee and varsity events following at hourly intervals. If the water is too rough the races may be postponed until Saturday, but that possibility was regarded remote.

Arrange Golf, Net Meets for Illinois Preps

The Illinois High School Athletic association has announced the establishing of tennis and golf meets to be held in various districts throughout the state May 3. District golf meet participants who score 20 or less above par will be eligible for the state championship to be held at Urbana May 17. At the same time, schools will send entries limited to two doubles and two singles teams to a state tennis tournament.

The announcement sets a precedent in state high school athletic history and for the first time places the two minor sports in a position to command interest throughout the state. For several years college golf and tennis have seen wide interest, but for the most part the colleges have had to recruit performers from the metropolitan areas where the games have taken root among the boys of high school age.

Track and field meets will be held in the various districts on May 10.

Tennis district meets will be held at Benton, Bridgeport, Collinsville, Effingham, Hoopeston, Joliet, La Salle, Moline, Monmouth, Normal, Oak Park, Rockford and Springfield.

Golf meets take place at Arlington Heights, Belleville, Benton, Bridgeport, Effingham, Eureka, Hoopeston, Jacksonville, Joliet, La Salle, Moline, Monmouth, Pontiac and Rockford.

Play in both sports is limited to male contestants.

FIDEL LA BARBA STARTS TRAINING FOR TAYLOR BOUT

Fidel La Barba, retired flyweight champion who meets Bud Taylor of Terre Haute, Ind., in the windup of Promoter Jack Dempsey's boxing show at the Coliseum April 21, began training yesterday at Kid Howard's gym. Taylor, who battles Paul Wangley in Minneapolis tonight, will arrive Sunday to work at Barry's gym.

La Barba has improved vastly, his manager, George Blake, said yesterday, since entering the ranks of the featherweights. Blake pointed out that the coast fighter weakened himself considerably by making weight for Kid Chocolate and Earl Mastro at 118 pounds. La Barba has won two starts as a 126 pounder, scoring decision victories over Ignacio Fernando and Santiago Zorilla. He will meet Kid Chocolate in New York May 16.

Bowen, Calumet, Lake View Win Prep Practice Games

Bowen, Calumet, and Lake View were the victories in prep practice baseball games yesterday. Pitcher Earl Orr's home run with Catcher Spiedel on base in the eighth inning gave Bowen a 5 to 4 win over Whiting (Ind.) High at Bessemer park. Calumet defeated Lindblom, 4 to 3. Powers and Diehl held the losers to four hits. Ness scored the winning run for Calumet. Pitchers Beckway and Ganja of Lake View allowed Tuley only three hits, Lake View winning, 10 to 4. Kawalski and Weary contributed home runs.

Armour Defeats Morton in Baseball Opener, 6 to 1

Armour Tech opened its baseball season by defeating Morton of the Northern Illinois Junior college conference on the former's field yesterday, 6 to 1. Tied 1 all in the fifth inning, the Armour Tech nine rallied to make five runs in the seventh frame, while Pitcher Simpson held Morton hitless in the final two innings.

MOON MULLINS—SEVEN HUNDRED YEARS' BAD LUCK

In the WAKE of the NEWS

NIGHT BASEBALL.

NIGHT baseball on week days will be inaugurated by the Des Moines team of the Western league this season. The object, of course, is to secure increased attendance.

Increased attendance, where increased attendance is necessary to keep alive the sport, is about the only excuse The Wake can see for night baseball. Perhaps precedent and association of our national pastime with sunlight renders us prejudiced but night baseball would not seem like baseball to us.

This is not said in criticism of the Des Moines club. Minor leagues have their problems to make both ends meet. If Des Moines fans will attend night games in greater numbers than day games, that is their privilege and within the rights of the Des Moines club owners. Major league teams, located in populous cities, have no such problem. It is unlikely scheduled games at night ever will be played.

Several football teams have found night contests draw better than on Saturday afternoons. The larger colleges, who fill their stadia for important contests with a large demand for seats still unsatisfied, have not considered the question.

Generally speaking, all sports which may be played in daylight are better so played. The air is more favorable for players and spectators. Horse racing after sundown is prohibited by all turf organizations. Argument that working people cannot attend during the day is somewhat nullified by Saturday afternoon contests and in many sports by Sunday exhibitions.

No question of ethics is involved It is a matter of financial expediency.

Basketball Stalling.

Sir: Why legislate against stalling in basketball? It carries its own cure. Other things being equal, nothing can beat speed. Stalling adds variety, requires special skill and does not seem to keep the fans away.

Basketball is more strenuous than football, played by boys immature physically, and some respite should be allowed a team, especially during tournament play. In recent county meeting, the winning team played six games in four days. Whoever heard of a Big Ten team doing that? If you require prep fives to eliminate the stall, should not we then omit tournaments and limit games to say three every two weeks?—E. Jr.

SHELDON CLARK QUITS TODAY AS STADIUM HEAD

Sheldon Clark's resignation as president of the Chicago Stadium will be accepted when the Stadium directors hold their meeting this afternoon.

Mr. Clark announced some time ago he would retire at this time. Members of the Stadium executive committee were in session yesterday, and it is understood they made plans for the election of a successor to Mr. Clark, who, since last fall, has served as head of the organization without pay.

A majority of the directors last night indicated that Sidney C. Strotz, financial secretary of the corporation, will be elected to succeed Clark.

LEGION BOYS TRY OUT.

Tryouts and practice for the Junior American Legion baseball team, sponsored by Chicago and Northwestern Railway post, No. 430, will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, on Grant park diamond No. 1, just south of Seventh street and east of Michigan avenue. Boys 16 years of age and under from the families of Chicago and North Western employés are eligible for the team, which will enter the national junior baseball competition this summer.

GOLFERS

Since the season's opening of Pickwick Golf, two 18-hole courses, we have noticed a great many new players as well as the return of the old players who have played Pickwick for the past three years; evidently the Pickwick courses will be in greater demand this year than last year. Therefore, the management wishes to suggest to Associations or Organizations who contemplate holding tournaments that they make reservations at once to avoid disappointment.
Last year the Illinois Professional State Championship was held at Pickwick. It was selected as the best course in the Chicago district.

JEWELRY FIRM LEASES SPACE IN GARLAND BLDG.

G.A. Soden & Co. to Move Across Loop.

BY AL CHASE.

G. A. Soden & Co., one of Chicago's oldest wholesale jewelry concerns, established in 1886, now located in what was formerly their own building, at the southeast corner of Franklin and Randolph, have leased practically all of the third and considerable space on the fourth floor of the Garland building, at Wabash and Washington. The total rental is said to be in excess of $300,000 for the ten year term. Lang, Weise & Cella were brokers in connection with the Garland Building corporation.

Soden & Co., of which Nicholas Jacobs is president, were formerly located at 910 South Michigan avenue, in the Standard Oil building. They moved to the six story building at Franklin and Randolph about ten years ago. They leased the property for ninety-nine years from Addison D. Kelly and the Northern Trust company, trustee. An interesting side to the Garland building lease was the manner in which other tenants were shifted around to get the space required by the jewelry firm.

Bought for Phone Company.

Last September Carleton Blunt, a mysterious person who could not be located in any city or telephone directory in Chicagoland, bought the building and leasehold from Soden & Co. At that time it was understood that Mr. Blunt would transfer title to the Chicago Title and Trust company, as trustee, presumably for the Illinois Bell Telephone company, to be used as part of a site for its building expansion program.

Terms of the lease entered into by Liggett Drug Stores, Inc., with Victor Curto and Dorothea W. Huszagh for the store at the northwest corner of Sheridan road and Lawrence avenue—in the heart of the Uptown district—were disclosed yesterday. The lease is for fifteen years from April 1, 1930, at a rental of $12,000 a year. In addition the lessees are to pay eight per cent on sales in excess of $150,000. The store has about 5,000 square feet of floor space. Charles McKenna of Hogan & Farwell was broker.

Washington-La Salle Lease.

D. Lelewer & Son have leased the corner store in the Stock Exchange building at the southwest corner of Washington street and La Salle street for ten years from May 1 and after alterations will open a store for the sale of hats and haberdashery. Terms of the lease are not disclosed, but the rental will be on a percentage basis. The store is 31x45 feet.

With the closing of this lease, six of the ten stores in the Stock Exchange building made available when the Foreman banks moved across the street have been rented. Agents of the building say that from eighty-five to ninety per cent of the office space is now rented. When the corner store is opened it will be the fifth in the Lelewer chain. Other stores are located at 32 North Dearborn, 101 South Clark, 191 West Madison and 310 South State. Judson F. Stone represented the McCormick estates, the lessor in yesterday's transaction. L. H. Bamburg acted for the lessee.

Business Personals

Walter F. Tant, president of the Silent Automatic corporation of Detroit, was elected president of the American Oil Burners association yesterday at the annual convention in the Hotel Stevens. Other officers elected were: Vice Presidents — H. Finnie, the Timken-Detroit company; W. J. Smith, Cleveland Steel Products corporation; W. C. McTarnahan, Petroleum, Heat and Power company; J. H. Hirsch, Automatic Burner corporation; and W. F. Schroeder, of Schroeder & Curry Co. The new executive committee includes: Messrs. Tant and Finnie; E. M. Fleischmann, May Oil Burner corporation; J. F. Griswold, Hardinge Brothers, Inc.; and Earl Marr, Marr Oil Heat Machine corporation.

W. F. TANT.

Redmond & Co. announce that Ben Talbot has become associated with their firm. Mr. Talbot was formerly with F. B. Keech & Co., and was at one time financial editor of the New York Evening Mail.

At the annual meeting of Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha railway Charles W. Nash, president of Nash Motors, and Ray N. Van Doren of Chicago were elected to fill vacancies on the board. Mr. Van Doren is vice president and general counsel of Chicago and Northwestern railway.

STORAGE IS SEEN PUZZLING ITEM IN GRAIN PROBLEM

Requires Lots of Study, Scrutator Finds.

BY SCRUTATOR.

Few, if any, business problems on a broad scale have ever been satisfactorily solved. To qualify, this means that there are none so well settled that there is general agreement no change should be made.

The theories of railway rate making, of consolidating of the roads and even of fixing values for them are widely separated. Suggestions and demands for farm relief have taken so many forms that the federal farm board itself is more a body of experiment than one of settled principles. And the principles which the agricultural marketing act gave it are the subject of huge controversies.

Something has been written here in the past about the storage of grain. The plea has been that present storage facilities are not adequate, the country over, and that there should be more. It is hardly an exaggeration to say that nobody really knows where the new storage should be located.

Reviews Situation.

E. J. Bell Jr., an economist for the federal farm board, recently reviewed the situation without advancing any particular conclusion as to which was the most economical storage method to adopt. The feasible locations for new storage are four in number—on the farm, at country shipping points, at interior concentration points and at terminal markets. There are, as additional possibilities, the storing of the grain in box cars and on the ground, which Mr. Bell dismisses as uneconomical.

The demand for wheat storage is due to the greater speed with which the product gets into trade channels since the advent of the combine, the tractor, the truck and the hard road. There was serious congestion at terminal points in 1929, when a large carryover also had to be cared for, and one of the results was the necessity of using box cars for storage.

Cash Grain Depression.

Mr. Bell stated that the congestion unduly depressed cash grain as compared with futures, and that while it cannot be proved it is always profitable to hold wheat after the harvest, the growers may be forced to hold more of it if the existing marketing machinery cannot handle it rapidly enough.

Where, then, put such new storage as is needed? Farm storage prevents congestion, preserves the identity of good country run wheat, permits shipping to the best markets and costs less than country elevators to construct. On the other hand, it adds a new expense to marketing, bad roads may hold the grain where it is when the market price is right, there are few facilities for reconditioning, and financing is more difficult than if a public warehouse is used.

Country elevator storage relieves terminal congestion, can readily send its wheat to the best market and saves the farm storage handling. Construction, however, is expensive, and it is difficult to determine how much to build in any community.

Adds Extra Expense.

Diversion point storage, established at railway points where freight rates are equal to several consuming markets, could do away with most of the disadvantages of the smaller storage places and could rival the terminal markets, were it not that it also adds the expense of a handling that does not exist when the grain moves direct from field to terminal.

Terminal markets can draw from wide territories. They can be constructed at the lowest cost per bushel and they can have—although they do not always—the best facilities for reconditioning. They keep handling down to a minimum. Disadvantages are that they increase congestion, and usually limit the markets in which the wheat can be sold. Mr. Bell holds that they also increase the visible supply and so act to depress prices. As he states, it will require a great deal of study to settle this problem.

Make Milnor Head of Govt. Grain Corp.

BY PAUL POTTER

George S. Milnor of Chicago, recently retained by the federal farm board as vice president of its Grain Stabilization corporation, was named president and placed in charge of its operations at the first annual meeting of the corporation's membership here Wednesday, an official announcement yesterday stated.

W. G. Kellogg, formerly president, was named with S. J. Cottington and E. V. Maltby as vice presidents; C. E. Huff, secretary; and W. M. Buckles, treasurer. Milnor, Kellogg, Hug, and Buckles constitute the corporation's executive committee. These four men and the following were reëlected to the board of directors; John Hogan, W. H. Settle, E. H. Hodgson, B. H. Lang, and F. J. Wilmer.

Answers Rumors.

Mr. Milnor answered rumors current in the grain trade regarding the government's policies in operating the stabilization corporation yesterday by stating that there had been no "change in policy, but there might be changes in position."

The corporation is not disposing of its "long" wheat, he said, although it might be selling cash wheat and purchasing futures. It has been selling wheat in some markets and buying in others, he said, but declined to admit that the corporation has been purchasing July or September delivery options.

DEFENDS FARM BOARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 10.—Although he admitted that the farm board's stabilization corporation "may lose some money," James C. Stone, vice chairman of the board, told a radio audience tonight that it is generally believed the government's wheat buying activities prevented a drop in the price of wheat to 70 or 80 cents a bushel.

Mr. Stone defended the board's entrance into the markets through its agent, the stabilization corporation, in an address over a national broadcasting company network. He appealed to the business men of the country to support the board, declaring that "it is not our desire to intentionally injure any other business, but we do propose to do everything we can under the agricultural marketing act to improve the condition of the farmers."

EASTMAN URGES U. S. CONTROL OF RAIL FINANCING

Would Have Holding Firms Regulated.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—A recommendation that regulatory powers over railroad holding companies be given the interstate commerce commission was made today by Commissioner Joseph B. Eastman as he completed his third day's testimony in the house interstate commerce committee's railroad ownership investigation.

The commissioner criticized the lack of authority by the commission to interfere with the financial operations of holding companies in the affairs of railroads, even though such operations, if carried on by the railroads themselves, would be illegal unless approved by the commission.

Although declining to state definitely his views as to the best means of bringing the holding companies under federal supervision until the committee's inquiry was completed, the witness outlined several results which he believes the investigation should bring about.

These included the establishment of a clearly defined policy for the commission to follow in regulating the purchase and sale of railroad stock so that when more than a certain percentage of stock of a company was involved the matter of control, and not the mere question of investment, should be studied by the regulatory agency.

He tentatively suggested 10 per cent as the dividing point, explaining that this limit was high enough to permit proper diversification of investments by purely investment companies.

Turning again to unregulated acquisition of railroad control by railroads, Eastman asserted it had been shown in the public utilities field that a holding company by the issuance of nonvoting stock could control huge organizations with only a relatively small amount of invested capital.

The Common Stock now outstanding may be exchanged for Voting Trust Certificates. These Voting Trust Certificates are listed on the Chicago Curb Exchange.

The following information has been summarized by Mr. Joe Brandt, President of the Corporation, from his letter to us dated April 10, 1930, copies of which may be obtained upon request, and is subject to the more complete information contained therein:

BUSINESS: Columbia Pictures Corporation produces and distributes motion pictures. The Corporation is licensed under patents controlled by Western Electric Company (through its subsidiary Electrical Research Products, Inc.) covering the production of so-called sound and talking pictures and to this extent has the same technical advantages in the production of pictures of this type as those enjoyed by the Paramount, Fox, Warner, First National and Metro-Goldwyn studios.

The Corporation owns and operates fully equipped studios in Hollywood, California, has its executive and general distribution offices in New York City, 33 branch distributing offices in the United States, together with distributing agencies in London and Paris and throughout the civilized world.

PRODUCTION: The production schedule for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, calls for 3 super-feature pictures, 8 special feature pictures, and 15 feature pictures, all of which will be 100% talking. The schedule also calls for 104 short subjects, of which 26 will be Columbia Victor Gems made under a contract with the Victor Talking Machine Co., 26 will be Screen Snap-Shots, 13 will be Color Reels, 13 will be Krazy Kat Kartoons, 13 will be Walt Disney Silly Symphonies, and 13 will be Walt Disney Mickey Mouse Cartoons.

EARNINGS: The Corporation has reported a profit in each year since its organization. Consolidated net profits of the Corporation and a small wholly owned subsidiary, after all charges and taxes, for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1928 and 1929 and for the six months (twenty-six weeks) ended December 28, 1929, after giving effect to: (a) The elimination of interest paid in respect of notes payable, the balance of which is to be liquidated through this financing, and (b) provision for Federal Income taxes at the current rate of 12%, are as follows:

Net Profits as above..	$258,553.65	$566,277.70	$1,000,000.00*
Less Preference Dividends	74,811.00	74,811.00	74,811.00
Balance for Common..	$183,742.65	$491,466.70	$925,189.00
Earned per share on 150,063 shares Common to be presently outstanding	$1.22	$3.27	$6.16

*Estimate by the management based on net profits before dividends, as above computed, of $490,298.83 for the first twenty-six weeks of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1930, and on the fact that current net profits for the balance of the fiscal year are running in excess of those for the first twenty-six weeks. Net profits for the fiscal years ended June 30, 1928 and 1929, and for the six months (twenty-six weeks) ended December 28, 1929, have been certified to by Messrs. Touche, Niven & Co., Public Accountants.

FINANCIAL POSITION: The Corporation's consolidated balance sheet as of December 28, 1929, adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows current assets of more than three and one-half times current liabilities and reveals no funded indebtedness or bank loans except a mortgage of $37,500 on the property of its subsidiary above referred to.

MANAGEMENT: The Management of the Corporation is in the hands of the men who organized it and who have been responsible for its success. Mr. Brandt and the Messrs. Jack and Harry Cohn have had approximately nineteen years' experience in the production and sale of motion pictures, and are recognized by the industry as men of exceptional ability in their field.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Proceeds from the sale of this issue will be used to liquidate all bank loans, reimburse the Corporation for expenditures recently made for capital additions, and for general corporate purposes.

DIVIDEND POLICY: The management has announced that it is its intention to inaugurate dividends on the Common Stock of the Corporation at the annual rate of $1.50 per share in cash and 5% (1/20th of a share per share) in stock.

The Corporation agrees to make application to list the Voting Trust Certificates representing this Common Stock on the New York Curb Exchange.

We offer the above shares of Common Stock (Voting Trust Certificates) for subscription, subject to allotment, when, as and if issued and accepted by us and approved by counsel, Messrs. Beekman, Bogue & Clark, for the Bankers, and Nathan Burkan, Esq., for the Corporation. It is expected that interim receipts or temporary voting trust certificates will be delivered in the first instance on or about April 17th, 1930 at the offices of Goddard & Co., Inc., 44 Wall Street, New York City.

Price $42.50 Per Share

BROKERS' LOANS UP $26,000,000; RISE IGNORED

But Expansion May Arouse Comment.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Another increase in brokers' loans during the last week, although a relatively small affair of only $26,000,000, brought the total of such credit used in the stock market up to $3,994,000,000, according to the weekly report of the federal reserve board. Not much attention was paid to the increase in Wall and La Salle streets last night. In fact, an increase had been expected in view of the active and strong stock markets of the last week.

However, the recent expansion in stock market credit, especially if continued, is likely to arouse considerable discussion. Just a year ago last month and this month the federal reserve board was issuing warnings against excessive use of credit in speculation and was endeavoring to force liquidation. The rediscount rate of the New York reserve bank was 5 per cent.

Now, however, there are no similar warnings and the New York bank rate is 3½ per cent. It would appear that the reserve authorities are hopeful of stimulating trade and industry by easy money rates and also hopeful that the stock market excesses will not be repeated. Business is not requiring as much credit as a year ago and therefore speculation is not depriving trade of funds.

What May Happen.

But if business does improve measurably, which is what the stock market seems to be anticipating, it will require more credit. Then will the speculators be good? Even at present the brokers' loan total is only $1,432,000,000 below a year ago, when the campaign against speculation was in full swing. It is a sizeable reduction, but still, measured in percentage, only 26 per cent below a year ago. As to the stock market, the daily averages compiled by THE TRIBUNE show that fifty leading industrial and railroad issues yesterday stood at 242.39, compared with 240.89 a year ago. While any system of "averages" must be somewhat faulty, still they afford a rough picture of the course of the stock market.

The New York stock exchange reported yesterday that the total value of all listed stocks jumped $5,268,744,000 last month, reaching a total of $76,075,447,459 on April 1. On that date, exchange members were borrowing $4,656,302,339, an increase of $488,171,987 over March 1. The ratio of brokers' loans to aggregate market value was 6.12 per cent on April 1, compared with 5.89 per cent on March 1, and 9.75 per cent on April 1, 1929.

The detail of this week's report on brokers' loans shows that the banks of the country are lending more funds to the stock market than a year ago. While the New York banks reduced their own loans by $76,000,000 in the last week, they are lending $556,000,000 more than a year ago.

The interior banks increased their loans by $80,000,000, but are furnishing $447,000,000 less than a year ago. Therefore, corporations and other lenders are responsible for the lower total, compared with last year at this time. While they have increased their loans by $23,000,000 in the week, they still are lending $1,543,000,000 less than a year ago.

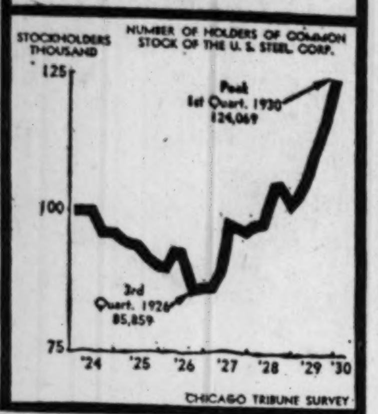
In Stronger Position.

One reassuring factor in the present situation is that the federal reserve system is in stronger position than a year ago, although this is not true of the New York reserve bank. For the whole system the ratio of reserves to liabilities now stands at 81.5 per cent, compared with 79.8 per cent last week and 73.8 per cent a year ago.

Borrowings of the member banks declined $14,959,000 in the last week and the total now stands at $226,164,000, compared with $963,532,000 a year ago. Holdings of bankers' acceptances and government securities declined $4,296,000 and $3,093,000 respectively in the week. Deposits dropped $47,471,000 and note circulation receded $11,792,000. Gold and total reserves increased $15,572,000 and $12,474,000 respectively.

The New York reserve bank's statement shows member bank borrowings increased $8,807,000 to a total of $62,474,000. The city banks increased their borrowings by $16,000,000, but are taking $127,000,000 less than a year ago. The reserve bank ran off $40,829,000 of bankers' acceptances and its deposits declined $26,578,000. Reserves gained $13,854,000 and the reserve ratio rose to 76.6 per cent, compared with 72.9 per cent last week.

STOCKHOLDERS OF UNITED STATES STEEL COMMON CONTINUE TO INCREASE



UNFILLED ORDERS OF U. S. STEEL CORP. HIGHEST IN 4 YEARS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 10.—An increase of 90,905 tons in unfilled steel tonnage of the United States Steel corporation to the highest total in more than four years at the end of March, was announced today.

Tonnage was 4,570,653, against 4,479,748 tons on Feb. 28, 4,468,710 tons at the end of January, and 4,410,718 at the end of March last year.

It had been generally expected in Wall street that the report would show little change or possibly a slight decrease. One explanation for the increase in the unfilled orders total is the slower rate of production in the steel industry. The reports yesterday showed that output is at a lower rate than last year at this time.

But it stood at 81.9 per cent a year ago.

The Chicago reserve bank's report shows member bank borrowings receded $2,337,000 to a total of $19,711,000. The city banks do not owe the reserve bank. Bankers' acceptances declined $4,039,000 and deposits fell $11,025,000. Reserves declined $11,549,000, but the reserve ratio rose to 87.5 per cent, compared with 87 per cent last week and 78.8 per cent a year ago.

Neither the New York reserve banks nor the Bank of England made any changes in their discount rates yesterday. The Richmond reserve bank reduced its rate from 4½ to 4 per cents, thus putting eight reserve banks on this rate. The Atlanta, St. Louis, and Minneapolis banks are on a 4½ per cent basis.

HEAR BURLEY & CO. MAY EXPAND ITS OPERATIONS

An "important announcement" is expected to be made soon by Burley & Co., 212 North Michigan avenue, pioneer Chicago dealers in objects d'art gifts, household novelties and appliances. This was learned yesterday following the incorporation of the company at Springfield with capital of $3,000,000.

M. P. Miller, manager, had no comment to make concerning rumors that Burley & Co. would expand into a chain store group operating in Chicago. He said a formal announcement of the store's plans would be forthcoming at an early date.

Gillette Safety Razor Reports Quarterly Income

The Gillette Safety Razor company yesterday reported net earnings for the first quarter of $2,164,348, compared with $4,531,218 in the corresponding period of last year, which was the best first quarter in the history of the company. The company reported $7,500,000 cash on hand and no indebtedness other than current liabilities of about $200,000.

Price Cutting War at End in Oil Industry

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 10.—Price cutting in crude oil initiated by Standard Oil units in the mid-continent field in January to check overproduction came to an end today with the announcement of a raise of about 10 cents a barrel.

The Humble Oil and Refining company, Standard of New Jersey subsidiary, took the lead in returning part way to the old levels, while the Gulf Oil company's subsidiary, the Gypsy Oil company, announced it has posted an advance to conform with Humble's.

Raise Is Conditional.

W. S. Farish, president of Humble Oil, in announcing the change, however, made it plain the higher level would not be maintained in the face of another burst of productive activity. Maintenance of the new prices would depend on whether or not producers and refiners succeeded in maintaining the balance between supply and demand, he said.

The statement by Mr. Farish said: "The advance in price is made possible by the improvement in relationship between supplies of crude and refined products and the market therefor and by improvement in the wholesale market for gasoline.

"The continued accumulation of stocks of refined products has been arrested by a reduction in refining activity in line with the suggestion of the federal oil conservation board."

Report Vacuum Deal.

Negotiations today were reported in progress in Detroit for the acquisition of the White Star Refining company by the Vacuum Oil company. C. E. Arnott, president of Vacuum, and other officials of the company are conferring with H. B. Earhart, president of the White Star company.

The acquisition of White Star would dd important refining and distributing properties in the middle west and in Canada to the Vacuum organization. White Star owns and operates a refinery at Wood River, Ill., with capacity of 210,000 gallons of crude oil daily, and a refinery at Trenton, Mich., with 250,000 barrels daily capacity.

NO CHANGE IN POLICY.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur said today that the decision of the Supreme court of the District of Columbia which held invalid his order rejecting applications for permits to prospect for oil and gas would not alter the government's policy of oil conservation.

OPPONENTS WIN FREEPORT TEXAS PROXY BATTLE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 10.—Final tabulation of proxies at the Freeport Texas company annual meeting gave the opposition stockholders' committee 350,169 shares and the management 286,523.

The opposition nominated the following board of directors: George Gordon Battle, Elmer G. Dieffenbach, Ralph C. Holmes, Charles B. Holladay, Eugene L. Norton, Victor C. Faradise, Odie R. Seagraves, Edward H. Phaete, Langbourne M. Williams Jr., and Frank A. Wills.

Victory for the opposition forces in the proxy battle between factions of stockholders in the Freeport Texas company was conceded today by E. P. Swenson, president.

OBSERVERS SEE LONG DELAY IN STEEL MERGER

Litigation Must End, Baker Says.

Youngstown, O., April 10.—(AP)—Financial observers here tonight believed that indefinite postponement was in prospect for the merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel corporation.

NEWTON D. BAKER.

They based their conclusions on a statement of Cyrus S. Eaton, Cleveland financier and chief merger opponent, and of Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, associate counsel for Sheet and Tube, who has taken leadership of the proponents' legal battle.

Baker stated in open court this afternoon that, even if the merger is confirmed by inspectors of election at the Sheet and Tube stockholders' meeting "and Bethlehem so notified, that company will tell Sheet and Tube to get rid of its litigation before the deal can go through."

Adjourn Meeting.

After hearing a decision from Judge C. S. Turnbaugh that votes on the merger of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company with the Bethlehem Steel corporation could be announced but could not be made a matter of record, Sheet and Tube stockholders adjourned their meeting today until 3 p. m. tomorrow. The reason given was that inspectors had not completed their work of counting.

Eaton, in a statement yesterday, said that he would "fight the merger to the last ditch," assuring his opponents that there will be plenty of law suits "lying around."

Observers pointed out that the regular annual meeting of stockholders must convene, under the company's by-laws, on April 22. In view of Eaton's determination to "fight to the last ditch," the litigation may not be ended by that time.

At the regular meeting any business brought up by any stockholders may be discussed and acted upon. Observers also pointed out that the date for closing the books must be between the present time and that date.

May Regain Right.

After April 22, many of the controversial shares of stock may regain their right to be voted on the merger. This includes the 51,038 shares held by Otis & Co., which they bought after the last date of record.

These shares also include 40,000 bought by other individuals after the last date of record. The 51,038 will be voted by Eaton forces, who also claim a large number of the 40,000. Eaton

Report Radio Corp. Nears Control of Columbia Co.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 10.—The Radio Corporation of America is about to acquire control of the Columbia Graphophone Company, Ltd., as an important part of its comprehensive plan of reorganization, it was learned today. This will give the company a complete international manufacturing and distributing organization in every branch of the home entertainment field, with book assets of nearly $180,000,000.

Although it has important manufacturing activities in Connecticut, California, Europe, South America, and Japan, the Columbia Graphophone company's principal value to the Radio Corporation of America lies in its practically world-wide distributing organization, which extends to nearly every point on the globe to which civilization has penetrated to the slightest degree, it was learned.

Might Pay Dividend.

The acquisition of the Columbia organization is expected to take effect simultaneously with the reorganization of the Radio corporation's subsidiaries, which are in process of consolidating, in the field of radio sets and tubes and phonographs, the manufacturing, research, and engineering activities of Radio corporation, General Electric, and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing.

It is understood an exchange plan will be presented whereby holders of Columbia Graphophone shares, about three-quarters of which are understood to be represented by American certificates of deposit for British ordinary shares, may receive stock in the Radio corporation for their holdings. The terms of exchange could not be ascertained, but it was reported that initiation of a dividend on Radio common stock might occur simultaneously with the offering.

Broad Developments.

At the same time the funding of General Electric and Westinghouse advances to the Victor Talking Machine company while it was being assimilated by Radio corporation, and the furnishing of additional working capital to the new manufacturing branch of R. C. A., are understood to be part of the plan. That the developments contemplated are even broader in scope than those described was also intimated in informed circles.

The Columbia Graphophone Company, Ltd., has £300,000 outstanding 7 per cent preference shares of £1 par value, and £1,283,460 outstanding ordinary shares, of 10s par value, or $1,458,000 and $6,237,616, respectively, converted into dollars at $4.86 to the pound. There are 2,240,892 American shares, each representing one ordinary shares of Columbia Graphophone listed on the New York Stock exchange, out of 2,566,220 ordinary shares outstanding.

Durant March Shipments Show Substantial Gain

March witnessed a gain of 37 per cen over February in shipments of Durant cars and trucks into the 42 states supplied by the factories at Lansing. The March output of the Canadian Durant plant at Leaside, a suburb of Toronto, exceeded that of February by 45 per cent.

Says Frigidaire Corp. Breaks Output Mark

All first quarter production records were broken by Frigidaire corporation during the first three months of 1930, according to E. G. Biechler, president and general manager. More men are being employed than ever before at this time of the year, he stated.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 10.—Money was thrown around in million dollar bundles in Wall street today—at a 3½ per cent call rate. Crude oil prices were up and the United States Steel corporation had a little surprise in the form of an unfilled tonnage report showing a sharp increase in its March orders. Rumors were afloat that the Federal Reserve Bank of New York was all set to lower its discount rate.

With such a setting for a party the bulls ran rampant — until the bears caught them at it. Trading for the first hour or so surpassed anything witnessed since the final stages of the terrific bull movement of last autumn, proceeding at the rate of a 10,000,000 share day. Prices jumped sharply all over the board and the record of one big block of shares after another came rolling out on the tape.

The tremendous congestion — the

WHEAT MARKET IS SENSITIVE TO WEATHER NEWS

Western Rains Influence Drop of 2 3-4 to 3 3-8c

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The wheat market is unusually sensative to weather conditions and the forecast for somewhat unsettled conditions in Kansas and Nebraska with a few showers reported in Nebraska and Colorado yesterday largely offset the effect of the bullish government crop estimate of the previous day.

Highest prices were made at the opening with an advance of 1⅜@2¼c, but heavy profit taking and commission house selling developed, and a drop of 2⅜@3⅜c from the top followed, with the close on a rally with the finish unchanged to ⅛c higher. May finished at $1.14⅛@1.14¼, and July $1.15@1.15¼.

The hottest weather known for this season of the year prevailed in the southwest during the day with temperatures as high as 97 reported late in the afternoon with high winds general. The latter caused some interruption in wire service with Kansas City. Dust storms were claimed at a number of Kansas points which had effect toward the last and helped along the rally. Crop observer R. O. Cromwell found irreparable damage to wheat in parts of western Oklahoma, and the general run of reports from that state and Kansas were less optimistic, although it was usually claimed that rain would prevent any material damage.

Longs Sell Wheat.

Long grain appeared to be for sale on all bulges in wheat, with some selling of May early credited to the government, while on the break to around $1.13¼ for May, the low price of the day, there were supporting orders. Locals were inclined to the selling side a good part of the day, but an oversold condition was disclosed when they tried to cover toward the last. Trade was fairly large, and fluctuations erratic.

Liverpool construed the government report as bullish and was up over 2d at one time, only to ease toward the last due to the poor response in North America and closed ⅛@¼d higher. Buenos Aires finished ⅛@½c higher despite a decline of ⅛c in the exchanged rate while Winnipeg was unchanged to ⅛c higher at the last.

Europe is regarded as showing unmistakable signs of coming into the market was a heavy buyer of North American wheat, with sales of 700,000 bu estimated in all positions for the day, mainly Manitobas. While Argentina has a fairly liberal quantity on hand it is largely low grade.

Corn Charters Liberal.

Over 1,500,000 bu of cash corn are under charter to clear for eastern lake ports at the opening of lake navigation which is expected to be April 30. Charters for 450,000 bu have been made so far this week at 2c per bu to Buffalo. Longs in May are gradually getting out, with the result that the early delivery dropped to 2⅜c under the July, compared with 2½c on Wednesday. The finish was ⅜c lower to ⅛c higher with May 84⅝c and July 87⅜@87½c. Action of the wheat market had considerable influence.

BUTTER OUTPUT LARGER

Butter futures were adversely affected by the weekly report showing increased production and lost ⅛c or $48 a car on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. While the butter output was 361,001 lbs over the preceding week it remained almost 10 per cent under a year ago. Sales were 17 cars and receipts, 7,688 tubs.

Steady spot market and moderate receipts carried April egg contracts to the finish without change, but Novembers declined ⅛c. Sales were 56 cars and receipts, 29,647 cases. Prices follow:

SUGGEST WHEAT SHORTAGE

A shortage of 14,000,000 bu as given by the government report, is suggested for the six soft winter wheat states east of the Missouri river.

Productions is 135,000,000 bu against 149,000,000 bu last year, and 141,000,000 bu as a five year average.

In the four southwestern hard winter wheat states, which furnish the bulk of the country's exportable surplus, there was a promise of 176,000,000 bu on April 1, or only 2,000,000 bu more than last year. Kansas is given 144,500,000 bu, against 138,000,000 bu last year, but the Kansas state report intimates that the crop has gone back considerably in the last few days, so that indications are that there will be no more wheat harvested than a year ago, and unless rain comes within two weeks, it will be considerably less. Nebraska is estimated at 62,000,000 bu against 54,000,000 bu last year, and Oklahoma at 40,000,000 bu against 44,000,000 bu last year. Texas has 31,000,000 bu, while last year it raised 38,000,000 bu.

Four Pacific coast states are estimated to produce 54,000,000 bu as compared with 71,000,000 bu last year, and an average of 63,000,000 bu. Total crop of winter wheat for the country is estimated at 550,000,000 bu, or the same as the five year average and is 28,000,000 bu short of the 1929 harvest.

Top yesterday, $10.25; average, $9.70.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today: 2,000 cattle, 18,000 hogs; 15,000 sheep.

Hog prices broke 10@15c on yesterday's small supply, the extreme top going down 15c at $10.50, while the general average showed 10c loss at $10.15. Prices were lowest of the week, but showed uneven gains of 15@50c since early last week, heavy butchers and packing sows showing the most advance.

Eastern demand was lacking yesterday and very little activity was noted in spite of the better demand from small packers and city butchers. Larger houses were bearish and left 6,000 in the pens at the close. While Chicago receipts for today show an increase compared with a week ago, the total at five western markets at 46,500 compares with 49,200 the previous Friday.

Today's Light, $10.60.

Light hogs on the "to arrive" market sold at $10.60 for today's delivery and mediums were bid $10.25. Offers and bids were plentiful on the futures trade, but were too far apart for trading most of the day, due to the weak condition of the cash trade lately.

Seven carloads of light were offered for April, May and June delivery at 10.50@10.65, with buyers and sellers within 5c of a trading basis at the finish. There were buyers for eleven loads of light for these months at $10.10@10.45. Light for September were offered at $10.60@11.00 and bid $10.10@10.40.

The limited number of well finished medium nad weighty beeves in the yards yesterday sold quickly at steady to strong prices, while all other cattle moved slowly on a weak to unevenly lower basis. Bulk of sales show losses of 15@25c since last week's close and some medium to good steers are as much as 50c lower for the four days.

Best Lambs Steady.

Better grades of fat lambs sold at steady prices yesterday, while others declined 10@15c on a dull and unsatisfactory afternoon trade. Choice wool lambs sold to packers and shippers at $10.25, but the bulk held at $9.65@10.00. Top shorn stock reached $9.50 and bulk sold at $9.00@9.25.

Aged sheep were scarce and firm, light shorn ewes selling up to $6.00, while top wool ewes were quotable up to $6.75. According to a government report the movement of California spring lambs has been delayed on account of feed conditions in the coast state, but the earlier movement from other states will more than make up for the below average condition of California lambs. The "old" crop lambs are still coming strong. Since Jan. 1 Colorado, the Arkansas valley and the Scotts Bluff sections have shipped out 1,583,000 head of "fed" lambs, against 1,225,000 a year ago.

CANADIAN WHEAT

Canada had 229,000,000 bu wheat in all positions on April 1, compared with 246,000,000 bu a year ago, according to an official estimate given to the trade late yesterday. After allowing for bread and seed requirements and for a carryover of 115,000,000 bu on Aug. 1 there is 56,000,000 to 67,000,000 bu available for export during the last four months of the crop year, depending on the method of figuring. There was 292,000,000 bu wheat of merchantable quality from the 1929 crop, compared with 567,000,000 bu the previous year. Total available supply of oats on April 1 was 105,000,000 bu, against 189,000,000 bu last year.

When you invest in the Common Shares of Utilities Hydro & Rails Shares Corporation, you secure all the benefits of a scientifically managed investment structure. Every dollar of your own funds is constantly under expert supervision—constantly benefiting by the experience and judgment of a corps of investment experts, and of the fifty-two Directors who form a cross-section of American banking, public utility and railroad leadership.

The purchase of every security in the Utilities Hydro & Rails Shares Corporation portfolio represents the group judgment of a corps of research and statistical experts. The Corporation has selected 142 of the largest and strongest Utilities, Railroads and Equipment Companies in the United States and Canada, and has invested in those that rank highest the following proportions of each one million dollars it has for investment:

64.50% Public Utilities.
14.25% Railroad Stocks.
2.50% Equipment Companies.
3.75% Miscellaneous.

Before purchase each security is graded according to three fundamental conditions: (1) as to past record; (2) as to present position; (3) as to future possibilities. Fifty-five basic tests are applied, the results averaged, and each company ranked accordingly.

This sifting of values and study of fundamental trends by trained analysts with unsurpassed sources of information never ends. It provides assurance of a well balanced portfolio, of constant alertness to change and vigilance against possible loss, at all times.

Sound, conservative and on a dividend-paying basis, these Common Shares should be bought now. Each ten shares carry non-detachable stock purchase warrants, entitling the holder to purchase two additional shares at advantageous prices, at any time within a ten-year period. As there are no bonds or preferred stocks outstanding, purchasers of the Common Shares participate fully in all earnings, all profits, and all appreciation.

OBSERVERS SEE LONG DELAY OF STEEL MERGER

Baker Asserts Litigation Must Be Ended.

...ton controls 310,000 shares, and the voting of the 91,038 in his favor would give him a total of 401,038, more than enough to block the merger, according to the observers.

In an amendment to a temporary restraining order this afternoon, Judge C. S. Turnbaugh held that vote on the 91,038 shares of controversial stock could be announced but it could not be recorded.

Counsel for Myron C. Wick Jr. of Youngstown, chairman of the opposition proxy committee, to whom the restraining order was granted, interpreted Judge Turnbaugh's amendment as enjoining consummation of the merger.

Eaton's Contention.

Eaton, if he loses the fight to enjoin the recording of the 91,038 shares, intends to declare the stockholders' meeting of last Tuesday night illegal. He contends that the vote was "railroaded through" by merger proponents over several objections.

Attorneys for Sheet and Tube at the hearing on the injunction, argued that interference with the merger was causing Sheet and Tube stockholders "irreparable loss." They argued that the matter of voting of proxies was a matter to be decided by inspectors of election, and not the courts.

Newport Company.

Will you please give me a report on Newport company, listed on the New York curb?—J. R. G.

Newport company, incorporated in July, 1929, in Delaware, produces dye stuffs, industrial chemicals and wood distillates, including turpentine, rosin and pine oil. Chemical and dye plants are at Passaic, N. J., and Carrollville, Wis. Together with Armstrong Cork company it controls Armstrong-Newport company, formed to experiment in the manufacture of insulating board from waste wood products.

Net income in 1929 available for dividends was $1,682,285, against $685,427 in 1928.

Earnings last year were 9.93 times dividend requirements on 56,465 class A shares and were equal to $3.50 per share on 432,517 no par common shares, against $1.16 per share in 1928.

The new class A stock was placed on a $3 annual dividend basis in March, 1929. Dividends on the common are $2 per year.

The class A stock deserves a fair rating. The common, which is traded on the New York curb, is medium grade and somewhat speculative.

Pines Winterfront.

Would appreciate very much your opinion of Pines Winterfront common. Any information you may give will be appreciated.—A. M.

Pines Winterfront company, incorporated in 1919, manufactures and sells automobile accessories, principally a metal radiator shutter automatically operated by the thermostat.

The company's fiscal year ends April 30, 1930. No statement of earnings has been published since that for the year ended April 30, 1929, which showed net income of $555,554. This represented an increase of 37 per cent over the preceding year when net income was $405,151.

Earnings have increased steadily since 1924. Operations during the first two months of 1930 were reported greater than for the corresponding months a year before. The company's automatic shutters are now standard equipment on 24 makes of cars. A year ago they were used on 12 makes.

Dividends on the $5 par common stock, which recently replaced the old class A and class B shares, are at the annual rate of $1 per share in cash. In June, 1929, there were 305,000 shares outstanding. Special stock dividends of 2 per cent each are being paid quarterly.

The stock deserves a fair rating.

Commonwealth Edison.

Please inform me if Commonwealth Edison first mortgage bonds are a safe investment?—H. Z.

Stocks Again Active on 5,681,370 Volume.

ticker at one time was a good half hour behind floor operations—had the effect at length of bringing on selling by the more cautious element and by professional bears, and by the early afternoon prices were seesawing rapidly.

At one time the bears seemed to have gained control of the situation, but a series of rallies in the later dealings succeeded in turning a majority of the more active issues once more toward higher levels and the close found gains of 1 to 5 points scattered rather freely throughout the list.

Volume totaled about 5,681,370 shares, as compared with the year's record of some 5,900,000 set one day last week.

Food shares, several utilities, and the electrical equipment issues held the center of interest.

Motors Bullish.

Bullish operations in the motor shares were pushed aggressively throughout the day, with General Motors and Chrysler, both of which negotiated new high levels for the year on exceptionally heavy dealings, as the favorites. The automobile shares are not particularly favored in the news, but nevertheless are regarded as far behind the general market. Bullish operations were favored today by news of the maintenance of the Nash dividend, but were restrained somewhat perhaps by rumors that a change in the Studebaker rate may come at the next meeting of that company's board.

J. I. Case was again a topliner of the specialty group. At one time the stock was up 10 points over last night's close, but profit taking cut it down and the closing sale reflected a net advance of only 2 points. At that the price shows an advance of nearly 8 points for the last three days.

Radio Again Active.

Radio was again turned over in big volume. The price jumped 2⅛ points against a rather confident short interest. Despite its poor showing in earnings last year, this erstwhile market leader still has friends who believe devoutly in its future.

Big scale buying of United States Steel followed publication of the monthly report and boosted the price 1⅝ points. Among outstanding individual gains of the day were Allied Chemical and Dye, advancing 7¼ points; American Water Works, up 4⅛; Freeport-Texas, up 5⅜; Ingersoll-Rand, 7; Kreuger and Toll, 7; Columbia Carbon, 7¼; and Hershey Chocolate, 5⅜ points.

CHICAGO STOCKS CLOSE UNEVENLY AFTER REALIZING

Early Trading Is Active with Prices Booming.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

Record trading and rising prices marked the early dealings on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday.

Before the day was over, however, the market gave under heavy realizing brought on by the excited trading, and the close found the list in an uneven condition. Gains outnumbered the losses, but prices were well off from their best levels of the session.

Utility stocks, particularly those representing natural gas interests, showed the strongest resistance to the selling. Leaders in the group showed fair improvement from the previous day.

Cities Service Active.

Cities Service was actively dealt in and was up over a point at the close, but off more than a point from its best price of the day. United Gas, on a lighter turnover, was up a like amount. Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line on moderate sales slipped a point as company officials announced that the firm's subsidiary, Kentucky Natural Gas, is making ready for extensive expansion.

Central and Southwest preferred closed at its day's high at 105, a net gain of 2½, while the common finished unchanged. Middle West on sales exceeding 57,000 shares improved a fraction.

Insull Utility had its most active day in some time and was 2½ better after about 23,000 shares changed hands.

Irregular Specialties.

There was a good deal of irregularity among the miscellaneous specialties. Great Lakes Dredge on light sales climbed 3¼ and Fitzsimons advanced about 2. Standard Dredging issues were under pressure and were both off more than 2 points at the close. It is reported that the earnings statement will not show the predicted $5 on the common stock.

Grigsby was off about a point following news of an unfavorable decision against its San Francisco distributing company. The effect of the decision, which enjoined the distributing company from selling "dynamic" speakers, is in some doubt. While the Grigsby-Grunow company was not directly involved in the suit, the defendant company handles Grigsby products.

Grunow Comments.

Commenting on the decision last night, William C. Grunow, vice president of Grigsby-Grunow company, said: "The suit was brought against the Frederick H. Thompson company, a distributing firm handling Majestic products. Grigsby-Grunow is, however, not a party to the suit. We understand that the Thompson company will appeal the decision to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals immediately and obtain a stay of further action pending the appeal. No injunction, however, has been issued against the Grigsby-Grunow company

"The suit was based on alleged violation of their patents on a certain type of dynamic speaker. The Majestic speaker is of an entirely different principle and its design in no way conflicts with the Magnavox type speaker."

News and Gossip of Stock Marts

Food Stocks.

The food stocks are beginning to attract boosters on the ground that they will profit by the drop in commodity prices. It is claimed also for some of them that they have done a better business in the first quarter this year than last.

Traders Wonder.

Traders in the financial district have been wondering whether the increase in the number of general shares to be voted on in June will be used for the payment of a stock dividend or whether they will be sold at prices under the market and thus provide rights for shareholders. Last year the company earned $8.51 a share on its common, contrasted with about $6 a share in the preceding two years.

Gold Dust Inventory.

Gold Dust has attracted many friends in the market of late. The company's inventory situation is said to be better than at any time since 1923. It has bought some supplies which will run into 1931 production at very favorable prices.

CITY BANK FARMERS TRUST COMPANY, NEW YORK, TRUSTEE

These Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be legal investments for savings banks in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Minnesota and Rhode Island, and will meet the legal requirements for savings banks in New York. They also will be legal investments for savings banks in Michigan, when approved by the Securities Commission of that state, for which approval the Company will make application.

The Company will pay interest without deduction for any Federal Income Tax up to but not exceeding 2% per annum. The Company will also refund on proper application: the Pennsylvania Four Mills Tax and the Connecticut tax up to 4 mills per annum; all as provided in an agreement supplemental to the Indenture.

Issuance has been authorized by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. B. C. Cobb, President of the Company, summarizes as follows his letter:

Business — The Consumers Power Company owns and operates extensive and modern systems of electric light and power and gas properties in Michigan, serving one of the most important industrial sections of the country. Electric and/or gas service is rendered in Grand Rapids, Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Muskegon, Pontiac, Lansing, Manistee and more than 417 other cities and towns, the total territory having an estimated population in excess of 1,650,000.

Over 80% of the net earnings of the Company during the past year was derived from the electric light and power business, and of the total output of the electric generating plants for the past eight calendar years, approximately 50% was produced by water-power.

Twelve Months Ended December 31,	1928	1929
Gross Earnings*	$31,039,636	$34,090,688

Balance		$11,699,469

Net earnings, for the twelve months ended December 31, 1929, as shown above, after provision for retirement reserve, were over 4¼ times the annual interest charges on all Bonds to be presently outstanding, including this issue.

Equity — On the basis of appraisals accepted by the Michigan Public Utilities Commission the value of the properties is greatly in excess of outstanding bonded debt. This large equity is evidenced by 635,276 shares Preferred Stock and 1,591,301 shares dividend paying Common Stock. The Preferred Stock is owned by over 38,000 shareholders most of whom are customers of the Company.

Supervision — The Company is controlled, through ownership of all of its Common Stock, by The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation. Its operations are supervised by competent utility operators, who, in conjunction with the local executive management, have been responsible for the development of the properties to their present state of high operating efficiency.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel at 97 and accrued interest, to yield about 4.70%.

GASOLINE ALLEY—TOO MUCH DISCRETION

SPIDER WEB

By ALICE CAMPBELL

SYNOPSIS.

Catherine West of Boston on her way to Paris meets Geoffrey Macadam in the Havre Paris train. Macadam is an Englishman who lives in Paris. Catherine tells Macadam that she is going to visit her cousin's widow, Mme. Belmont Bender. She is a little apprehensive about the coming visit because she had received, just before sailing, a letter from Cousin Cushing, who tells her that Mme. Bender is far from well. Macadam is a lawyer and he tells Catherine that his firm handles Mme. Bender's affairs, but he doesn't know the widow very well. He had heard that she was ill. Arrived in Paris, Catherine is a little disappointed when her cousin's chauffeur is not at the station to meet her. Geoffrey sees her into a taxi, giving her his address and telephone number. He tells her that he will be anxious to know how things are at the Bender apartment, and she promises to call. Arrived at Mme. Bender's apartment, the concierge tells her that madame is very ill. Catherine waits at the door for some time before her ring is answered. Finally Eduardo, the butler, responds to the ring. She is treated coldly by the servants, and Jeanne, Mme. Bender's maid, suggests that she go to a hotel as madame is too ill to have guests. Catherine is suspicious of the servants and insists on staying. In the morning she waits in the study until she can see her cousin.

INSTALLMENT XI.
A PERPLEXING CONVERSATION.

Throwing open the window to rid the room of smoke Catherine settled herself on a sofa and picked up a book.

However, she could not readily fix her attention on reading. Everything in it, from the big mahogany desk to the painting of a favorite race horse over the chimney, recalled her late relative's personality. The very ashtrays spoke of his presence, and she could picture vividly the big, blonde New Englander leaning bask in the chair Eduardo had just vacated, his silvered hair smooth above keen boyish eyes, his fresh unlined face so oddly suggesting that of a handsome schoolmaster. She had liked Cousin Harry. He had been her mother's first cousin, the sole heir of a Boston banker and the only really affluent member of her family. Many years ago he had come to France, had married a French wife, and thenceforth had pursued his carefree existence, filling it with travel and the pursuit of two hobbies—collecting objects of art and breeding horses. Liberal, pleasure-loving, yet always preserving the backbone of his Puritan ancestry, he had remained singularly unspoiled, never drank too much, never ran after women. His attachment to Germaine had been remarkable and for all his wide popularity he had seemed happiest in her companionship. Perhaps no one but himself really understood the shy, elusive woman he had made his own.

Thinking of this, Catherine heard the front doorbell ring and soon after realized that the doctor was being ushered along the hall. Through the open door she caught sight of a heavy, elderly man, sombrely clad, with a spade-shaped black beard and a bald dome. Somewhere on the court side of the apartment a door opened and closed, then there was silence.

Half an hour went by, then the doctor returned along the hall, accompanied by Jeanne. Close to the study they halted for a conference and Catherine heard a deep, bass rumble alternating with whispered utterance of the maid, staccato and earnest.

What were they saying? The girl strained her ears, but for some minutes there was only a confused babble from Jeanne, punctured by ruminating ejaculations from which, with the restraint characteristic of the medical profession in all countries, every sign of surprise had been carefully extracted.

"My darling Germaine!"

Finally, after a pregnant pause, a few sentences in less guarded tones emerged clear. The physician inquired heavily, in booming accents:

"You are sure that there have been no mice below?"

To which the reply came, positive and a little impatient:

"A mouse in this apartment! I'm sure there's never been one. She dreamed it, the thing—that is evident!"

The two moved away.

Catherine knit her brows, perplexed by what she had just heard. A mouse? What had a mouse to do with madame, and why should Jeanne make so indignant a denial? It was altogether puzzling; she could think of any explanation.

It seemed an age before she caught Jeanne's voice, brisk and business-like, inquiring as to the whereabouts of Mlle. West. Without waiting for the reply, Catherine jumped up and ran into the hall.

"I am here, Jeanne. What did the doctor say?"

She fancied the maid looked a little annoyed at finding her at her elbow, but her countenance quickly cleared, resuming its old expression of suavity.

"Ah, there you are, mademoiselle! Madame is much better today. The doctor thinks you may be allowed to see her for a quarter of an hour—not longer, for it would not be wise. You will, of course, be careful not to excite her in any way, as she is still in a very nervous state."

"You may trust me, Jeanne."

Keyed up with expectancy she followed the maid along the transverse passage which communicated with the rooms opening on the court. At the third door Jeanne paused, listened a moment, then grasped the girl's arm and whispered in her ear:

"Another thing, mademoiselle, which the doctor told me to caution you about. Whatever you do, try not to contradict madame. She is apt to get strange ideas into her head, to imagine things which are not true. It is part of her illness, and to oppose her may bring on a crisis. You will be very careful about this?"

Catherine nodded and the next instant the maid had slipped quietly into the room, motioning to her to wait. From the other side of the door came a plaintive voice which she well knew. It filled her with surprise to find it so little altered.

"She is there? Tell her to come in—at once, at once! I am longing to see her."

"Yes, yes, madame. I only wished to make sure that madame is ready to receive mademoiselle."

"But of course I am ready! I am waiting! Catherine, my dear child, come in, come in!"

With inward trepidation Catherine opened the door and entered.

She found herself in a room unexpectedly small and narrow, furnished with sparse simplicity. Nearly everything was white, walls, covers, the bed hangings, pendant from a sort of crown. The only color was contained in the dull mauve-gray carpet and in the dark wood of the severely beautiful Directoire furniture. The curtains were drawn, so that although it was nearly midday there was a clear, luminous twilight. On the panel beside the bed, facing the entrance, hung a silver crucifix, under which were wax candles in brackets.

All this was but a general impression. What the girl chiefly saw was the fragile figure in the bed, the gray eyes staring out of the drawn and pallid face, the thin arms outstretched to greet her.

"Catherine! You have come then! I did not know till a moment ago. My dear—my dear!"

There was strained pathos in the quivering features, a catch in the voice which poured forth its words in a rapid torrent. Tears dimmed the invalid's eyes, the veins stood out purple on her waxen temples as with feverish intensity she kissed the young girl on both cheeks then clung to her warm hands with her own transparent ones.

"My darling Germaine!"

Now that the first shock was over, Catherine felt easier. Until this moment she had nurtured a cankering doubt as to whether or not her friend would recognize her.

"Madame, madame! Calm yourself! You will suffer for this."

It was Jeanne who spoke, solicitous and reproving, hovering near by as though in readiness to interpose at the slightest warning symptom. Catherine had a fleeting impression of watchful eyes regarding them anxiously.

"No, no, Jeanne; I am quite myself. You need have no fear. Only I am so very, very glad to see this dear child, who has come all the way across the ocean to be with me. Leave us for a little. I promise I shall not become too excited."

"Very well, madame, I will go, but I shall not be far away. If madame wants me she has only to call."

She withdrew into the adjoining room, not without a glance at the visitor, full of doubt, and, it seemed to the girl, distrust. Through the half open door she could be heard moving about, as if reluctant to remove herself from earshot.

Rougher Boys Best as Adults, Scientist Says

Warns Mother's Darlings of Inferiority Complex.

If your 12 year old son is the neighborhood terror; if he is sent home frequently for unruliness at school; if he is sometimes impudent, always noisy and fights with his companions—

Then the chances are that he will become a great man in the affairs of his country.

If your son of the same age is a good boy; if he obeys his parents without a word, is a model of decorum at school and is usually not only unheard but unseen—

Then he is possibly headed toward obscurity as an adult.

Dr. Hans Deutsch, psychiatrist of the Illinois Institute for Juvenile Research, told a group of mothers at the Francis Scott Key school yesterday afternoon of new methods for treating the growing child. He declared that the so-called "bad boy" was bursting with aggressiveness and alertness, which parents often tried wrongfully to curb, while the so-called "good boy" was in danger of reaching a shy and bashful manhood unless thrown more upon his resources by his parents.

There were several boys present. Apparently they belonged to the "good" variety, because all sat quietly with their mothers and raised no protest as the psychiatrist's long words rippled over their heads.

The speaker was harsh with parents as a class.

"An unstable child is the fault of an unstable parent," he declared. "A nervous child is the product of a nervous mother. The mother who keeps her son from contact with other children may train him to be a model in deportment, over whom the neighbor ladies will exclaim with rapture, but she probably is training him to be a reserved man who will suffer agonies when forced to mingle with his fellow creatures."

Similarly, the wayward child who always is getting into trouble at school often is the result of too much repression at home, Dr. Deutsch said.

Wilbur Makes Speech.

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—A unification of the local forces interested in child health was advocated tonight by Secretary Wilbur in addressing the White House conference on child health and protection, of which he is chairman. There are two general methods of working for the care of the child, he said.

"One visualizes a great national organization reaching out, spreading its tentacles into every part of the country and telling people what to do," he explained. "The other visualizes the local forces coming together in a united effort and doing a job in accordance with local possibilities."

"I say quite frankly that I belong to what may be called the county seat group—the local crowd—not the national crowd," he continued. "I have a feeling that we will never develop a real democracy unless we develop it with a local significance and interest."

J. P. MORGAN SEES LAUNCHING OF HIS $2,500,000 YACHT

Bath, Me., April 10.—[Special.]—J. P. Morgan came here today to attend the launching of his palatial steel yacht, The Corsair, said to be the largest ever built for a private individual, the cost being estimated at $2,500,000.

He was not aboard during the launching, but with his two sons, Junius and Henry, and two daughters remained on a launching platform directly under the clipper stem.

One of his daughters, Mrs. George Nichols, christened the yacht with champagne.

Mr. Morgan declared himself anxious for the yacht's delivery at as early a date as possible, for he is considering a voyage around the world in her.

The public, contrary to custom, was excluded from the shipyard at Mr. Morgan's request. There were plenty of vantage points along the Kennebec river front, however, and thousands availed themselves of this opportunity to see the event.

Hoover's Sister-in-Law Arrives for D.A.R. Sessions

Washington, D. C., April 10.—(AP)—Mrs. Theodore J. Hoover, wife of the President's only brother and state regent of the California Daughters American Revolution, today arrived in Washington to attend the Daughters American Revolution convention next week.

Her husband, dean of Stanford university school of engineering, has been in the capital attending the fiftieth annual convention of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

A group of Chicago members of the Daughters of the American Revolution left yesterday on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for Washington, D. C. There they will attend the 39th continental congress of the national society which opens on Monday and will continue during next week. On Easter Sunday, the Illinois Daughters will dedicate the Illinois Bell at Valley Forge. Mrs. Eli Dixson, state regent, headed the Illinois delegation.

Rockefeller Jr. Gives Princeton $300,000 More

Princeton, N. J., April 10.—[Special.]—A gift of $300,000 from John D. Rockefeller Jr. for the endowment of the industrial relations section of the department of economics and social institutions of Princeton university was announced at the spring meeting of the board of trustees here today.

The section has been supported by annual gifts from Mr. Rockefeller since its establishment in 1922.

Its function is to collect, organize, and make available economic material for use by company executives, representatives of labor organizations, and students.

Chicago Michigan Alumni to Hear President Ruthven

Chicago alumni of the University of Michigan will have their first opportunity to hear Dr. A. J. Ruthven, recently appointed president of the school, at the annual dinner of the alumni association at the Congress hotel tonight at 6:30 o'clock. Elmer J. Ottoway, president of the General Michigan Alumni association, will speak, and Benjamin F. Buck, assistant superintendent of schools, will be toastmaster.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

The Answers.

F. W. Schmidt, 331 Palmer street, mechanical engineer.—In a way, I am. I can't figure out why some of the admitted drys were nominated. I was glad to see the bond issues go through, especially that for the municipal airport. That will not only provide work for many men but it will be for the betterment of aviation.

Mrs. R. A. Leunis, 17 East Ohio street, housewife.—I am highly pleased with the results. I was glad to see Mrs. McCormick make so remarkable a showing. She will follow it up at the coming election. However, my husband says he is going to vote for James Hamilton Lewis.

Harry Stohen, 3901 Jackson boulevard, salesman.—I am. The contest among the Republicans was lively. I am highly pleased that Mrs. McCormick defeated Deneen. The Democrats have a good list of candidates.

Miss Annette Cooper, 4905 West Adams street, stenographer.—I am glad Mrs. McCormick will now have a good chance to go to the senate. The vote for her shows that if a candidate for the higher offices happens to be an able woman she can get a break. Chicago is in need of improved highways. The success of the bond issues will help some.

Ernest Fielding, 307 North Michigan avenue, advertising writer.—I think Mrs. McCormick will surprise some of the politicians. I feel that she is free from entangling alliances and that will make her service for the voters what it should be. It is fortunate, also, that the most important of the bond issues carried.

Sorority Bridge Party.

The Chicago alumnae chapter of Phi Omega Pi sorority will hold a bridge party this evening for members and their guests at the Granada hotel. The same group is to hold a business meeting tomorrow afternoon at the Allerton hotel.

Sky Is Green; Adam, Eve Copper Tinted

Thus They Start Another Garden Controversy.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Adam and Eve were turned out of the Garden of Eden and now are in danger of being turned out of the art salon of the Illinois Woman's Athletic club. Members who accepted the invitation of Mrs. Charles Peterson, sponsor for the exhibit of modern paintings by Miss Valentine Vogel of St. Louis, appeared for a cup of tea and remained to raise objections to the young artist's depiction of the banishment from Eden.

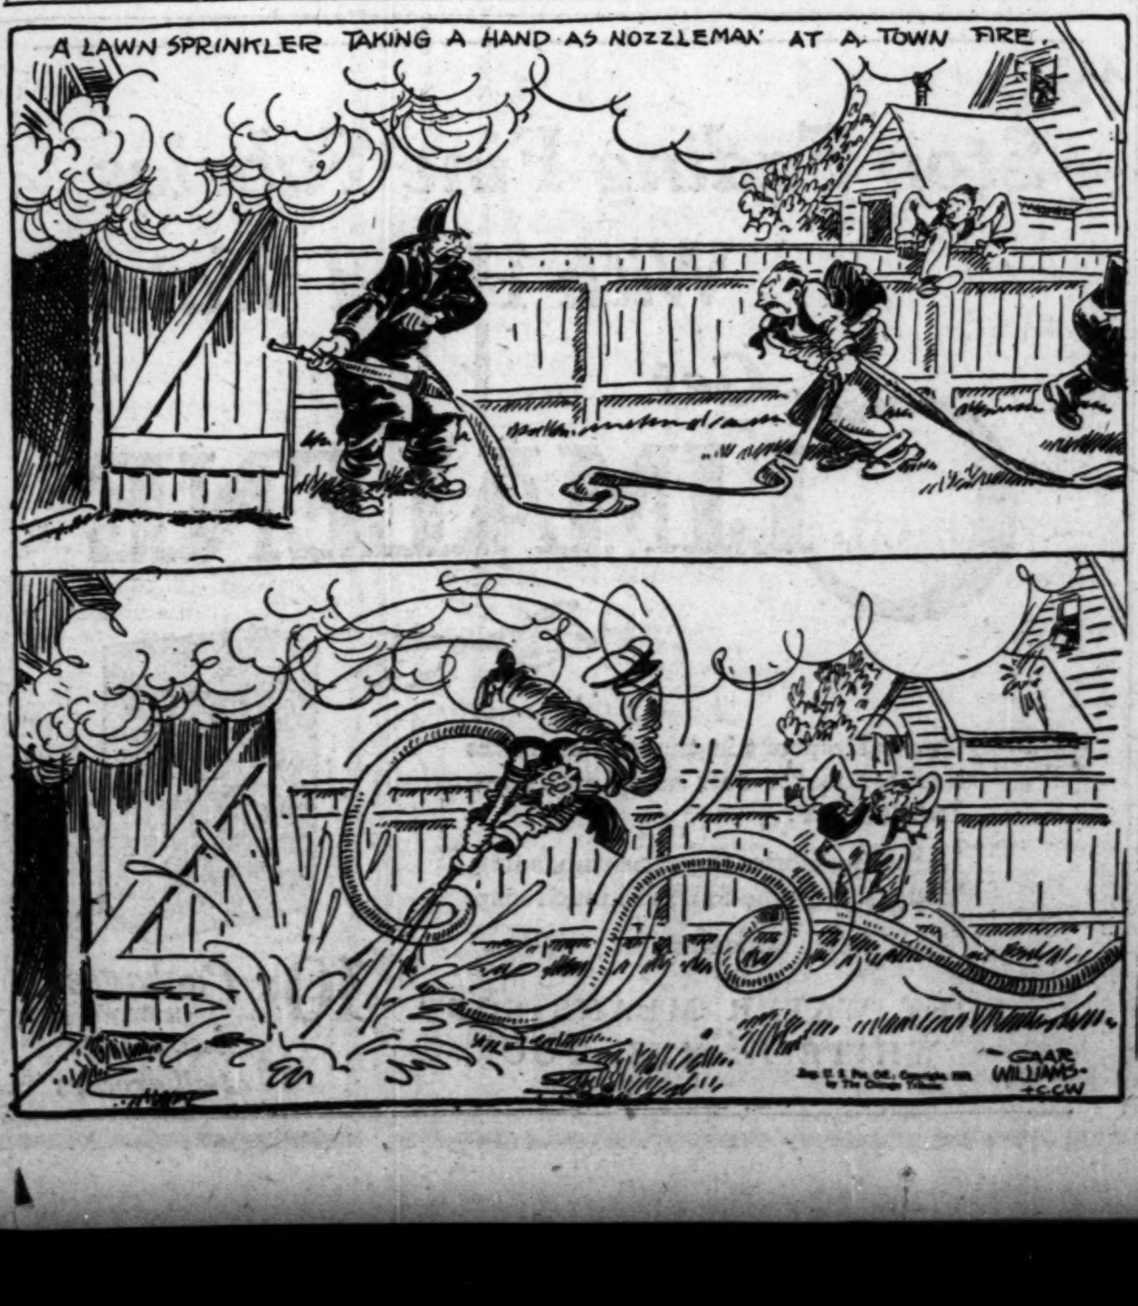
Opinions were freely expressed that the canvas should be withdrawn, but up to last night no one had made it an issue, and the picture remained. Objections to the painting, which Miss Vogel titled "Apres" [After], were based on the absence of even the conventional fig leaves as drapery. Criticisms also took into account the somewhat startling color scheme, which combines a deep copper hue in the figures of Adam and Eve with a light background of pale green sky. The dissenters asserted these shades certainly were not quite decent.

"I wonder," said the 24 year old artist whose career has included putting herself through college on the proceeds of her paintings, "whether these women don't ever visit the Art institute, and if they are shocked by what they see there? I don't think it's an obscene painting, and I don't see any reason for removing it."

The blonde and blue eyed Miss Vogel speaks nonchalantly of achievements enough to have satisfied a person twice her 24 years. She has supported herself since she was sixteen, including a year of study in Paris and Rome. She points out this landscape that won her a scholarship, that one that captured first prize in a reputable exhibit. The variety of her life is reflected in her work—a majority of still lifes, with various portraits and allegorical canvases.

"If my paintings didn't sell I played the piano or danced for my dinner," she explains. "Once I went broke in Paris—which is no fun—and I danced at Zelli's and the Imperial for my fare home. Thirty years ago my mother was one of the most beautiful ingenues on the New York stage. Dad had cornered the tomato market in St. Louis and he fell in love with her picture."

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD



THE STAGE

JOHN GALSWORTHY'S "Escape" has been announced as the next—and last—production of the repertory season of the Goodman. But it is a grim, depressing play, and with "Klopak Must Dance" on its hands as a monstrosity of pessimism, the Goodman has decided to omit Galsworthy. Instead of "Escape," a comedy by A. A. Milne, called "Ariadne," will be staged. The piece was favorably received in London several years ago. Tuesday, April 22, is the date of the premiere—which runs the list of Easter week openings up to seven.

Mei Lan-fang's new program at the Princess for Monday and Tuesday nights of next week will consist of items called "The Jealous Favorite," "The Bite of Ridicule," the tray and sleeve dance from "Ma Ku's Birthday Gift," and "The Fisherman's Gem." He will change the program again for his last two performances, Wednesday afternoon and evening, repeating the "Fox Spirit" pantomime and the tragic "Vengeance on the Bandit General" of this week's bill, and adding "Teasing the School Master" and a dance from "Mu Lan in the Army." Incidentally, he will act Sunday night, in spite of announcements to the contrary.

Allan Dinehart, who spent the winter in Chicago as a producing director for the National Broadcasting company, has heard the call of the footlights again, and has gone to New York with the manuscript of a play by Harry Segal called "Yesterday's Husbands," in his suitcase. He will produce it and act in it. Mr. Segal, a familiar figure on the Randolph Street Rialto, is the author of "The Behavior of Mrs. Crane," which has been having a European run of luck in a German translation.

Edith Taliaferro, sister of Mabel [remember "Polly of the Circus?"], spent last night in entranced observation of Francine Larrimore's performance of "Let Us Be Gay," at the Studebaker. There was a reason: Miss Taliaferro is on her way to play "Let Us Be Gay" in Australia.

"Lady Clara" is now the title of the English play to be staged at the Booth theater, New York, Thursday, April 17, with Florence Nash in the leading rôle. It used to be "Clara Gibbings," and then "Meet Lady Clara."

Chic Sale, the vaudeville performer who writes funny booklets, will soon be the star of a musical show called "So This Is Paris?" It will open in Philadelphia April 19.

The American rights to "Le Sexe Faible," a comedy by Edouard Bourdet, have been acquired by Gilbert Miller, who announces that he will produce the play at the Empire theater, New York, next season. The comedy was produced early last December at the Theater de la Michodiere in Paris. It is a satire on fortune hunting men—the "weaker sex" of the title.

"The Last Waltz," sometimes rated as the best operetta composed by Oscar Strauss, will be given by the German theater, at Sheffield and Belmont avenues, next Sunday. There will be two performances, matinée and evening. Lya Beyer, a prima donna from Vienna, will have the leading rôle. Oscar Strauss is now in Hollywood on a commission to compose for talking pictures.

The Palace theater's new program of vaudeville, which begins tomorrow, will contain Roy Cropper, a Chicago favorite from several of the long-run operettas; Clayton, Jackson and Durante, carried over for a second week of frolic; Gracie Barrie, a young prima donna; Maker and Redford, Brennan and Rogers, and the Dodge Sisters. The Palace regards this as one of the best bills of its season. C. C.

Peace Workers' Society Meets at U. of C. Tonight

The Peace Workers' society, a recently organized pacifist group of University of Chicago students, will hold its first public meeting tonight at Harper Memorial hall on the university campus. Mrs. Laura Hughes Lunde, niece of former Premier Hughes of Canada, will speak on the Kellogg treaty to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy. All members of the society are required to take a pledge to work for the abolition of war in the belief that "there can be no righteous or justifiable wars, whatever the nature of the dispute involved."

Tree Planting Today to Recall War Sacrifice

Soldiers' Forest Way Section to Be Dedicated.

Living memorials will be dedicated today (Arbor day), when trees are planted along part of the soldiers' section of the Forest way between Roosevelt road and the 31st street entrance of the new zoo. Ceremonies will be conducted at a point opposite the Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital at 2:30 p. m. Bugles will sound, snare drums will rattle, flags will be proudly carried.

Spades will thud as soil is packed, and memories will go back to other woodland views, where machine guns rat-tat-tatted, shells sang overhead, and rifle bullets whistled in their eerie way, while the sun flicked down through tattered foliage. But today there will be the hum of voices, the sound of speeches, the merry squealing of the fifes.

Among the organizations to be represented today are American Legion and auxiliary, Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution, Gold Star Mothers and Fathers, Boy and Girl Scouts, Grand Army of the Republic, and the Woman's Relief corps; Combat Medalmen's association, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Forty and Eight, United Spanish War Veterans, Daughters of Union Veterans, Military Intelligence association, Daughters of 1812, Daughters of American Colonists, Women's and Garden club members, and other groups interested in Arbor day celebration.

"We cordially invite any and all groups, families, or public spirited citizens interested in the dedication of this model highway for those who made the supreme sacrifice from Cook county to attend," stated the committee's invitation. "Ceremonies will begin promptly at 2:30 on First avenue, just east of the United States veterans' hospital, between Maywood and Riverside. Ample parking space is provided near the speakers' stand."

Music will be provided by the Medill-Tribune Legion post drum and bugle corps. In addition, Cassmer Imbur, champion state bugler, and Frank Ross, champion Illinois drummer, will take part.

Speakers on the program include Gen. Abel Davis, Joe Novotny, county Legion commander; A. J. Cermak and Dr. Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the Veterans' hospital. Places for the trees were dug yesterday under direction of Charles Sauers of the forest preserve. The trees will be the first in six rows of elms, maples, and oaks to line the entire soldiers' section from Roosevelt road to the zoo entrance at 31st street. That road will be part of the Forest way to connect all the preserves. Between each row of trees in the ultimate plan for the Forest way, which is expected to become world famous for its outstanding scenic arrangement, will be pathways for horseback riders and pedestrians, as well as the paved auto road.

Doctor Says Some Towns Drive Teachers Insane

Kalamazoo, Mich., April 10.—(AP)—Warning to the community which sets up barriers against personal freedom for its school teachers that it is contributing to an increasing insanity rate among members of that profession was issued here today by Dr. O. R. Yoder, psychiatrist of the Kalamazoo State hospital medical staff.

"The community," Dr. Yoder declared, "is overstepping its right when it presumes to restrict the personal affairs of the teacher in such matters as the length of her skirts, the cut of her hair, and what she does on her week-ends.

"Unquestionably one of the contributing causes for insanity among members of the teaching profession is to be found in the barriers against freedom of life which many communities place around teachers."

Condiments are Embroidery to Natural Foods

Original Flavor Suffers by Their Use.

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

The essence of some rare herb in the sauce with the meat may be charmingly tantalizing, especially to a "bon vivant." Some herbs do have great loveliness. A combination of seasonings, natural and condimental, may be pleasing and even wholesome. One side of cookery, and a rather difficult and advanced type of it, represents a mastery of these seasonings. But if we would really eat for the highest ultimate reasons the condiments, and the seasonings that are like condiments, will seem to us more like embroidery than fundamentals.

To know each and every quality in each food—natural, pure, and often supremely delicate seasonings put in by nature—is a way to secure a sort of rhythm of nourishment. Some foods can even be eaten with no outside additions, but when the highest practical dietetic principles are followed only such seasonings will be used as enhance or bring out the flavors native to the food seasoned.

If one seeks seriously to understand the high place of ideal eating in the economy of living, this business of constantly and completely nourishing the human body must have associated with it the idea of keeping foods natural. It is an idea that will grow in importance when cherished. By following it we will surely increase our physical well being, acquire good taste and, perhaps, best of all, good common sense. That is, we work first for ourselves and then for others, because the acquirement of good taste in all general ways can have a mighty influence in turning crude humanity into a civilized mass of men. This may seem a high flown viewpoint, while the good common sense evolved would perhaps do more for just you and me.

Characteristic Flavors.

As for me, the idea of cooking each food so that its own characteristics predominate over those of any addition, is one that has not grown up in a day, or even in a week or month. It is the result of many years of experiment and thought. Lately the idea has become anxious to be formulated anew, because I have gone to luncheons or dinners, in places making a great bid for popularity where the soups, meats, vegetables, etc., have had practically no fine first taste. And sometimes the taste they have had was nothing more than a prickle.

Any appeals or delicacies or scales of flavor these foods should have were reduced to zero, as surely as when poorly cooked food is "doused" with ketchup or chili sauce. If all the eating of the world was of this fashion it would be something dreadful to consider.

Fortunately for us, the models of fine flavors can never disappear from the world just as long as we have fruits in their natural state. In their unnatural states—and there are several sorts of these—we are again faced with discouragement. And just as long as there are plain raw tomatoes grown in good soil—some are not—we shall know how exquisitely spicy a fruit a plant not pleasing in itself can produce.

A perfect tomato may give wonderful titilation to our taste buds. A fine cucumber, plain, may teach us a good deal about flavor and what constitutes its qualities. Plain celery is another item whose natural flavor we can enjoy in the plainest way, and it is a flavor that is hard to destroy even in combination, when the celery remains raw.

Perfect Cleanliness Is Vital.

It is easy to prove that the extreme flavors, those that burn and prick and are exaggerations of flavor, were devised by humble people who possessed but a scanty diet. Our modern problem is an entirely different one. Sometimes we have to get perfect, natural or innate flavors by protecting in various ways the foods we have from any deadening influences and from dirt. A first requisite for perfection of flavor in food is that it be clean, immaculately clean, not only from all sorts of dirt, but from uncleanness that comes from wrong associations.

In the history of food commerce there are most illuminative and interesting stories about what can happen to a food because of its associations. When we eat a raw food it must be clean or we cannot possibly realize its delicious self-seasonings. Likewise, when it is to be cooked it must be thoroughly clean before subjected to any processing.

It may be a misfortune when one pays a high price for a cooked meat in an expensive hotel dining room to recognize with the first mouthful a dirt taste, but there are worse misfortunes than this, and there are worse misfortunes than taking a mouthful of new green peas that look quite perfect in color, but have no more taste than paper.

Desire for Condiments Increases.

Condiments often enhance natural flavors and so have a permanent and important place. Salt is indispensable, but in the case of some of the other condiments people behave somewhat as they do concerning drugs. It requires more and more to satisfy them.

There is an entertaining diagram of what these condiments do or what physiological effect they have stamped in gilt on the cover of an old book called "The Epicure's Year Book." There are four circles within which are gilt heads of imaginary beasts. These are labeled pepper, salt, mustard, and vinegar. The nostrils of the fiery looking pepper are shedding gilt rays like a cat's whiskers.

The head representing salt is happy eyed and complacent, but has a mouth opened to about 100 degrees. The end of the long tongue is curled in an anticipatory way, and there are great scalloped taste buds on the back half, while something like a Prince Rupert drop has either been tossed into the mouth or is about to descend into the eager bowl the tongue makes.

The figure for mustard has startled eyes and his tongue is shredded. Vinegar's eye is closed and his hideous nose wattled; his huge upper and lower teeth close upon each other. These are not the only symbolical representations of the physiological effects of condiments.

We might go back to the charming herb we mentioned at the start and find how much its aroma has been worth in the serving of food, but in contrast there are always the strong condiments to be more or less condemned just because the one who eats them cannot seem to be temperate, but is like a character in an old drama whom death catches while he has a pound of pepper in his hand.

Shrimp Pie.

It is about time that two recipes for shrimp pie acquired in Charleston, S. C., six years ago be repeated. One was from a woman who had been successful in feeding people on her island home just out from Charleston for many years. Both these recipes mention the quantity of shrimp by the word plate. The plate used for measuring is the size of an ordinary pie tin, and when you buy a plate of shrimps either in Charleston or New Orleans you get this amount heaped up well.

The first recipe reads: Two plates of shrimp boiled in well salted water to cover until the flesh separates from the shell. Shell or peel the cooked shrimps and for the two original plates use about one cup cracker dust, one tablespoon of butter, pepper and salt if needed, and enough milk to make the cracker the consistency of soft hominy. Add one tablespoon grated cheese, then add shrimp and sprinkle with cracker dust. Bake pie in moderate oven until brown.

The mention is made here of hominy which is so universally used in southern cities that you can hardly start to quiz people about their foods without a mention of hominy and rice. Boiled shrimps are frequently served with hominy.

The other shrimp pie recipe calls for two plates of shrimp boiled and peeled and enough bread to give the pie body—three or four slices, or up to half a loaf. Soak the bread in stewed or canned tomato and then put it into a colander, season with scraped onion, and if you choose a little spice but no pepper. Celery salt "gives a certain unknown flavor" better than does common salt. It takes a great deal of butter [probably a third of a cup]. When put together bake and let stand for an hour when it will still be hot enough to eat. The woman of about 80 who gave this to me said: "Experience tells you how much bread to use with shrimps. There must be enough to hold it together. You learn by practice how much."

In this woman's family, she said, they had shrimp pie almost every day in summer, and her advice was that in buying shrimps you must not get those that were "all head and tail." She did not like cheese with her shrimp pie, neither did she like rice, and she wanted the little shrimps, not the big prawns, which she considered strong. Prawns are what we mainly get, because the tiny shrimp are small fry indeed, and perhaps not as profitable to transport.

Lots of Clever Ideas at States' Flower Show

Table Decorations Are Ingenious.

BY SALLY LUNN.

If you think there aren't any new ideas under the sun, just take a trip to the Central States Flower and Garden show at the Chicago Stadium before it closes on Sunday and inspect the table competition. You'll be delightfully surprised at the variety of things, and you should get enough inspirations for new table arrangements and party settings to last a long time. The classes of entries are well planned to show the greatest possible ideas and materials. There are three classes of tables: dinner tables, luncheon tables with a $15 limit for accessories, and special occasion tables.

The Joliet Garden club's entry in the special occasion class of six tables, depicting six episodes in a hypothetical Nancy's life, beginning with a children's party set with a tarlatan cloth dotted with crêpe paper roses and progressing through the engagement announcement party, the wedding dinner, and to the golden wedding anniversary table, was an interesting and ingenious array. The Morgan Park Woman's club's "Southwest dinner" that won a blue ribbon is a lovely thing in color and arrangement.

An Amusing Child's Table.

The Norwood Park children's table, with a centerpiece of a fish-shaped bowl of goldfish and two pottery cats, is an amusing one, and the St. Charles wedding table with shiny tin candleholders and little tin animal shapes is gay and clever. The Kenwood Home and Garden club sets an interesting nineteenth century table with old fashioned china, covered dishes, pressed glass tumblers, a cut glass decanter, and a center vase of roses, reminiscent of about 1895.

The limited price tables are most ingenious and effective. The Lake Forest Junior Garden club's table won first prize with Chinese gold paper cloth, a centerpiece of artistically arranged stalks of rhubarb, and some shaped penguins, purchased readily in Ceylon.

Triumph of Ingenuity.

The Riverside Garden club's creation is a triumph of budgeted cleverness. The cloth of pale green silky fabric, striped down the center with ribbon, cost $1.10; golbets, $2.50; the plates [salad plates from the 10 cent store, with borders striped in orange, green, white, and black], 60 cents; black and yellow bread and butter plates, 60 cents; orange cups and black saucers, $1.20; painted tin candle holders, 20 cents; centerpiece of painted cake and candy tins, 20 cents; black and orange napkins, 60 cents; pussy willows and [illegible], 25 cents; paint and lacquer, $1.15, and tinsmith services, $2.25.

The winning dinner table, set by Mrs. Helen Leonard to represent the Crystal Lake Garden club, is a lovely thing, a vision in cool green, white and pewter.

CHARMING TABLE FOR LOW COST

States Vie with Each Other in Growing Onions

Indiana Leads All in Production.

BY PAUL POTTER.

Those who "know their onions" see an interesting and intensifying sectional competition in the United States this year in the production of onions, recognized as king vegetable in the seasoning realms of cookery.

Competition in production involves housewives as well as farmers, truck growers, and produce dealers, for rivalry usually brings quality foods to the table at fairly low prices, according to government reports. Onions, for instance, in the fall of each year for several seasons back have been around $1 per bushel with little increase during winter months.

North, south, east, and west have their production centers for this one article of food. Indiana leads and has been followed in order of production for several years by New York, Ohio, Colorado, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Jersey, Iowa, and Wisconsin.

Warnings have been issued by the United States department of agriculture and by midwest produce dealers that acreage this year should be curtailed rather than increased. But little change in onion acreage in the northern states seems likely, according to truck farmers in the Chicago region.

Texas, California, and Louisiana are expected to grow fewer early Bermuda and Creole varieties. Acreage on these in late years has been increasing and prices decreasing over the five year average of 1923 to 1927.

Midseason shipping states including California, Iowa, Washington, Kentucky, New Jersey, northern Texas, and Virginia materially decreased their acreage last year and prices showed an appreciable upward trend, but the growers intend to offer an even smaller crop this year to realize more per bushel.

Wisconsin, two southeast counties of which produce 75 per cent of the state's average onion crop, is trying new methods to curry favor of housewives who buy food and therefore usually know their onions. Racine and Kenosha county farmers living in the lake shore section are now in their fields planting onion sets for an early market Wisconsin crop to precede their fall production.

Machinery such as has been developed recently for use in Indiana is being purchased in Wisconsin. Three rows of sets are planted mechanically at a time, usually lessening labor costs. Oncoming onion prices, although not expected to be high, probably will bring those using the new system better returns than from the fall crop of red and yellow bulbs grown from seed, farmers believe.

Advice on storing onions in the cellar of the average home is simple. They should be mature and thoroughly dry, authorities agree. They are best placed in ventilated barrels, baskets, crates, or loosely woven bags.

TWO-TO-ONE TWO-TO-ONE

Baby has a big job growing two sets of teeth

... it's lucky you can help him!

Strong teeth that can last a lifetime require the right kind of food. Calcium and phosphate in food are vitally important to the growth of teeth and bones. Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin, is important because it affects the amount of calcium in the blood.

See that growing children never lack sunshine, and see also that they get foods rich in calcium.

Of these foods milk is the richest. Yet it takes nearly fifty quarts of milk to equal the calcium and phosphate in a one-pound can of Rumford.

Give your entire family the advantages of Rumford-cooked foods in their daily diet and give your baking the advantages of Two-to-One leavening.

Try This Japanese Foot Remedy

Costs Little and Makes the Feet Feel Fine

Foot sufferers gather round; get right up close and listen. Here's good news for you.

The real "Corn Killer" is here at last. Ice-Mint, the New Discovery made from a Japanese product, is said to surely and quickly end all foot misery.

Hard corns, soft corns, or corns between the toes, also toughened callouses, just shrivel up and lift off easy. It's wonderful. There is no pain or soreness when applying Ice-Mint or afterwards, and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Think of it; just a touch or two of that cooling, soothing Ice-Mint, and real foot joy is yours.

Ice-Mint prevents foot-odors and keeps them sweet and comfortable. It is the real Japanese secret for fine, healthy little feet, and keeps you free from winter foot troubles. Every person who has suffered with stubborn corns or tender feet can appreciate the cooling, soothing comfort that it brings; especially women who wear high heeled shoes, and men who have to stand all day on their feet. Try it. Get a few cents worth of Ice-Mint from your druggist today and give your poor, tired, suffering, burning feet the treat of their lives. There is nothing better.

U. of C. Fellowships Given to 138, with Women Getting 11

Award of 138 graduate fellowships, the largest number at one time in its history and carrying $300 to $1,500 each, was announced yesterday at the University of Chicago.

Twenty-four of the 138 are "special fellowships," privately endowed and valued at an average of over $1,000 each. The others are departmental fellowships, averaging $700.

Ten of the specials go to women. Departments which announce the largest number of fellows are chemistry, 11; graduate divinity, 10; mathematics, 9; social service administration, 8; and economics, physics, and history, 7 each. The total number announced at this time last year was 117.

Among the foreign students honored are John Stuart Mill Allely, a graduate of Queen's university, Canada; Santinya Cosentino, a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh; Panayotis Morphopoulos, University of California; Ching-Yueh Yen, Yenching university; and Turko Nakamura, Wellesley college. The fellowships are to aid the students in advanced work during the coming year.

Special fellowships have been announced as follows:

Sydney Hillman fellowship in economics and industrial relations, to Ruth M. Kellogg of Kansas State Agricultural college and the University of Chicago.

Catherine Cleveland fellowship in history to Harris G. Hudson, Millikin university and Oxford university.

Charles R. Henderson fellowship in sociology to Robert E. Lee Faris, University of Chicago.

Cleo Hearon fellowship in history to Mack B. Swearingen, Millsaps college and the University of Chicago.

Edward L. Ryerson fellowships in Roman archaeology to Olivia N. Dorman, Randolph-Macon college and the University of Chicago, and Helena Gamer, University of Chicago.

Shorey fellowship in Greek to Benedict S. Einarson, University of Chicago.

Cyrus D. Eaton fellowships in mathematics to Ralph Hull and Ralph D. James, University of British Columbia.

Du Pont fellowship in chemistry to Adeline Bloodgood, University of South Dakota.

Eli Lilly fellowships in chemistry to Frank R. Mayo, University of Chicago; Teruko Nakamura, Wellesley college, and Austin B. Wilder, Ohio State university.

Quaker Oats fellowship in physiological chemistry to Alice D. Saunders, Wellesley college.

Leila Houghteling fellowship in social service administration to Erwin W. Johnson, Jamestown college and the McCormick Theological seminary; Jane Mullenbach, University of Chicago, and Phyllis Zamboni, University of Minnesota.

Our neighbor in the downstairs flat habitually borrowed our dining room chairs whenever she entertained guests. One evening when she returned the chairs my 3 year old niece was visiting me. Thanking me again for my kindness, Mrs. B. turned to little Mary and said:

"You and your aunt must come down and see me sometime. Won't you, dear?"

Mary, having heard me tell of the many times I had loaned my furniture, answered brightly:

"Yes, ma'am, and we'll bring the chairs."

Furniture for Settlement House.

"I wonder if you can help our settlement house. We need rugs to cover the old floors, chairs for the boys and girls who crowd the club meetings, and an old piano. The place is almost bare and I have appealed to our own church people, but every one seems to be hanging on to their old things. MRS. H. K."

While making preparations to move I am sure that a number of you have found articles which will not fit or will not be suitable in the new apartment. If any of the articles you are discarding would help to make this settlement house a more comfortable or enjoyable place for the boys and girls to spend their time may they not have them?

Don't fool yourself!

Since halitosis never announces itself to the victim, you simply cannot know when you have it.

Why she didn't want to kiss him

Halitosis (unpleasant breath) has broken up many a love affair and friendship.

Don't fool yourself that you never have it. Because you simply cannot be sure of that. Halitosis never announces itself to the victim. But it does to others—and offends them.

Therefore, before meeting others, rinse the mouth with full strength Listerine. If halitosis is present, it destroys it. If it isn't (and you cannot tell) your mouth receives the benefit of a refreshing and invigorating treatment.

Listerine overcomes halitosis because it is an active antiseptic and germicide which kills germs of all kinds in 15 seconds. Therefore, it checks food fermentation and infection—both a cause of odors. Then, being a powerful deodorant, it gets rid of the odors themselves.

Keep a bottle of Listerine handy in home and office. Use it often. It pays. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

How Konjola Ended Five Years of Suffering

Strange, but true, Konjola, the new and different medicine, seems at the peak of its powers in the stubborn cases that have defied all else tried. Read, as proof of this, the words of Mr. Robert A. Miller:

MR. ROBERT A. MILLER
2055 Pensacola Ave., Chicago

"In Konjola I found the right medicine, after trying many medicines and taking bottle after bottle of magnesia. I became so bad that I underwent the X-Ray. My trouble was acidity. A friend recommended Konjola, and after the first bottle I began to improve. I have used six bottles, and no longer suffer with sour stomach and can eat any kind of food. I have been in the postal service in Chicago for 22 years, and am recommending Konjola to all my friends."

Virginia Chapin Francis Drake to Wed April 29

BY THALIA

There will be a large wedding for Miss Virginia Chapin, daughter of the Simeon B. Chapins of New York City and Lake Geneva, and Francis Drake, son of the Tracy Drakes of Chicago, April 29. There will be a long procession of bridal attendants. The service is to be read at the Collegiate Church of St. Nicholas in New York city.

The sister of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Kenneth A. Patterson, is to be matron of honor, and the bridesmaids will include the groom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Carlos C. Drake of Paris; Miss Patricia Silverthorne, the bride's cousin; Mrs. John Louis de Ruyter, Mrs. John Ashley Merriman, Mrs. George F. Hackl Jr., Miss Iris Sellar, Miss Mary Gertrude Finucane, Miss ... Brand of Pasadena, Miss Helen ...ington, Miss Louise Rorimer, Miss Dorothy Russell Havemeyer, and Miss ... Erdmann.

Carlos Drake is to be his brother's best man, and the ushers include Simeon Brooks Chapin Jr., Kenneth A. Patterson, Albert Keep, Alphone Kennedy Jr., John Bertram Whitelaw, John Cutler, Hyde Gillette, Eben ...owlton, John R. Toop, Thomas Fiel, Walter Howe, and Hamilton Southworth.

The Woman's Athletic club has sent cards out for a piano recital by Winifred Macbride on next Tuesday morning, April 15, at 11 o'clock.

Harold F. McCormick is in town and at his residence at 675 Rush street, after a winter of traveling around with his son-in-law and daughter, the Max Osers, and their family. The Osers are remaining in California.

Miss Lena Turnbull of Boston arrives today for one of her quite frequent visits with her good friend, Princess Michael Cantacuzene. Miss Turnbull is to be in Chicago for about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy of ... North Michigan avenue are to sail on May 2 for a trip of several months in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hodges of Lake Forest arrived day before yesterday from their European trip. Mrs. Hodges brought with her the latest news from the Parisian wardrobe dictators, exemplified in some chic clothes she purchased in the fashion capital. My dears, her street dresses are all only 7 inches from the ground —believe it or not—and her evening things, of course, trail the earth. Her "models" include a suit, several afternoon dresses, and some evening gowns.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison Jr. of Lake Forest are expected to return from their Mediterranean cruise before Easter.

Miss Irene Wilson of 209 Lake Shore drive landed in New York City after a European trip with Mrs. Robert W. ...cke of Washington, D. C., the first of this month, and has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Edward Fisher, in Bronxville, N. Y. She is expected to arrive in Chicago this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Couch of 232 East Walton place have been in Pinehurst for the last two weeks. Before returning to Chicago they plan to be in Washington, D. C., and New York City for several days. Their son, Jack Couch, a student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will join them for his Easter vacation.

Mrs. Samuel Insull Jr. of 1244 Stone street and her sister, Mrs. Robert McCreary, will be back tomorrow from their trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Landon Hoyt of Winnetka; their daughter, Mrs. D. L. Sutherland, and their grandchild, Julian, have returned from Green Cove Springs, Fla., where the Hoyts have a winter residence. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt went south immediately after Christmas.

Countess Charles Ferry de Fontnouvelle, wife of the French consul general, has returned to Chicago after almost a year's stay in France. She has brought back with her the Fontnouvelles' youngest son, Charles, and Pierre is remaining in Normandy until his school term is over. Then he will come to Chicago. Count Fontnouvelle has been keeping bachelor quarters this winter, the while he has been a popular "extra" man for parties, and now the family is house hunting for an apartment that they hope to move into by May 1.

LEAVING FOR HOME

Melvin A. Traylor Jr. and Miss Nancy Traylor were photographed as they were starting a return voyage to the United States after a pre-Easter vacation in Bermuda with their mother, Mrs. Melvin A. Traylor of 426 Barry avenue.

Opera Singer Plans Concert to Help Polish Hospital

Mrs. Alexander Szczepanski, wife of the newly appointed consul general of Poland at Chicago, is honorary chairman of the committee on the Easter concert which Tito Schipa, tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera company, will give to benefit the fund for a new addition to the present building of St. Mary of Nazareth hospital, 1120 North Leavitt street, which is conducted under the auspices of a Polish order of Catholic nuns. The concert will be given in the new Civic Opera house on Easter Sunday afternoon.

Yankee Music Played as Stock Leads Orchestra

Some Is Based on That of Indians.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

For the semi-final popular concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra Mr. Stock arranged an all-American program, and an excellent program it turned out to be. At least four out of the five numbers are attractive enough and have been played often enough to have become fairly well standardized. The fifth, Charles Sanford Skilton's "Primeval" suite, has been played before, though not often, but it deserves a rating along with the others.

It is one of the many cases of American music based upon Indian themes and one of the few that have turned out well. Some sort of harmonization is necessary if Indian themes are to be used at all, but Mr. Skilton has avoided the two dangers of too much length and trying to express Indian nature with abstruse harmonies. The set was admirably conducted by Eric De Lamarter. The other numbers were Henry Hadley's "In Bohemia" overture, George W. Chadwick's "Tam O'Shanter," Leo Sowerby's "From the Northland," and Edward MacDowell's "In a Haunted Forest."

The Young American Artists' concert at Curtiss hall last night disclosed Helen Du Fresne, a young soprano with a slender, attractive voice who has learned to do some highly agreeable things with it. Its smooth, sustained quality and well developed power of expression was excellently displayed in a group of French and German songs. Her associate on the program was Charlotte Vogel, pianist, who played with considerable fluency and ease but was somewhat too ready to yield to the temptation of erratic rhythms.

Boy Scouts to Govern City of Beloit Today

Beloit, Wis., April 10.—[Special.]—Boy Scouts will rule Beloit tomorrow. A scout city administration, elected earlier in the week, includes Johann W. Peterson, city manager; Tom Heebink, president of the council; Clarence Rief, municipal judge, and Harold Kindschi, sheriff. A scout council meeting tomorrow night will climax the boys' day of civic labors.

Young Radicals Fined $1 for School Strike Appeal

Municipal Judge Freeman L. Fairbanks yesterday imposed fines of $1 on two youthful radicals who were arrested on Feb. 19 when they tried to persuade the pupils at the Brown elementary school, Wood and Morgan streets, to strike. Those fined are Mary Mazrak, 16 years old, 1509 Wicker Park avenue, and Morris Fine, 17 years old, 1850 Milwaukee avenue.

BETROTHED

MISS LAURETTA HUTTNER.

Mrs. Lillian Huttner of 531 West 65th place has anounced the engagement of her daughter, Lauretta, to Howard Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Simpson of 533 West 65th place. Mr. Simpson is a member of Kappa Tau Phi fraternity.

DORIS STEVENS FIGHTS SEX BAN AT HAGUE; CABLES TO HOOVER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, April 10.—A squabble between the male and female delegates to the conference for the codification of international law was carried to President Hoover tonight by Miss Doris Stevens of the National Woman's party of the United States. She cabled the President that the American delegation was making no effective fight to prevent the adoption of sex discriminations at the nationality convention. She was opposing the order, issued by Edohorus Heemskerk, president of the conference, barring women from the Peace palace during sessions of the conference.

At a plenary session held late tonight the American delegation refused to accept a convention embodying regulations affecting the nationality of married women. The convention was adopted, nevertheless, by a vote of 40 to 1.

David Hunter Miller, head of the American delegation, said that it would be better to await a more progressive agreement, and in announcing that the American delegation would not sign the general nationality convention he added that the American delegates would recommend to Washington not to sign at a later date.

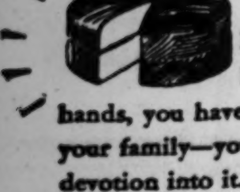
WE know how you feel about baking your own cake



IT IS a very nice feeling to know that, with your own hands, you have made a fine big cake for your family—you have put a lot of care and devotion into it. That pleases them and it pleases you, too, to see how they enjoy it.

Every once in a while you give yourself this pleasure, even though it means the fuss and bother of mixing and measuring, long hours in the kitchen, and the tedious task of cleaning up afterwards.

And don't you remember how long that big cake lasted and how you all got a bit tired of it? Don't you think your family would really like it better if they could have a cake just about right for one meal—and then have a different cake next time?

Ward's Fine Cake, you, as a cake maker, will recognize immediately as wonderfully good cake. The ingredients are just as fine as you would use yourself. And the bakers who make them are experts at baking.

Ward's Fine Cake costs a great deal less than home-made. We make many hundreds of them at one time, while you make only one or two. And of course we can buy those fine ingredients for much less than you can.

Just think over this matter of having us bake your cake for you and saving you the trouble and cost. Thousands of very good home cake makers are finding it a real economy of time and money to have us do their baking for them.

At your dealer's are a great many varieties of Ward's Fine Cakes. Start in by trying the kind you particularly pride yourself on making so well. Why not do it today!

WARD BAKING COMPANY

PLEDGE OF FRESHNESS: If by any chance you should happen to buy a Ward's cake that is not fresh or that is unsatisfactory in any way, simply take it back to your grocer in the original wrapper or package. He will give you a fresh cake or refund your money.

WARD'S FINE CAKE

WARD'S WEEK-END SPECIAL—Every Friday and Saturday your dealer has a special treat for you and your family—a surprise cake for you to enjoy over the week-end. Ask him about the Ward Week-End Special.

Cold Cream, When Correctly Used, Is Friend to Beauty

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

If there is a person of feminine gender over 15 years of age in this broad land of ours who has not her jar of cold cream she is a creature apart from her sisters.

A cleaning woman, a rough and rowdy character if ever there was one, with a voice that coud call home the cows from the next county and language that would make a stevedore's hair rise, held me up one day with the warning that she was going to ask a great favor.

"Where can I get a cold cream that will help my skin?" it was.

The poor darling's skin was like leather, and after some fifty-odd years of abuse it was a question in my mind if a magic lotion would do a bit of good. But, at least, the request proves that there breathes no femme with soul so dead that she doesn't want to experiment. Incidentally, there was a man behind the cleaning woman's cold cream interest. She had just disposed of a second mate and confided that it was lonesome without a man around to bawl (I can't tell you what the word here is) out of.

It would follow with the universal passion for cold cream ownership that some would abuse its use. And I speak particularly of the oily skinned types who should have their own kind of cleansing cream, but whose skin prospers best if soap and water are leaned on heavily. But these are not the only types that show neither temperance nor intelligence in the use of a perfectly good article. It wouldn't matter whether it were a hair tonic or a freckle remedy. The article might be everything it is guaranteed, but abuse would defeat the purpose of its use.

Suppose you do all your skin cleansing with a cream and your skin is not the extremely sensitive kind. You could easily do it a lot of damage by piling cream and more cream upon an already greasy surface. Before new applications of cream the old should be removed with either a soap and water bath or with an astringent wiping. You do not want to get the pores so overloaded with oil and grease that their proper functioning is impeded.

I am not decrying the use of cream, understand—only its intemperate use.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

ESTHER G.: A GIRL OF 15, FIVE feet two inches, should weigh 112 pounds; a boy of 16, five feet six inches, should weigh 128 pounds, and a young lady of 19, five feet, should weigh 113 pounds.

E. T.: THIN PEOPLE SHOULD not exercise too vigorously. Take just enough exercise to promote good appetite. A brisk walk of two or three miles before dinner will make you relish your food.

Jews Prepare for Seven Day Rites of Passover

Members of the Jewish faith are preparing for the high holidays of the Passover season, which begins tomorrow night and continues seven days. During the period the faithful eat no leavened bread. According to Dr. Gerson B. Levi, spiritual leader of the Temple, 5030 Greenwood avenue, the Passover season commemorates the redemption of the Jews from Egypt.

Rabbi Levi stated that the first and the seventh day are more strictly observed and no work is permitted.

Marriage Needs Revival of That Fine Word, "Duty"

BY DORIS BLAKE.

What the country needs, according to the famed woman novelist, Kathleen Norris, is not a five cent anything, but the reëstablishment of that good and fruitful old word, DUTY.

Not in so many words does Mrs. Norris express the country's need. Nor, in fact, was she discussing prohibition, the tariff, or any governmental problem. It is for the benefit of marriage that the revival of the term is used.

One gathers from further comments from the well known writer that a practising return of the word duty would do away with such fantastic suggestions as companionate marriage, freer divorce, birth control, et cetera.

I'll wager that some of our young could ask in all sincerity what is the meaning of the word "duty." They have heard it, of course. But what it means in their lives is something on which they might legitimately ask for enlightenment. As children they were never schooled in its meaning. As grownup girls and boys they gathered the impression that it had something to do with fighting for one's country.

At marriageable age the term is completely inundated under the pressure of material considerations, of every individual's right to the pursuit of his or her own happiness, or under the pressure of any of the things that create black shadows over domestic horizons.

Let us see what the word duty really means. "That which is due," Webster says. "That which one ought to do; any assigned service or business; respect, reverence, etc." It does sound like a good marriage formula, does it not?

But it is one of those formulæ that you cannot present to a pair as a wedding present and expect them to make use of if they haven't been trained to know its meaning before. It looks as if the word were one that concerns parents more than it does young people, at the moment. Theirs is the responsibility of incorporating it in young lives. It has to take root at an early age, too, or it bears no fruit.

Anyway, Mrs. Norris' suggestion does seem to be a motion that ought to be passed upon for a better tomorrow marriage showing. And for the good of the country, too, we insist upon postscripting.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Peculiar Conduct.

"Dear Miss Blake: What do you think of a fellow, who tells his friends he loves the girl he goes with, but tells her he hates her?

"TRUE BLUE GIRL."

Girl Speaks First.

"Dear Miss Blake: Should I speak first to my friend on the street or should he? WONDERING."

It's your place to speak to him when you meet him.

Richmond Palette Club Show Opens in Hoosier Galleries

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The Palette club of Richmond [Ind.] is holding its first Chicago exhibit in the Hoosier Art gallery, 211 West Wacker drive. The Hoosier gallery is sponsoring the exhibit. This Palette club is the first organization to be formed of artist members, and is the direct result of the first exhibition of the Hoosier salon, now an annual event of the winter, held in Chicago.

The club is made up of professional painters and business people who are taking up painting as an avocation. John Bundy, well known landscape painter, acted as critic, as well as being an active member of the society for several years. The club employs its own models. It offers criticisms on the work of the members, paints out of doors, whenever the weather permits, and in every way strives to foster and develop artistic standards in the town of Richmond. Illinois towns might copy.

Several of the members have been prize winners on various occasions, but for the first time the club as a whole is exhibiting. The exhibit is cheerful, bright, and decorative. Among the best of the paintings are the three water colors by Carolyn Bradley, "Clouds," "Canadian Barn," and "Guinea Boats." They are extremely well done, and well out of the class of the amateur dabbler in color. The "Winter Stream," by George Baker, is an interesting canvas, chill and gray. The feeling of winter is there, though possibly the composition is a bit thin. The "First Touch of Autumn," by John Elwood Bundy, is a glorious landscape. Maude Kaufman Eggemeyer has a nice thing in "Before the Days of Wacker Drive." "The Hungry Duck," and "In Milton" are two delightful paintings by Elmira Kempton. John M. King has an excellent still life with his "The Red Pitcher." Clara W. King has a charming incident in her delicately handled "The Cracker Jar." "Winter Day" and "Shadows," by Harry R. Townsend, who, by the way, is the president of the club, are among the most interesting paintings in the gallery.

The exhibit will continue through April 24.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, April 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Sterrett were hosts last night at one of the largest musicales of the late season. The program was contributed by Mme. Marta Linz, a noted Hungarian violinist, who made her first appearance before an American audience.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Mills entertained Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Beard at tea at their home on Sutton place, south.

Mrs. Albert A. Stewart has returned from Augusta, Ga., were she passed the winter.

Only members of the two families and a few old friends witnessed the marriage this afternoon of Mrs. Betsy Talbot Washington and Mr. James Madison Blackwell. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, 40 5th avenue.

Mrs. William Allen Bartlett has returned from a world cruise.

Chicago Engineer to Start $4,000,000 Job in Russia

ISTANBUL, Turkey, April 10.—(AP)—Col. Warren Roberts, chairman of the Robert & Schaefer company of Chicago, will leave here tomorrow for Odessa, where he will begin construction of $4,000,000 in coal mining apparatus in southeastern Ukraine for which the soviet government contracted last year. Col. Roberts said that about fifty American engineers would direct the surface construction, requiring two years.

British Royal Family Plans to Be Together on Easter Sunday

LONDON, April 10.—(AP)—Easter, like Christmas, generally is a season when the British king and queen contrive to gather most of their family around them. Only the prince of Wales will be absent from the gathering at Windsor Castle over the holiday.

The duke and duchess of York spent considerable time at Naseby hall, in Northamptonshire, which the duke rented, but they have now returned to London and will go to Windsor within the next few days. The earl of Harewood, who, before his accession to his father's earldom, was the Viscount Lascelles, and his wife, the princess Mary, will arrive early next week.

The duke of Gloucester and Prince George already are at Windsor. The king is riding almost daily in the great park of the castle. Their majesties, while at Windsor, usually entertain small week-end parties. They will resume this habit now as the ten days' period of court mourning decreed out of respect to the late Victoria, queen of Sweden, closes on Maundy Thursday.

LENTEN NOTES

The Holy Name cathedral has received the gift of a paschal candle from Cardinal Mundelein. It was presented to the cardinal by Pope Pius XI. In the announcement of the gift by the cathedral office it was said the candle will be used in the Easter services.

"Say It and Stop" Is Needed Slogan for Many Parents

A book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant Van Blarcom, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 65 cents.

"Read 'Em and Weep" is the name, as you know, of one of those books that have been appearing lately, that are collections of funny old songs—"The Engineer's Child," "Only Me," etc. Touching ballads!

"Say It and Stop" would be a good motto for us parents to have pasted up somewhere—perhaps in the bathroom where we do get discouraged over spatters and grimy towels and such like—or at the table when vigor overrides manners.

"Say It and Stop" would be a wonderful slogan for a lot of us mothers and fathers and nurses and teachers and so forth to adopt. If we only would say it and stop! If we could only see the difficulty, say to the children what we have to say about it, and then stop, we'd be much more effective—and incidentally, much nicer.

But it seems to be a human trait to run on, sometimes—to keep talking and talking and often reiterating the causes of a grievance.

Haven't you, in correcting a fault, found yourself going back to yesterday and the day before and last week, when the same so-and-so happened and you felt so this and so that? And as you keep on talking about it haven't you felt more and more injured because you were tired or "stale," or because you'd let the peccadilloes accumulate instead of calmly managing well?

Haven't you noticed yourself doing this sometimes? And haven't you observed how after your first few forceful comments which are really heeded, a far away look begins to come into the eyes of your besieged youngster?

And if he really loves you and is your friend haven't you noticed how politely he'll wait until you're through with your long harangue on the situation? That polite patience [which you smile over afterwards] should be a warning to you that you're talking too much!

Well, maybe you don't act like that. But many of us do. We do too much talking when we see the need of correction. A few clear remarks made with your small boy's or girl's full attention will do the trick much better than when you tack on "excess verbiage."

"Say It and Stop" isn't something you want to embroider in worsted and hang in full sight. You have to keep it tucked away from the children's eyes.

But I'm sure if lots of them of any age should know about it they'd call it a "swell" slogan.

Paris Aids Hipless with Clever Drapery

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Snakes' hips are out of fashion. This is good news to millions of women who were unable to reduce their curves to meet the demand for hipless figures. But what about the girl who is just naturally a minus where undulating hiplines are concerned? No matter what she does, she stays thin, and the present fashions take no account of the silhouette of the Lord's lean kine.

Paris has thought about these needy ones, and the spring modes here make a point of draped evening dresses, with the drapery concentrated about the hips in the fashion of the '80s, when a perfect 46 hipline was the ideal. These frocks are real siren styles, for they have the long and sinuous lines that are inalienably associated with siren allure, and it is the dress that supplies them, so they are an ideal refuge for the thin, and even the thinnish, woman.

The drapery of which I write is perfectly illustrated in the Champcommunal evening frock shown in the accompanying sketch. It begins at the normal waistline in front, the green and gold lamé of which this model is made being caught up in three horizontal tucks there. These tucks are released and fall in graceful curves to the hipline at the center back, where they are again caught up under the panel at the center back.

This kind of drapery gives to the hipline the ideal curve that is necessary to chic this spring, and the folds in front prevent any fatal revelation of thinness. The bodice back is fitted princess fashion, but the panel that begins just below the décolleté alleviates this and makes it charming.

These New Salts Are Wonderful

That's Just What She Said—Just What He Said

AND A MILLION FAT FOLKS CAN'T BE WRONG

When you take vitalizing Kruschen Salts for a few days that old indolent armchair feeling deserts you—it doesn't matter how fat you are—the urge for activity has got you—and you're stepping lively.

And best of all you like this activity—you walk a couple of miles and enjoy it—you thought you'd never dance again, but you find you're getting as spry as ever—the old tingling active feeling reaches even your feet.

Kruschen is a combination of the six salts Nature has already put into your body to keep you alive—if it were not for these vital salts you could not live.

Why not try one 85 cent bottle of these rejuvenating salts?—a bottle lasts 4 weeks, and one bottle is enough to prove to you that Kruschen will make you feel younger—spryer—more energetic—you'll enjoy life—every minute of it.

As one stout woman wrote: "Kruschen Salts are worth their weight in gold to me."

A half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning is all you need to keep healthy — keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in splendid condition—free your system from harmful toxins and acids.

All druggists sell lots of Kruschen Salts.

E. Griffiths Hughes, Inc., Rochester, N. Y.

Has Things All His Own Way Now

You will find nothing of a dejected, hopeless look in Maurice Simon's face now; nor any trace of bad breath or rashy skin, since he learned how to keep down the excessive acids which come when his stomach can't digest the starchy and sweet food he eats. "I am taking Acidine," says Mr. Simon, whose address is 1032 North Dearborn St., Chicago, with a show of satisfaction his conquest gives him, "and don't even have the bad taste in my mouth, to say nothing of the indigestion."

Try Acidine yourself if you have a stomach which lets your food turn to acid and fill you with gas. Acidine will liquify the sour mass so it can pass out. It sweetens the stomach and you'll enjoy every bite of food you eat. Get Acidine at any drug store.

All EYES are on your HAIR

YOUR appearance depends largely on the care you give your hair . . for your hair makes that important "first impression" on those you meet.

Keep it lustrous, sparkling with life and your scalp supple and youthful by regular use of

GLOVER'S Mange Medicine 75c

Checks dandruff, itching scalp. The fragrant pine tar and mineral oils give elasticity to the scalp and accelerate circulation to the hair follicles.

GLOVER'S Medicated Soap 30c

Used as a shampoo, blends perfectly with GLOVER'S Mange Medicine. It acts as an additional cleansing agent, and deodorizes the hair and scalp.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

There are a lot of things we have done and are doing in the interest of the home owner, but the most important one has been the reduction of rates on second mortgage loans. Five years ago we introduced unheard of low rates on second mortgages; we have reduced these rates three times. For five years the rates which we have charged on second mortgage loans have been the lowest rates in Chicago—and they still are.

But there are a lot of things we don't do. We don't loan on speculative or commercial properties, we restrict ourselves to single dwelling houses and up to 3-apartment buildings. We don't over appraise property. We don't make excessive loans. We don't allow the customer to be slow in making his payments. We don't pay brokerage. We don't have to pay exorbitant prices for our supply of funds.

These "don'ts" are among the major reasons why we are only charging 3½% for a 1 year loan, 6½% for a 2 year loan, and 9% for a 3 year loan, in addition to the 7% accruing interest.

We have not been in the second mortgage business "high, wide, and handsome." We only loan to the best kind of people—and in the best kind of people we have a deep and thoughtful interest. To all of them we extend a most hearty and cordial invitation to come to us for their second mortgage financing.

Lowest Rate in Chicago On Household Loans $100 to $300

By reason of the large volume and by limiting our service to the larger loans, from $100 to $300, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate to almost one-third less than the charges permitted by law.

Here Is the Cost On 20 Month Payment Plan:

$200 Average monthly cost....2.63
$300 Average monthly cost....$3.94
Other amounts at same rate.

WE DO NOT NOTIFY your employer, neither do we make inquiries of your friends, relatives, or tradespeople.

NO ENDORSERS. If you are unable to call at our office, phone or write and we will send a representative to your home.

IS THE STUDEBAKER SALES COMPANY

You can get more value for your money here, you have a greater selection to choose from, and you have the advantage of the Studebaker Used Car Pledge that guarantees 5 days' free driving trial.

[illegible] COUPE. This 1929 series "400" [illegible] was driven so little that today it is [illegible] word for sparkling performance and [illegible] appearance. Because of business [illegible] the former owner told us he wanted [illegible] car, and that's the only reason he [illegible] this Coupe. If you examine it [illegible] you'll be forced to admit it's top [illegible] in every respect. Has rumble seat and [illegible] full equipment. Only $795.

PACKARD CLUB SEDAN. If you are in [the] market for a new car, we certainly advise you to see this car first, because it [will] give you new car satisfaction at only a [fraction] of new car cost. It's a str. 8 and [any] mechanic will tell you the motor is exceedingly good. A close examination will [convince] you the appearance is smart and [attractive]—in fact, it looks just like a new [one]. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, trunk, [spare] tire, shock absorbers, bumpers, etc. [Originally] priced at a very high figure, but [we've] reduced it substantially for immediate [sale]. $850.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. 1928 Commander [is] one of the best used car buys in Chicago. The motor has been reconditioned by [expert] Studebaker mechanics and it carries a [30] day free service guarantee. The upholstery has not a worn spot and the finish is [new] and shiny. Equipped with 4 whl. [brakes], snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. [Only] $695.

[illegible] 8 SEDAN. It was given to us to [sell] by a family leaving for Europe. They [instructed] us to dispose of it at a reasonable [price] and apply this amount on the purchase [of a] new Studebaker President, which they [will] take on their return. In order to sell this [car] at once, we priced it at the very low [figure] of $575 and at this price it is a remarkable value. Finish is handsome, and [the] motor is certainly in A1 condition.

PIERCE-ARROW SEDAN. This 7 pass. is [one] of the most beautiful buys in Chicago. [It was] traded in by a wealthy banker, who [gave] it exceptional care. Has hundreds of [dollars] worth of extra equipment, including [4] whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire. [It] has snappy performance and the appearance is unusually attractive. Special [at] $645.

STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT. 1929 model [7] pass. Sedan that was just traded in by a Lake Forest millionaire. He owned this in connection with a Packard and Pierce-Arrow, so this beautiful car received very little mileage. A trained chauffeur inspected and checked it over carefully every day and [now] it absolutely looks and runs like a brand new car. The finish glistens like a new dollar. The tires are practically brand new and the motor is in such splendid condition that it carries a new car guarantee. Equipment includes 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, [disc] wheels, fender wells, driving light, [bumpers], spare tire, and other valuable extras. Offered at $1,150.

GRAHAM-PAIGE SEDAN. 1929 with 4 [whl.] brakes, shock absorbers, fender wells, [cowl] light, bumpers, 2 spare tires, etc. The owner of this car drove it exactly 11 [days] and then he decided what he wanted [was] a Victoria. So he sacrificed this car at [a] low figure. His loss is your gain, so you [now] have an opportunity to get a practically brand new Graham-Paige at only $795.

DODGE SEDAN. A stock broker who recently cleaned up on the market decided he wanted two new Studebakers, so he traded [in] this 1929 Senior Six, even though he had given it so little use that it looks and runs like new today. The tires appear unused, the upholstery is luxurious and there is not a mar on the beautiful lacquered finish. The equipment includes 4 whl. brakes, 2 spare tires, wire wheels, fender wells, shock absorbers, bumpers, etc. It's a pickup at our special price.

WILLS STE. CLAIRE ROADSTER. This car looks and runs better than many cars selling for $600. It's a beauty. The finish, upholstery and tires appear in dandy condition. Has a sweet running motor. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, spare tire, etc. [and rumble] seat. For today, only $285.

LIBERAL TERMS. OPEN. EVES., SUN.

PACKARDS

It has never been our good fortune to have cars as new as these in our used car stock. They are two 1929 str. 8 Packards. One of them is a seven pass. sedan and the other is a Sedan-Limousine, and they are both on the long wheelbase. As a matter of fact, these cars were both owned by a wealthy manufacturer who has just left for South America for a two year stay. He traded these cars in on open models, although they have unusually low mileage and are like new in every respect. These Packards represent an expenditure of over $10,000, but we were fortunate in obtaining them at a very favorable price, so we marked them at $2,350 each for quick sale. They are both very fully equipped. Liberal terms.
